O.P.A. BILL SIGNED LATE THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—President Truman was expected to send to the senate today or tomorrow his appointments to the independent board which will exercise overall authority over the nation's prices during the coming year.

As the nation returned to the economy of federal controls over rents and prices, congressional leaders privately expressed the view that success or failure of the new OPA act would rest in large part upon the membership of the new board.

President Signs Bill

Mr. Truman signed the new price control act with "enthusiasm" and "confidence" that it will bring about a return to the normal economic life of the nation.

In his message to congress, the president said the bill which restores a restored OPA until June 30, 1947, is a "first step" of being an act under which the government could guarantee "stable prices."

OPA went into action after the president signed the bill and announced restoration of rent controls.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Letter are beginning to reach the Old-Timers' Day committee from out-of-town old timers who intend to be present for the reunion at Cascade park on August 21.

One accommodation bus driver on the Crofton run this morning, much to the delight of his passengers who were shivering in the coolness of the early morning, turned on the heat and the resulting heat (all real good) quite a change from the hot weather the city has been experiencing for the past number of weeks.

Names are always a source of confusion. Here is one that should be a city bus driver the other day. It is reported in Pa. News that while on the Crofton avenue run, near Crawford avenue, a lady passenger asked to be let off at "Stone street." Now the driver couldn't remember of a Stone street on his run, but the lady insisted there was one and it was near Crawford avenue. In a brilliant flash the driver asked if she meant "Rock" avenue and Stone street. So she got off there abouts with a red face.

Pedestrians were detouring via the street in the 100 block of East Washington street, Thursday afternoon. Workmen were erecting a large barricade in front of a store. The obstruction extended out to the curb, necessitating the rerouting of foot traffic.

One of the strangest looking plants that Pa. News has witnessed in a long time was brought into The News by two young fellows, David and Edward Allhouse of 1225 Berger street, on Thursday. The boys reported that their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Allhouse, had planted

Demands Full Punishment For All Of Nazi Defendants

NUERNBERG, July 26.—(INS)—Justice Robert H. Jackson, United States representative at the Nuernberg war crimes trial, demanded today full punishment for Nazi defendants on charges that they were as guilty as Hitler.

Jackson declared in the closing address to the United States before the international military tribunal that the twenty-two major war criminals were guilty under the "conspiracy" count, which was the duty of this nation to argue.

The U. S. chief of counsel for prosecution of Axis criminality asserted:

"If you were to say of these men that they are not guilty, it would be as true to say there has been no war, there are no slain, there has been no crime."

Jackson said that the mad and melancholy "revelation" of the trial, which started Nov. 20, 1945, will live as "the historical text of the twentieth century's shame and depravity." He declared:

"We cannot eliminate the causes and prevent the repetition of these heinous crimes, it is not an irresponsible prophecy to say that this twentieth century may see another in burning the dawn of civilization."

Hamper At Trial

Jackson hampered at the plea of defendants that they were following orders as "bureaucrats" of Hitler. He told the tribunal:

"What those men have evoked is that Adolf Hitler's acts are their acts. They put a loaded gun in his eager hands. His evil words are amplified. But his guilt is the guilt of the whole dock and of every man in it."

Jackson maintained that support of the conspiracy charge may be found in the following groups of overt acts:

Seizure of power and subjugation of Germany to a police state; preparation and waging of wars of aggression; violation in disregard of international law, environment and

CHICAGO, July 26.—(INS)—The formal report of the Cook County grand jury on its investigation of the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan and the murder of former Mayor Frances Brown was awaited today in Chicago criminal court.

The grand jury was reported to have voted that bills yesterday charging William Hennes, 17-year-old University of Chicago student, with both slayings.

If true bills are returned for both murders, it will bring to 31 the number of crimes with which the youth is charged. He already is under indictment on 29 charges of burglary and assault with intent to kill.

Scientific testimony was given before the grand jury that both a ransom note for $25,000 in the Degnan case and a message printed in lipstick on the wall of Miss Brown's apartment were in Hennes handwriting.

Miss Brown, 33, was shot and stabbed to death last December 10. The slayer left behind the message: "For heaven's sake, catch me before I kill more; I cannot control myself."

YOUNGSTOWN SLAYER SENTENCED TO LIFE

YOUNGSTOWN, July 26.—(INS)—Oliver, 32, of 437 West Myrtle avenue, convicted killer of William Condon, 664 Wilson avenue, was ordered today to Columbus Thursday to begin serving a life sentence in Ohio state penitentiary after Judge John W. Ford denied a motion for a new trial.

Oliver was acquitted more than a year ago on charges of burglary at the home of Lawrence Curry, 841-1/2 Main street, after a $12,000 ransom was paid.

BOY INJURED BY AUTO

HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—Four-year-old Daniel W. Hoch, of Harrisburg, was reported in a satisfactory condition at the Polio Clinic hospital today with a fractured pelvis suffered when he was struck by an automobile near his home.

House Members Approve Salary Boost Measure

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Senate-house conferees were expected today to act quickly on a long-delayed measure to streamline congress with their salary boost one of the main issues to be solved.

The senate approved measure carried a flat increase to $15,000 a year for all members, but the house changed this to provide for pay of $12,500 plus a tax-exempt annual expense account of $2,500.

The house change, offered by Rep. Brown (R) Ohio, carried on the argument that the $15,000 figure was "misrepresentation" inasmuch as the business expenses of congressmen would have to be deducted from that figure.

Vote is 229 to 61.

Except for this change, house opponents of the measure whooped it through without any major amendments. The final vote was 229 to 61, but the individual members' votes were not recorded.

It represents the first time congressmen have been paid.

Old Wire Works Building On Sampson Street Occupied By New Plant

Another industry is being added to the many in New Castle, with installing of a metal stamping plant in the building that formerly housed the old wire works on Sampson street.

Known as the Robert's Manufacturing Company, it will be operated by Robert Lesnick of New York City, and Robert G. Love of North Jefferson street, this city.

Utilizing the building's 6000 square feet of floor space, the Rogers company expects to employ 14 to 20 persons by the end of the year. It is expected that they will be in operation by August 1 on a limited scale.

The plant will turn out articles stamped from sheet metal. The first item will be a metal toy.

FLIER SURVIVES 26 DAY ORDEAL IN WILDERNESS

OTTAWA, July 26.—(INS)—RCAP physicians began today to nurse back to health Flight Lt. W. M. H. McKenzie, who survived 26 days in the wilderness after the crash of his jet-propeller plane.

Mckenzie, 47, pounds lighter than when his plane went down in northern Ontario, staggered back to civilization yesterday. He went hungry for the first 23 days because the wild raspberries and blueberries he found were too green to eat.

ABOARD USS APPA LACHIAN, July 26.—Bikini lagoon was still so radiologically "hot" today 28 hours after the submerged atomic bomb explosion that Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy and a party of newsmen were forced back after a half-hour reconnaissance trip on a gunboat.

The gunboat, equipped with radiological safety devices, turned back from the danger area before any additional information on sinkings or damage of the 47-ship target fleet could be ascertained.

The preliminary count showed 23 ships still afloat or damaged by the sub-surface explosion which was the first of its kind in history. Eleven ships sunk.

Eleven ships including two major vessels, the Saratoga and Arkansas, were sunk or completely obliterated by the atomic blast.

A third major vessel, the Japanese battleship Nagato, was described as in "bad condition" by Admiral Blandy. The list of the Japanese battleship with its 6000-ton superstructure had increased from two to eight degrees overnight. Even the sinking of two capital ships was a feat never before accomplished by a single bomb.

Newsmen who accompanied Blandy on his reconnaissance trip passed within 50 yards of most of the target vessels but said they saw nothing "strikingly unusual."

Abram Khokhlov, a Russian lieutenant and former naval officer, said they could not see any damage to hulls or superstructures of the target fleet.

Admiral Blandy emphasized that evaluation of damage was still in the initial stage and said it may be five days before the complete toll is known.

O.P.A. BILL SIGNED LATE THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—President Truman was expected to send to the senate today or tomorrow his appointments to the independent board which will exercise overall authority over the nation's prices during the coming year.

As the nation returned to an economy of federal controls over rents and prices, congressional leaders privately expressed the view that success or failure of the new OPA act would rest in large part upon the membership of the new board.

President Signs Bill

Mr. Truman signed the new price control act with "reluctance" and told congress that if the measure fails to prevent runaway inflation he will call the legislators into special session to strengthen controls and possibly increase taxes.

In his message to congress, the president criticized the bill which restores a restricted OPA until June 30, 1947 as falling "far short" of being an act under which the government could guarantee "stable prices."

O.P.A. went into action after the president signed the bill and announced restoration of rent controls.

PA NEW C OBSERVES

Letter are beginning to reach the Out-Timers Day committee from out-of-town old timers who intend to be present for the reunion at Cascade park on August 21.

One accommodating bus driver on the Croton run this morning, much to the delight of his passengers who were shivering in the coolness of the early morning, turned on the heat and the resulting heat felt real good. Quite a change from the hot weather the city has been experiencing for the past number of weeks.

Names are always a source of confusion. Here is one that stumped a city bus driver the other day. It is reported to Pa News that while on the Croton avenue run, near Crawford avenue, a lady passenger asked to be let off at "Stone street."

The driver couldn't remember of a Stone street on his run, but the lady insisted there was one and it was near Crawford avenue. In a brilliant flash the driver asked if she meant "Rock avenue?" That was it. Rock avenue not Stone street. So she got off there abouts with a red face.

Pedestrians were detouring via the street in the 100 block of East Washington street, Thursday afternoon. Workmen were erecting a large barricade in front of a store. The obstruction extended out to the curb, necessitating the rerouting of foot traffic.

One of the strangest looking plants that Pa News has witnessed in a long time was brought into the News by two young fellows, David and Edward Allhouse, of 1225 Berwick street, on Thursday. The boys reported that their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Allhouse, had planted

Demands Full Punishment For All Of Nazi Defendants

NUERNBERG, July 26.—(INS)—Justice Robert H. Jackson, United States representative at the Nuernberg war crimes trial, demanded today full punishment for Nazi defendants on charges that they were as guilty as Hitler.

Jackson declared in the closing address for the United States before the international military tribunal that the twenty-two major war criminals were guilty under the "conspiracy" count, which was the duty of this nation to argue.

The U. S. chief of counsel for prosecution of Axis criminality asserted: "If you were to say of these men that they are not guilty, it would be as true to say there has been no war, there are no slain, there has been no crime."

Jackson said that the mad and melancholy record of the trial, which started Nov. 20, 1945, will live as "the historical text of the twentieth century's shame and depravity." He declared:

"If we cannot eliminate the causes and prevent the repetition of these barbaric events, it is not an irresponsible prophecy to say that this twentieth century may yet succeed in bringing the doom of civilization."

Happens At Trial
Jackson hammered at the plea of defendants that they were following orders as "slaves" of Hitler. He told the tribunal:

"What these men have overlooked is that Adolf Hitler's acts are their acts. They put a loaded gun in his eager hands. His guilt stands admitted. But his guilt is the guilt of the whole crowd and of every man in it."

Jackson maintained that support of the conspiracy charge may be found in the following groups of overt acts:

Seizure of power and subjugation of Germany to a police state; preparation and waging of wars of aggression; violation in disregard of international law, enslavement and

CHICAGO, July 26.—(INS)—The final report of the Cook County grand jury on its investigation of the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan and the murder of former Wave Frances Brown was awaited today in Chicago criminal court.

The grand jury was reported to have voted true bills yesterday charging William Heirens, 17-year-old University of Chicago student, with both slayings.

If true bills are returned for both murders, it will bring to 31 the number of crimes with which the youth is charged. He already is under indictment on 29 charges of burglary and assault with intent to kill.

Scientific testimony was given before the grand jury that both a ransom note for $20,000 in the Degnan case and a message printed in lipstick on the wall of Miss Brown's apartment were in Heirens' handwriting.

Six-year-old Suzanne was kidnapped from her home January 7, strangled and her body dismembered.

Miss Brown, 33, was shot and stabbed to death last December 10. The slayer left behind the message, "For heaven's sake, catch me before I kill more; I cannot control myself."

YOUNGSTOWN SLAYER
SENTENCED TO LIFE
YOUNGSTOWN, July 26.—(INS)—Oglethorpe, 32, of 437 West Myrtle avenue, convicted killer of William Coulton, 664 Wilson avenue, was ordered taken to Columbus Thursday to begin serving a life sentence at Ohio state penitentiary after Judge John W. Ford denied a motion for a new trial.

Oglethorpe was acquitted more than a year ago on charge of burglarizing the home of Lawrence Curry, Belmont avenue, "bug" operator of $12,600 from a trunk.

BOY INJURED BY AUTO
HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—Four-year-old Daniel W. Hoch, of Harrisburg, was reported in a satisfactory condition at the Polyclinic hospital today with a fractured pelvis suffered when he was struck by an automobile near his home.

CUPID LOSES BOUT WITH ARMY

House Members Approve Salary Boost Measure

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Senate-house conferees were expected today to act quickly on reconciling legislation to streamline congress with their salary boost one of the main issues to be solved.

The senate approved measure carried a flat increase to $15,000 a year for all members, but the house changed this to provide for pay of $12,500 plus a tax-exempt annual expense account of $2,500.

The house change, offered by Rep. Brown (R) Ohio, carried on the argument that the $15,000 figure was "misrepresentation" inasmuch as the business expenses of congressmen would have to be deducted from that figure.

New Industry Starting Here

Old Wire Works Building On Sampson Street Occupied By New Plant

Another industry is being added to the many in New Castle, with installing of a metal stamping plant in the building that formerly housed the old wire works on Sampson street.

Known as the Roberts' Manufacturing Company, it will be operated by Robert Lesnick of New York City, and Robert G. Love of North Jefferson street, this city.

Utilizing the building's 6000 square feet of floor space, the Roberts company expects to employ 18 to 20 persons by the end of the year. It is expected that they will be in operation by August 1 on a limited scale.

The plant will turn out articles stamped from sheet metal. The first item will be a metal toy.

FLIER SURVIVES
IN WILDERNESS

OTTAWA, July 26.—(INS)—RCAP physicians began today to nurse back to health Flight Lt. W. M. H. McKenzie, who survived 26 days in the wilderness after the crash of his jet-propelled plane.

Mckenzie, 47 pounds lighter than when his plane went down in northern Ontario, staggered back to civilization yesterday. He went hungry for the first 23 days because the wild raspberries and blueberries he found were too green to eat.

IDENTIFY FOUR MORE IN CRASH OF ARMY PLANE

BALBOA, C. Z., July 26.—(INS)—AAF headquarters announced Thursday the identities of four more of the victims of a crash of a B-17 bomber last Sunday.

They were Staff Sgt. Ned Lawrence, Cedarvale, Colo.; Staff Sgt. John B. Stuenkel, Glendale, Calif.; Sgt. Mack Vest, Jr., Cullman, Ala.; and Corp. Bernard J. Kennedy, Flint, Mich.

Among the missing were: Maj. Willie E. Ingram, Huntington, W. Va.; Sgt. Maynard W. Hilbrand, Riverdale, Md.; and Corp. J. W. Montz, 683 Elizabeth St., Bridgeville, Pa.

Search Funeral Crowd For Dual Crime Suspect

NEW YORK, July 26.—(INS)—Plain clothesmen prepared today to mingle with the crowd at the funeral of Mrs. William Logan in a search for the society woman's murderer and rapist of her daughter.

Services for the 52-year-old woman who was shot to death Wednesday by a "stare-eyed" negro will be held at St. Bartholomew's Protestant Episcopal church on Park avenue.

The daughter, Miss Marjorie Jeanne Logan, who was shot twice by the negro after he fatally wounded the older woman, was reported in "fair" condition at Nassau hospital.

Meanwhile, a Philadelphia man suspected of perpetrating the murder and assault in the Logan case, was being held by Greenwich, Conn., police. Nassau county detectives planned to question him today, but Police Chief John M. Gleason was skeptical that he was the wanted man.

Police In Boat Rescue Wave Who Attempted Suicide

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Four policemen in a rowboat successfully pleaded with an attractive 39-year-old Wave officer to halt her suicide attempt today after she had plunged 90 feet into the Potomac river from Washington's key bridge.

The rescued woman was identified by police as Lt. Comdr. Bernice Boner, a brunette divorcee of Indianapolis, Ind. Police quoted her as saying she changed her mind about suicide "almost as soon as I leaped from the bridge rail."

Miss Boner told police she had become despondent because she feared her work was not pleasing her superior officers.

Police found the woman swimming in circles, and after 30 minutes' pleading, persuaded her to climb into the boat.

Damage Survey At Bikini Lagoon Is Still Delayed

WILL TAKE TIME TO FIND RESULTS

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD USS APPALACHIAN, July 26.—Bikini lagoon was still so radio-logically "hot" today 28 hours after the submerged atomic bomb explosion that Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy and a party of newsmen were forced back after a half-hour reconnaissance trip on a gunboat.

The gunboat, equipped with radiological safety devices, turned back from the danger area before any additional information on sinkings or damage of the 87-ship target fleet could be ascertained.

The preliminary count showed 23 ships sunk, missing or damaged by the sub-surface explosion which was the first of its kind in history.

Eleven ships including two major vessels, the Saratoga and Arkansas, were sunk or completely obliterated by the terrific blast.

A third major vessel, the Japanese battleship Nagato, was described as in "bad condition" by Admiral Blandy. The list of the Japanese battleship with its pagoda-like superstructure had increased from two to eight degrees overnight. Even the sinking of two capital ships was a feat never before accomplished by a single bomb.

Newsmen who accompanied Blandy on his reconnaissance trip passed within 50 yards of most of the target vessels but said they saw nothing "strikingly unusual."

Abram Khokhlov, a Russian newsman and former naval officer, said they could not see any damage to hulls or superstructures of the target fleet.

Admiral Blandy emphasized that evaluation of damage was still in the initial stage and said it may be five days before the complete toll is known.

Blames Public For Increases In Drownings

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—Alarmed at the increasing number of drownings and auto deaths, Coroner William D. McClelland, of Allegheny County, today maintained that the public's carelessness "is an invitation to death."

Thirteen persons have drowned—most of them "under 15 years of age" according to McClelland—and 21 have died in auto accidents in the county in the past six weeks.

The public's "careless abandon" has created a "terrific accident menace," the coroner declared. "There is too much hurry, too much don't give a hang," he added.

Citing that most of the drownings were youngsters, McClelland warned:

1. Stay out of water for an hour after eating.
2. Stay out of deep water if you can't swim.
3. Don't fool around with kids who can swim if you can't, because you're sure to be ducked and may drown.

He advises parents to "pair-off" their children so they can watch each other while swimming; keep the kids out of canoes and boats if they can't swim, and teach them not to take chances.

SEE U. S. POSITION STRENGTHENED BY TWO BIKINI TESTS ministers conference he was aware that the atom bomb was the most important element in diplomacy.

While he wanted to break the tendency of the secret from Russia would only drive that country farther toward isolationism.

Step Proposed

To prevent this he proposed an international commission for the control of the atomic bomb and of atomic energy. As a step in that direction the U. S. presented the present Baruch plan before the United Nations. That plan is at present rejected by Moscow, which wants the subject controlled by the security council, where the veto will prevail.

However, between December and the present U. N. deliberations the first atomic test bomb was exploded. Its results were at first reported as insignificant.

Observers regarded this was unfortunate from the U. S. point of view. Some argue that the importance of the test was built up too much in advance, only to have the effect ruined by premature reports minimizing the effect of the blast.

"Greater caution in reporting the second explosion plus more immediately visible results are now regarded as having corrected much of the damage."

CONGRESS OBSERVERS SEE NEED OF THIRD BOMB TEST AT BIKINI

Anderson and Gillespie differed. Anderson declared that secrets should not be divulged unless "all nations outlaw atomic power for war."

Gillespie said that there was no useful purpose in sharing secrets at present if they were to be employed in war.

A fourth congressional observer of the house naval affairs committee, Albert J. Engel (R) Mich., declined to comment on next year's deep water test or the question of sharing atomic secrets.

A third question submitted to the congressmen involved possible revision of military structure and strategy as a result of the atom bomb.

Revision Needed

Izard, Anderson and Gillespie agreed with variations that revision was necessary.

Izard held that the army and navy should not be denied needed expansion appropriations, that the navy was still necessary and could be maintained.

"The peace of the Pacific is now under our control. Let's keep it," Anderson believed that the atom tests proved the fine cooperation between the joint chiefs of staff and felt that congress should encourage and strengthen this without going to the lengths of the proposed merger and the armed forces.

Gillespie favored a department of national defense combining all with ample appropriations and with the least congressional interference possible.

All three were in heartiest agreement that the deep water "test Charlie" should be held outside the lagoon next spring.

Izard declared: "The next one in my opinion is the most important of all."

Anderson said: "The cost of the Bikini tests is fully justified and the third should be conducted without fail."

Gillespie's comment was: "There are only two choices—either find some effective way to prevent war or face the possibility of civilization destroying itself. The Bikini tests are warranted and I think the third test should be run next year."

gress has attempted to overhaul its legislative procedure since 1921, while the raise in pay from the present $10,000 level is the first pay increase for members since 1925.

The far reaching measure would reduce the number of senate committees from 33 to 15, while house committees would be cut from 49 to 19.

The senate provided each member with an $8,000 assistant, but house members rejected a similar proposal which would have given them each an additional $6,000-a-year aide.

ROAST CATCHES FIRE

Central station firemen were called to 28½ S. Jefferson street at 10:50 p. m. Friday when a roast caught fire in the apartment building. The roaster tank was used to extinguish the blaze, the only loss being the roast.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Charlotte Luella Confer

Mrs. Charlotte Luella Confer, aged 67 years, widow of Christian Henry Confer of 702 Etna street, died at her home this morning at 3:30 o'clock, following a two years' illness. She suffered a stroke in November 1944.

Mrs. Confer was born in Lickingville, Clark county, Pa., August 20, 1878, daughter of Christ and Caroline Paup Selgworth. She had formerly been a resident of Venus, Venango county, Pa., and moved to New Castle in 1910, where she had lived since.

Mrs. Confer was married in October 1896 in New York state. She was a member of the First Methodist church and had formerly been a member of the Rebekah lodge.

Surviving are her children, Harland Eugene Confer of this city, Clyde Lorena Confer of R. D., Perryville, Pa., and Mrs. Charles Fullerton, this city. She leaves brothers and sisters: Mrs. John Slander, Warren, Pa.; Mrs. Thomas Pumberton, Louisville, Ky.; Frank Selgworth, Leeper, Clark county, Pa.; and Ben Selgworth, Lickingville, Clark county, and four grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her daughter, Hazel Q. Confer, in 1932, and her husband in 1942.

Funeral services will be Sunday at 2:30 p. m. from the residence, 702 Etna street. Interment will be in Graceland cemetery.

The body has been removed to Campbell's downtown funeral home, East North street, and will be taken to the residence on Etna street this afternoon where friends may call.

Mrs. Gibson Funeral

Largely attended funeral services for Mrs. Normey F. Gibson, wife of Frank E. Gibson of 515 West Cherry street were conducted Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Mahoning funeral home with the Rev. R. L. McKibben officiating.

Russell Shaw, Howard Clifton, Raymond Phillips, Clifford Comstock, Jack and John Morgan served as pallbearers.

Interment took place in Castle View Burial Park.

Boyd Funeral

Funeral services for John J. Boyd of DuBois, Pa. were held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. from the John R. Bigler funeral home with Rev. Milton J. Scripture in charge assisted by Rev. Edwin Zook.

Mrs. Thomas Anderson and Mrs. Alfred Anderson sang two selections, with Mrs. Arnold Blew accompanying.

Pallbearers were Harry Mack, Joe Masters, C. Moon, John Lewis, William Gamble and James Cann.

Interment was in Oak Park cemetery.

the attorney, who declined to be sworn as a witness, if he had any information as to when May might be able to testify in explanation of his connections with the Garsson munitions combine.

"Dr. Lowden told me certainly not within a week—and maybe longer," Chairman Mead (D) Ky., said the committee was sorry to learn of May's illness and added:

"We hope his recovery will be rapid and that he will be able to be with us in the near future."

Mead went through the formality at the outset of the hearing to call out:

"Is Rep. Andrew J. May in the audience?"

There was no response, and the chairman then asked:

"Is his attorney here?"

Magee, a short youthful-looking man, stepped forward and identified himself as counsel for the congressman.

Magee took the position that as counsel, and not a witness, he should not be sworn and the committee acquiesced. He stated that last night he received a telephone call from May's daughter, Mrs. Olga Latta, "telling me he was very ill, had suffered a heart attack and was incapacitated."

The population of Louisiana in 1940 was 223 per square mile, compared to 142 for the United States as a whole.

Indict Heirens On Murder Charge

(BULLETIN)

CHICAGO, July 26.—(INS)—William Heirens was indicted for murder today in Chicago.

The Cook County grand jury returned true bills charging the 17-year-old University of Chicago student with the murders of little Suzanne Degnan and Frances Brown, an ex-wave.

Chief Criminal Court Justice Harold Ward set the arraignment for next Tuesday at 10 a. m., and ordered the youth held without bond.

Business Touches New High Level

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—The Bureau of Business Research, University of Pittsburgh, announced today that business in the Pittsburgh district reached a new high level last week.

A heavy volume of trade, plus increased production in heavy industries accounted for the rise, the bureau reported.

The business index stood at 195.8 the 1935-39 average.

DAMAGE SURVEY AT BIKINI LAGOON IS STILL DELAYED

816 the concrete pier to 161, the LSM 60, and five submarines; the Skipjack, Apogon, Searaven, Pilotfish and Dendula.

The LSM 60—the so-called "Cinderella" ship—was the craft from which the atom bomb was suspended and its destruction was a foregone conclusion.

Among the damaged ships, the destroyer Hughes was badly hit and was towed to shallow water this afternoon to prevent her from sinking.

Others damaged in varying degrees included the battleship New York, the carrier Independence, the cruiser Pensacola, the transport Fallon, and six landing craft.

The landing craft had been beached for the test but were broken from their moorings by waves seen to 10 feet high which hit Bikini Beach in the wake of the blast.

Refuses to Agree

Admiral Blandy conservatively refused to agree flatly with aerial observers who reported that the five submarines had been driven to the bottom of the 180-foot deep lagoon by the explosion. The admiral commented:

"The missing subs may be on the bottom but that's indefinite and I wouldn't say for sure."

The waters of the lagoon in which the target fleet was exposed to the bomb looked apparently harmless only a few hours after the explosion.

PRICE BOARD WILL BE NAMED BY PRESIDENT

in effect June 30 in 520 rental areas throughout the nation. Nearly 150 pricing orders were also prepared.

Mr. Truman's message to congress meanwhile received a mixed reception on Capitol Hill.

Sen. Wherry (R) Neb. commented sharply that "in my opinion, the bill will cause chaos, confusion and a revival of black markets and limited production; it will return the country to an economy of scarcity."

However, Sen. Murdock (D) Utah, termed the president's statement "a very excellent message" and said "I think it holds out a lot of encouragement to the country."

Decide On Control Restoration

The "price decontrol board" is expected to convene almost immediately after its membership has been named and confirmed. Swift senate action is expected to clear the way for an early session. The board, whose members will receive $12,000, must decide before Aug. 21 whether meat and dairy products, grains and cottonseed and soybean products shall automatically be restored on that date to price controls or remain indefinitely on the "free market."

The board must also determine whether controls shall be restored after Aug. 20 on poultry, eggs, tobacco and petroleum. Otherwise they will remain without control indefinitely.

Once these two tasks are out of the way, the board will act on appeals from decisions of OPA Administrator Porter and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and will be empowered to eliminate entirely or restore price controls on any commodity.

It will be the board's task to eliminate gradually, in conformity with what the president termed "reasonable standards" set up in the new act practically all controls by June 30, 1947.

The weird looking freak of nature is displayed at The News office.

Apparently Route 422 by-pass on Taylor street is ready to receive a coat of asphalte. A large asphalte laying machine arrived on the job Thursday afternoon. Workers at present are engaged in putting the finishing touches on the curb laying and constructing a sewer wall at the intersection of Allen and Cunningham avenues.

More of the new sky-view taxis were seen flitting through the city on Thursday. Instead of being driven through individually as in previous instances, the cabs were doubled up, with one driver taking two of them through.

Through the courtesy of the Croton Honor Roll committee, Croton residents are enjoying good cool water these days. The civic-minded organization has erected a water fountain on the East Brook street side of the impressive Honor Roll.

Despite the double warning, a sign atop the traffic light at Mill and Washington streets and a sign on a standard in the center of the intersection, warning against turns of any kind, some motorists are making turns at the point. Recent legislation by city council prohibits the turns.

Transients remaining in the city overnight are a few. According to a report given out by attaches of the City Rescue Mission, South Mercer street, The Mission, which has facilities for accommodating a dozen or so men if necessary, reports that during the warm months, not more than two or three a week apply for overnight lodging. During the winter months, almost all the dormitory beds are occupied every night.

DEMANDS FULL PUNISHMENT OF NAZI DEFENDANTS

plunder of populations in occupied countries and persecution and extermination of Jews and Christians.

Blame Shifting

Jackson charged that the defendants have been unanimous in shifting blame to others, mainly Hitler, Himmler, Heydrich, Goebbels and Bormann, all dead or missing.

Jackson took this "glance" over the accused in the dock:

Hermann Goering, "half military and half gangster. He stuck a pudgy finger in every pie."

Rudolph Hess, who "before succumbing to wangerlist, was the engineer tending the party machinery."

Joachim Von Ribbentrop, "salesman of deception."

Wilhelm Keitel, "weak and willing tool directed the armed forces over to the party and directed them in its felonious designs."

Ernest Kaltenbrunner, "the grand inquisitor, took up the blood mantle of Heydrich to stifle opposition and terrorize compliance, and buttressed the power of national socialism on a foundation of countless corpses."

Alfred Rosenberg, "the intellectual high priest of the 'master race,' who provided the doctrine of hatred which gave the impetus for annihilation of Jewry."

Hans Frank, "the fanatical. He solidified Nazi control by establishing the New Order of authority without law."

Wilhelm Frick, "the ruthless organizer, helped the party to seize power."

Julius Streicher, "the venomous vulgarizer, manufactured and distributed obscene racial noels."

of present total production of footwear, boosted eight per cent at retail. A similar increase previously had been made on low-cost shoes.

Prices of coal to domestic consumers raised from six to eight cents a ton as result of the increase in railway freight rates on July 1.

Ceilings on some work gloves increased from one to six cents at retail to cover higher cost of materials and wage adjustments in the industry.

An increase in grain machinery and equipment to reflect increased manufacturing costs and to remove a threatened impediment to production.

An increase of as much as 21 per cent, or about $1.75 in low-cost automobile seat covers to stimulate output.

Higher ceilings for vitrified clay sewer pipes and allied products in southern, west central and Rocky mountain areas.

An increase in some types of home heating radiators, industrial wirebound boxes and clay building brick and tile.

The OPA also authorized manufacturers of several minor consumer items to apply for increased prices on goods in their lowest price lines, including razor blades, mechanical pencils, illuminating glassware and step ladders.

Among items "decontrolled" were rubber floor mats, machine-attached snap fasteners, low-back chairs, used mostly as piano chairs, umbrellas frames, and automobile seat-belt units.

Housewives Will Find Meat Cheaper

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—A survey showed today that housewives in the Pittsburgh district will pay a few cents less for meats this weekend.

Sliced bacon, for example, was selling at prices ranging from 35 to 55 cents, whereas last week it sold for as high as 80 cents a pound.

Round steak dropped four cents to 55 cents a pound and pork loin sold for 49 cents.

Butter remained stable at 79 cents a pound although one chain store was selling it for 69 cents.

from the re-imposition of controls and adjustments required by the new price and rent control law.

OPA officials joined their chief in pledging their best efforts to make the new OPA law "work."

Porter expressed confidence that it "will work."

First action of OPA after the enactment of the new law was the issuance of a statement formally announcing restoration of rent controls in effect June 30 in 520 rental areas throughout the nation.

The agency also revealed that eight additional areas, which were scheduled to receive rent ceilings on July 1, would be brought under rent control on August 1.

Fate Of Terminal Pay Bill Up To Conferees Today

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—The fate of the terminal leave bill rested today in a house-senate conference, at which the house conferees were expected to be told it was "bonds or nothing."

The bill, which would pay enlisted men as well as officers of the armed forces for unused furlough time, has passed both the house and the senate, but in different form.

The house voted to pay for terminal leave in cash, while the senate voted to pay in five-year, non-negotiable, two and one-half per cent bonds.

House estimates of the cost were in the neighborhood of two billion dollars. Sen. Johnson (D) Colo., pressed three billion, and President Truman asked a two billion $70 million appropriation.

Conferees to settle the differences between the two chambers were scheduled to start Thursday, but were postponed because most of the representatives appointed to confer were tied up in another conference—ironing out differences in house and senate atomic energy bills.

House conferees have indicated the lower chamber would stick to its cash demand despite Johnson's warning that the president would veto a cash measure.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR AGED RESIDENT

Mrs. Margaret Buckley of 516 West North street widow of former Sergeant of Police Eugene Buckley, was pleasantly surprised all day Thursday on her eighty-eighth birthday when numerous events occurred to make it a memorable day for her.

Beginning with the morning mail, when she received a large assortment of greeting cards and through the afternoon, when friends and neighbors called on her to wish her many happy returns.

An informal get-together was enjoyed in the evening, when her family and close friends gathered in for an evening of fellowship together. A time of reminiscing took place for several hours.

Mrs. Buckley, in spite of her advanced years, is in good health and able to be about her home.

COUNTRY CLUB

GOLFERS WIN

Ladies of the New Castle Country club attended the invitational golf day at Greenville Thursday, with four of them bringing home prizes.

Miss Mary Louise Cleland was the winner of the second flight and received a golf bag; Miss Clara Hartsuff, winner of the third flight, received a cigarette box; Miss Stewart Politz, runner-up of the fifth flight, and Mrs. Arthur Meek, runner-up of the eighth flight, received golf balls.

On Sunday the local club will have movies for children in the age group of 12-13 at three o'clock. One picture will be a cartoon, "Boy Meets Dog", and the other a feature-length picture, "Zane Grey Adventures".

YEARLY PICNIC OF ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Members of St. Paul's Lutheran church and Bible school will long remember their happy family picnic which took place recently at Cascade park.

When the evening prayer was offered by the Rev. O. J. Wernath, pastor, approximately 150 individuals were seated for an appetizing and delicious evening meal.

Following serving, various games, directed by Fred Allen and E. Druschel, were enjoyed. William Kotschisch was awarded the prize for the needle contest, while Mrs. Robert Morgan won the calling contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wellman with their children, a family of 12, were awarded a prize for the largest family in attendance. The Rev. and Mrs. P. Tau were the oldest members present, while Beverly Higgins was the youngest child. The oldest married couple was the Rev. and Mrs. Tau, while the youngest married couple was Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Corroll.

Mrs. Anna Brest, Mrs. A. T. Chamberlain, Mrs. Ralph Carroll, Mrs. John Bender, Mrs. A. C. Dietterle, Mrs. Martin Shira, Mrs. Hazel Diller and Miss Emma Durlleser composed the table committee.

LADIES ENJOY THURSDAY EVENT

Ladies' Day at Castle Hills golf course Thursday was a successful event, with hostesses for the day being Mrs. Robert Magill and Mrs. Darwin Haight. The special event winners two-ball foursome were: Mrs. J. B. Allen and Miss Eleanor Bolinger. A putting contest was won by Mrs. Lou Lautenslager and Mrs. S. E. Patterson.

Hostesses for the next Ladies' Day event Thursday, August 2, will be Mrs. W. W. May, Mrs. Russell Magill and Mrs. E. E. McCandless. The special event will be low number of putts and a blind bogey.

LOCAL DELEGATES AT FOUR COUNTY COUNCIL

Four County Council of American Legion Auxiliary, comprised by Beaver, Butler, Mercer and Lawrence counties, met at the Oakwood Methodist church, of Sharon, on Thursday for their council meeting, with 200 members and delegates attending.

After the regular reports of the different units were given the election of officers for the ensuing year was taken up at which time Mrs. Walter Simpson, Ellwood City, was elected president for 1946-1947; Mrs. Jessie Sams, Rochester, first vice president; Mrs. Edith Clark, Beaver Falls, second vice-president; Mrs. Walter Cochran, Rochester, secretary; Mrs. Paul Kanegiser, Enon Valley, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Campbell, Beaver, chaplain; Mrs. Helen Miller, Sharon, historian; and Mrs. Walter Alexander, Sharpsville, sergeant-at-arms.

A scholarship award was given to Miss Mary Ann Bell, of the local unit who is a student at Slippery Rock State Teachers College. She is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Bell, a nurse of World War I.

On September 10, the Four County Council will be entertained at Sharpsville.

A splendid luncheon was served by the ladies of the Methodist church at noon.

Those attending from the local unit were Mrs. J. N. Speed, Mrs. Worrell Jones, Mrs. Harold Lebo, Mrs. Marvin Dismore, Mrs. Wade P. Daugherty, Mrs. Albert Wilkins, Mrs. Dorothy Boyle, Mrs. I. W. Miller, Mrs. John F. Speen, Mrs. Walter Forrester, Mrs. Louise Evans and Mrs. William Brooks.

Members of the New Castle unit, No. 343 will be entertained at a lawn party at the home of Mrs. J. Z. Speed, of the Youngstown road, on August 14.

G. N. CLUB PLANS CONNEAUT PICNIC

Annual picnic of the G. N. club was planned Thursday evening at the club meeting held in the home of Mrs. Antonette Francazio, of 513 Friendship street.

The picnic is scheduled for Aug. 11, at Conneaut Lake park. Cards were in session during the evening, high score prizes going to Mrs. Barbara Coli, Josephine Coppie and Mrs. Adeline Volpe.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Volpe and Mrs. Nick Dalforia, special guests, assisting. They received lovely gifts.

Aug. 8 is the meeting with Mrs. Paul Lombardo, of Luton street.

MADALYN DESIMONE WEDS LOUIS COLELLA

Before an altar beautifully arranged with flowers and ferns, Thursday morning in St. Vitus church, Miss Madalyn Desimone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Desimone, of 394 East Lutton street, became the bride of Louis J. Colella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Colella, of 1013 Williams street.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiated at the nuptial ceremony, using the double ring service. A large group of friends and relatives attended, and prior to the wedding a period of nuptial music was heard. Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Robert Patus, the bride was lovely in a gown of white marquisette, styled with long sleeves tapering at the wrists, and a bodice trimmed with lace, and long train. Her fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap, sprinkled with seed pearls. She carried a white prayerbook, marked with orchids, and streamers of stephanotis, a gift from the bridegroom, and she wore a strand of pearls, a gift from her co-worker, Ida Smith.

Miss Marie Marsico, of Niles, O., as her cousin's maid of honor, wore a gown of aqua taffeta, with a net overskirt, matching headress. She carried yellow tearases.

Joseph Calhoun, of Struthers, O., served as best man.

Supervising the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's residence. Mrs. Desimone was aided by her daughters in serving: Mary, Betty and Kathleen Desimone. Mrs. Clara Mooney and Mrs. Robert Patus.

Dinner was served at noon for 50 guests in a suburban restaurant, and in the evening a wedding reception was held in the Norton street hall. Approximately 150 guests attended, and a huge wedding cake centered the table.

The young couple departed on a trip to Florida, and after Aug. 12, will be "at home" to their friends at 1013 Williams street.

Mrs. Colella, a graduate of the New Castle high school, has been employed in the county commissioners' office. Mr. Colella is a veteran of 27 months service, and two years overseas in the Pacific. He is employed at the B & O railroad.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Andy Rice and children, Mrs. Charles of Piquette, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Micks, New York, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Corsi and children, of Hyde Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Marston and children, of Niles, O.

T. E. D. Club Meets

Members of the T. E. D. club met at the home of Mrs. Edwin Howland, 38 East street, Thursday evening for their regular meeting.

Cards were in play, and Mrs. Mary Shaffer received the first prize, Mrs. Charles Key the second prize, with the third going to Mrs. Herman Reinhardt.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Hartman, R. D. 4, and will be in the form of a picnic, luncheon served on the lawn.

Section A. Y. L. B. Class Members of Section A of the Y. L. B. class of the Third U. P. church were delightedly entertained Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Mary Caldwell of Maryland avenue. Devotions were in charge of the hostess. During the business session, conducted by Mrs. J. E. Gorman, leader, plans were made for activities of the winter months. Sewing was the main diversion of the evening. A shower of quilt patches was presented Mrs. Gorman in behalf of the group. Lunch was served later by Mrs. Caldwell, aided by her daughter, Eleanor. Mrs. Abe Kildoo of Maryland avenue will receive the group at her home Thursday afternoon, August 8, at 1 o'clock.

Section Two Members of Section Two of the First Christian church were entertained Wednesday afternoon at a tureen luncheon at the home of Mrs. Frank Nessel of 30 Round street. A tasty meal was served at tables, set on the lawn. Mrs. Nessel was aided in serving by her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Montgomery, and Mrs. Elsie Nessel. Special guests included Mrs. Mary Woods and Mrs. George Anderson, both of this city, and Mrs. Catherine Ryan, of Youngstown, O.

Section F. of Y. L. B. Class Section F of the Y. L. B. class of the Third U. P. church met at Cascade park on Thursday for a brunch. Sewing was the pastime after a short business meeting. Plans were made to hold a tureen dinner at the park on Aug. 9 at 6 o'clock. Husband and families will be the guests. (Additional Society on Page Six)

Aliens Entering Illegally

As was the case after the close of the First World War we are now witnessing a revival of interest in the question of immigration. As always, there are two schools of thought on the subject. One maintains that it is our duty to humanity to let down the bars and take in as many European refugees as possible at this time. The other thinks that our immigration laws should be strictly enforced and great care should be taken in carefully sifting the immigrants who are admitted to our shores. They say there are too many Communists and Fascists here now, coming from Europe, and that furthermore when production catches up with demand we may have another unemployment problem on our hands.

However, the question would seem to be somewhat academic, according to a report issued recently by Attorney General Clark, who declared that since the close of the war thousands of aliens have poured into this country illegally and are now coming at the rate of about 2,000 a day. Sixty thousand immigrants, he estimated, have gotten into the country in an illegal way during the past month. Of this number 30,000 have been arrested by the immigration authorities, but 30,000 of them are still at large.

Those entering or attempting to enter illegally during the past month, according to the attorney general's statement, included criminals, stowaways, smuggled aliens and riff-raff of many nations.

In the Southeastern States the largest group of illegal entrants comes from the ships of all nations, whose sailors steadily desert in an effort to enter what they regard as the "promised land." Then in the Southwest immigrants of many nationalities slip in from Mexico. It is comparatively easy to elude the watchful border patrol because of the thousands of miles of border which must be patrolled.

This statement by the attorney general on the illegal entry of aliens is indeed timely. The entire world is in a state of unrest. We can depend on our border patrol to do the best it can but the opportunities for evading the law are many. The United States should not become the stamping grounds for the criminals and subversives of every nation. Our immigration laws should be tightened rather than loosened.

New Surplus Boss

Maj. Gen. Robert McG. Littlejohn is a brave man. With his eyes open and fully aware of the pitfalls that he faces he has just agreed to take on the job of bossing the sale of 30 billion dollars in government war surpluses. It will be at best a job unaccompanied by thanks.

A long line of able men already has tackled this task hopefully only to retire disillusioned after a few months on the job. General Littlejohn's immediate predecessor, Lieut. Gen. Edmund B. Gregory, was another able soldier but he lasted only a little more than four months. How long General Littlejohn will be able to withstand the cross-currents to which he will be subjected remains to be seen.

The whole business of surplus property disposal is one with infinitely more headaches than rewards. Hordes of critics are waiting to jump on every move that the administrator makes. It is doubtful whether any man, with the best will in the world, can handle this tremendous merchandising job without running into a torrent of complaints.

It is in General Littlejohn's favor that he is already experienced in handling an enormous variety of items on a gigantic scale and in meeting the demands of a great number of men who were extremely hard to satisfy. After serving as chief quartermaster in the European Theater of Operations he probably feels that no other job can have terrors for him.

If so, he will soon be brought to the realization that it is easy to be wrong in a matter of this kind. He will need more than his European experience and the toughness of a veteran soldier to survive longer than his predecessors in this job. The country can only admire his courage and wish him luck. He'll need it when the wolves descend upon him.

Turks Agree on Foreign Policy

The Turks had a national election the other day. Since the late Mustafa Kemal Ataturk established the present dictatorship, this was the first Turkish election in which the government, or Republican People's party, sanctioned real opposition from the Democratic party.

The two parties see eye to eye on foreign policy—that is, on Russia. The world has heard little in recent months of the demands made on Istanbul by Moscow in 1945 and early 1946, but in the past the Russian bear has never forgotten his taste for broad, thick slices of Turkey. Last week the Turkish government explained that the army was being kept at full war strength because "peace was uncertain."

The Soviet government was irate at Turkey for remaining neutral in World War II until February 23, 1945, when Germany was already beaten. More specifically, Russia is determined that never again in case of war shall her warships be denied the use of the Dardanelles—as during the last two world wars.

Among the demands pressed on Turkey by Russia was the cession of certain districts in northeastern Turkey. These districts may contain oil. Also, in Russian hands they would strengthen the strategic position of Russia's present oil development around Baku.

But when all is said and done, the real goal of Russian demands on Turkey has always been the Dardanelles. To get control of the Straits, Soviet political strategists until recently conducted a strenuous "war of nerves" against the Turks. But the Turks do not scare easily. Whether the reds will resume their campaign of nerves against Turkey now that the Turkish election is out of the way, remains to be seen. Certainly Moscow has not abandoned its scheme to gobble up part of Turkey.

Speaking of the present disclosures before the Mead committee in Washington, didn't we hear somebody say that no scandals and no profiteering millionaires would come out of World War Two?

Tidelands Oil Bill Veto Is Indicated

WASHINGTON, July 26.—White House strategy on the tidelands oil bill has been fixed ever since it was apparent that the powerful oil lobby would push it through the Senate as well as the House. There was never any doubt of a presidential veto.

The President, of course, will be on the soundest grounds in sending the measure back to Congress, unless, of course, he is the last great reserve of oil within the continental United States and therefore careful supervision of its use under the federal government is vital to the security of this nation.

Some of the President's more hostile critics on Capitol Hill have indicated that he would sign the bill out of loyalty to Edwin W. Pauley. Quite apart from all other considerations this would be a political blunder of the first order.

Pauley Was Whipping Boy

A glance at the vote in the Senate indicates that Pauley was, in a sense, merely a convenient whipping boy. He wanted the tidelands oil under control of the states, and he set out to achieve that objective by any and every means. Suddenly, the great publicity fell squarely on him and his methods. But what he was doing, a dozen or a hundred others were also doing. The success of this all-persuasive lobby is measured in the Senate vote of 44 to 34 in favor of passage of the bill.

One of the 25 Republicans voting for transfer of the tidelands oil was Senator William Knowland of California. In California, one of the chief proponents of the tidelands bill was Attorney General Robert Kenny, who was roundly defeated for the governorship a short time ago, not only in the Republican primary but in his own Democratic primary as well. Many factors entered into that defeat, but it is just possible the voters didn't like Kenny's incessant lobbying for the oil companies that wanted to get the tidelands reserves under the domain of the states.

Of the 19 Democrats voting for the oil companies, one was Senator Claude Pepper of Florida. When Pauley's nomination as Undersecretary of the Navy precipitated long Senate hearings, Pepper was one of those who piously called on Pauley to withdraw his name. Another Democrat who voted for the transfer was Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts who, as chairman of the Senate naval affairs committee, heard Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal express his concern over dwindling oil reserves.

House Vote Overwhelming

In view of the House vote of 108 to 11 for transfer of the tidelands oil, the President will probably have to rely on the Senate to sustain his veto. With the help of votes from such Republicans as Senators Tobey, La Follette, Hart and Morse, the President will be able to repulse the oil lobby's maneuver.

It is almost certain that, as though in their blindness, certain powerful forces were determined to pull America down. The same kind of lobby was responsible for the "Buy American" clause in the measure just signed by the President providing for creation of strategic stockpiles.

Our great national wealth was dwindling rapidly long before World War II. The war that ended a year ago cut it to the very bone. Our supplies of minerals, oil and timber are at a level which means the most careful national planning if we are to be secure within our continental borders. The creation of strategic stockpiles is an essential part of that planning. Yet Congress tacks on an amendment that all but destroys the value of stockpiling. The amendment provides that only items produced or manufactured from materials originating in this country can be bought for "public use."

Should Be Imported

Stockpiles above ground should be put together from copper, manganese and so on brought in from outside the country. This would tend to conserve our underground resources still beneath the ground. If they are still in the earth, they cannot be dissipated or destroyed.

As President Truman pointed out in protesting the "Buy American" clause, the act allows exceptions where domestic purchases are found "inconsistent with the public interest" or "unreasonable" in cost. Every advantage should be taken of this loophole. We need to build up our scientific resources both from within and without the country.

One Man's Opinion

The Army is looking for 25 thousand new officers... Preferably men who have never attended a Garsson or Freeman wedding on company time.

From the evidence before the Mead committee we're a little uncertain as to whether "Manhattan project" was the wedding reception or the atom bomb.

It appears that as many officers were ordered to the reception as to the laboratories but the pictures didn't explode for two years.

General Eisenhower asked for a bigger officers' corps... Apparently he figured this was going to be a big year for weddings and replacements would be needed.

But from now on it will be hard to get a member of Congress or an army officer to a wedding unless the bridegroom agrees not to provide pictures.

Right now I don't know whether Senator Mead is trying to expose graft or more photographer's plates.

Watch the birdie! He's watching you.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A 200-unit housing project at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology has been delayed four weeks because of a kildeer.

This kildeer (which, in case you don't know it, is a bird of the plover family and has a plaintive cry), built her nest in a pile of bricks about to be used in the construction. Then she laid an egg.

The superintendent ordered a protective fence built around the kildeer's nest and ordered work to cease until it was hatched.

He consulted one of the ornithologists at nearby Harvard and was told that 28 days is the usual time for a kildeer to hatch its eggs.

So, for four weeks, construction work on the housing unit has stopped.

"Please don't ask me how the stoppage affected the union agreement, I don't know."

Last Sunday my wife and I were just about to start out in our car for a dinner appointment.

"Stop!" yelled my wife. I stopped and my wife got out. I saw her picking up a tiny little ball of something, carefully taking it into her hands, fondling it against her cheek, talking to it and depositing it under a young birch tree, far away from the driveway.

"Hurry up dear," I called to her. "We'll be late for our engagement." She didn't pay any attention to me, so I got out of the car.

She was down on her knees, still talking to the little thing, which I recognized as a little baby bird—I don't know much about birds so I couldn't tell what kind it was.

"Haven't you any heart?" she asked me. "That's a little baby."

Sometimes I think that there is hope for the human race.

The State Police Say:

Have you ever become so disgusted with the actions of a pedestrian as to call him crazy or stupid? Most of us have. Maybe you were right, he may have been just that. A community of any size includes a people of a wide range of mental ability, ranging from high intelligence to feeble-mindedness. The man walking alone the highway or crossing the street ahead of your car may be in poor mental or physical health, crippled, intoxicated, partially blind and/or otherwise incapacitated. It is our moral duty to protect them.

ALREADY, this Congress this year has established a precedent for doing nothing in a case such as Mr. May's, when very much earlier in its life it did nothing in the case of Representative James Curley, of Massachusetts, who was indicted and convicted by a jury on a criminal charge. And while members of the House are now saving there is no use doing anything about Mr. May because his constituents will retire him in the coming election, it is certainly possible that he will be re-elected. Here again there is a Curley precedent. After his conviction, Mr. Curley ran for Mayor of Boston and was elected.

NATURALLY, Mr. Curley and his friends regard that as a complete "vindication." So would Mr. May, and the House would accept it as such, too. This seems to show that Congress is a body readily stirred to action for political reasons but almost completely unresponsive to a moral argument; that congressmen are more concerned about their individual and party fortunes than about their collective character. Perhaps that is why they do not, as a body, resent the cheap labor demagogues who berate Congress as a body.

Great Game Of Politics

What House Action On Congressman May?

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Under the Constitution, as everybody knows, the House and Senate are the final judges of the qualifications of their own members. Either body by majority vote can refuse to seat an elected member or can expel a member already seated. Such action upon the part of either has been exceedingly rare in recent years. But in former days many members were unseated. For example, in 1861 and 1862 action Senators were expelled and a great many members of the House. They were all Southern members and, like nearly every other following ejection, the action was on political and not moral grounds.

TRUE, the Senate some 34 years ago purged its membership of one William L. Gorman, duly elected Senator from Rhode Island, on charges of political corruption. Mr. Gorman was a machine boss, but, strangely enough, an honest man, personally. It was alleged and proven—at least to the satisfaction of most of his colleagues—that he had "bought" his seat. So though there was overwhelming testimony as to the purity of his personal character, they threw him out by a very close vote. That was in the days before the direct primary when senators were elected by the state legislatures and not by the people. The injustice in Mr. Gorman's case was that he was elected by the body which elected him several other senators just as guilty of buying their seats as he—and some of these were hypocrites enough to vote against him.

THOUGH in a number of instances, upon recommendation of its Elections Committee, the House has unseated a member who had taken his seat, duly elected on the face of the returns, this action has not been because of any allegations of either personal or political corruption. On the contrary, in practically all these cases election cases, the recommendation of the partisan majority of the Elections Committee has been sustained by the partisan majority of the House and the election has been recognized as a partisan act. The House itself has seemed to acknowledge this in several cases by paying the salary to the man it refused to seat as well as to the man it seated.

ALL of which makes it interesting to discuss the question of what, if anything, the House will do in the case of Representative Andrew Jackson May of Kentucky, who has been exposed by the Mead Committee as engaged in some exceedingly shady transactions with the exceedingly unsavory Garsson brothers. The exposures make it clear to most unbiased men that Mr. May is not fit to be a member of the House, and they make it especially clear that he is unfit to be chairman of the powerful and important Military Affairs Committee, which position he seems to have shamelessly abused.

WHOLLY aside from his connections with the Garssons, the type of man Mr. May is, as recently shown when in the Conference Committee he voted the proxy of Representative Andrews, of New York, which had been left in his hands against the drafting of the 18-year-olds instead of in favor of Mr. Andrews' wish. And when Mr. Andrews, by cable from the Ekin test area, reaffirmed his wish Mr. May would not let the proxy be used at all. Despite all this, however, in the judgment of those in best position to know, the answer to the question of what will the House do about Mr. May is—nothing.

THE reason for inaction in this case, just as the reasons for action in the many instances in which the House has unseated members, are rooted in partisanship and politics. In the case of Mr. May there is the additional reason that Congress is about to adjourn and that with all the other members' constituents coming up for re-election in his district this fall. But even if this were not so—even if the session were just beginning and the election two years off—the odds all are the House would do nothing about Mr. May, whose defense of himself has been widely characterized as unscrupulous and almost irrelevant and whose reluctance to appear before the committee counts heavily against him.

ALREADY, this Congress this year has established a precedent for doing nothing in a case such as Mr. May's, when very much earlier in its life it did nothing in the case of Representative James Curley, of Massachusetts, who was indicted and convicted by a jury on a criminal charge. And while members of the House are now saving there is no use doing anything about Mr. May because his constituents will retire him in the coming election, it is certainly possible that he will be re-elected. Park It At The Door

The Parent Problem

By GARY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

SOME CHILDREN ARE TOO TIMID

Many mothers write me of the child from 3 to 5 who lets other children of his age or younger things him around and take his things without any effort at self-preservation. This same child is almost sure to be a timid, fearful child at eight, ten or fourteen.

Dear Dr. Myers: Our son 2½ plays with a little girl six months younger. Every time this little girl sees our son she pushes him and slaps him in the face. She also grabs and takes all the toys out of his hands and plays with them as long as she wants. Then she throws them away. I did not think it was wise to teach our son to fight back because he is too young to understand when to fight back.

The Psychologist's Reply

In answering her, I told her it was not so much a matter of teaching him to fight back as to let him fight back and not to take his part. He is not to get him interested in another toy when he wishes to hold on to the one he has. As most other mothers do, you, no doubt, have made your child give up his toys to the visiting toy, in order to make him an unselfish host. If you compel him to give up a toy to the other child, at this stage in his development, especially when your child has it in his hands and the other child grabs it, your child may violently resist, even fly into a tantrum, in which case you are disturbed at his stubbornness and selfishness. But if, on the other hand, your child meekly submits to your demands that he shall give up the other child may grow more dominant and your child more submissive not only to this child but to all other children.

So, then, too much emphasis on inducing your child to share, in early stages of being with another child, may cause either pronounced stubbornness or submission in him. Of the two, the latter often is the worst. My bulletin, "Stubbornness" may be had in a stamped envelope.

Respect Ownership

Therefore, let me urge you, Young Mother, during the first several visits by a playmate, not to require your child to give up or even share his toys, but patiently to persuade him to do so and tactfully lead the visiting child and his mother to see that you respect your child's ownership.

After these early adjustments, it may be very desirable to require your child, if too resistant, to allow the playmate to have one of your child's toys for a short period, giving it up for another toy after this short period you designate. Soon you will be requiring these children to take turns with such toys as both cherish most, excepting, of course, any rare toy easily injured, which need not be shared and even should be put away before the playmate arrives.

In a nursery school, this problem of sharing and taking turns is far easier than in a home, since in the school, the playthings are common property. No one there is sole owner. How different the problem with the toy who for many months has been sole owner and operator of his toys. Guiding a child in these matters requires understanding, patience and skill and ought to be a great challenge to any parent who wishes to be creative and resourceful. "Your Child and His Playmate" may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 43rd street, New York, N. Y.

The World and the Mud Puddles

(No. 14)

PRIVILEGES OF CONGRESSMEN

Continuing with Article I of the Constitution, Section 4 of the article reads as follows:

"The times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof, but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators."

The Congress shall assemble at least once every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day. The seventh amendment provided for the place of choosing senators. The vote of the whole state properly reported chose the senators, so the "place" was in the hearts of the citizens of the state.

Considering the second paragraph which provides when Congress should meet, the twentieth amendment changed that from the first Monday of December to the third day of January.

Section 5 reads as follows:

"Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties as each house may provide. Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two thirds, expel a member."

"Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal."

"Neither house, during the session of Congress, shall, without consent of the other, in any way, be privileged from arrest during the three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting."

It will be seen that under the first paragraph of Section 5 the Senate and House have authority to reject or admit or to determine what candidate is entitled to a seat.

It will also be noted here that the sergeant in arms receives his authority to compel the attendance of absent members.

Section 6 reads as follows:

"The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place."

SILENT SPEECH

There are so many forms of speech! The nose can pass a thought along. Just turn it up and it will screech. That something in the room is wrong.

What one is thinking, sneers portray. A sudden movement of a hand—Disgust's or pleasure's terms can say. In speech that all can understand.

The eyes have language of their own! With eloquence their words they phrase. The eyes make love and hatred known. Although the tongue in silence stays.

Words may be used for cunning lies. Not always are they chosen well. But shoulders, lips and hands and eyes. Always and only truth will tell.

Hidden Files Reported Found In Garsson Case

Disclosure Of Secret Files
Of Labor Department
Made By Correspondent

DETROIT, July 26.—(INS)—The Detroit Times Washington correspondent, Hugh Daly, said Thursday that the Senate Mead committee has uncovered what he called "hidden, secret files of the Labor Department" in its inquiry into the activities of Murray W. Garsson.

Daly's exclusive story said one of the files was Garsson's personal record as head of a mysterious "investigative" section of the immigration bureau. Daly said his file was removed from the document room in which it has been kept about three weeks ago, soon after the Mead committee began its public hearings on Garsson's war profits.

The other file is expected to disclose details of the roundup of 400 aliens in Detroit in 1932. Daly said, with Garsson and members of an investigative section as the raiding parties.

Asks To See Files
Daly said that he went to the Labor Department and asked to see the files. He was referred to the department's document room. There he was told the file was confidential and that the newsmen could not see it. Then he was told that the file was missing from the room.

Daly said: "On my own, I asked to see this file. Labor Department officials referred me to a document room of which Frank Donnelly is custodian. I asked Donnelly if I might see this file."

"No," he replied, "that's a confidential file. I would be fired if I showed it to you."
"When I was insistent, he admitted the file was missing from the document room and no longer in his custody."
"I really don't have it," he declared.

"Then he told about receiving a call from Secretary Schwelbach's secretary about three weeks ago. The secretary instructed him to leave his key in Schwelbach's office on his way home, after having looked up for the night."

File Missing
"The next morning, after picking up his key and unlocking, he checked up to determine what was missing. It was the Garsson file."
"Armed with this information, I went back to Schwelbach's office. After being shunted back and forth from one source to another, I finally was told that the file was 'not available,' that it contained 'no information of particular interest' to me, and that I might not see it."

"When Sen. Ferguson and the Mead committee learned of this, they took steps to obtain the file. George Meader, chief counsel for the committee, said it would be turned over by the Labor Department this afternoon without any difficulty."

shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created, or the emoluments thereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office."

The first paragraph of Section 6, it will be seen, provided for free speech—absolutely free—on the floor of either house and the exceptions and privileges from arrest while they are attending sessions of their respective houses.

It will be seen that they might be picked up on the streets of Washington by the District of Columbia's police for being drunk and disorderly, but the police of the District of Columbia either have not had cause, or are looking the other way when a congressman is off on a tear.

The third paragraph of the above section provides that each member shall keep a journal. The congressional record is supposed to reflect that journal. At present there are about 40,000 of these congressional records published every day when Congress is in session and it contains texts of speeches never made—a very interesting publication for the people back home. All of its copies are franked and its costs the government a tidy sum to publish them and carry to their destinations these copies.

NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY RENT CONTROLS REPLACED

NEW YORK, July 26.—(INS)—The brief careers of the states of New York and New Jersey as guardians of rent ceilings came to a close today with the rebirth of OPA. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey ended New York's administration of rent ceilings with a proclamation. He promised: "Should federal rent controls for any reason again cease, the state controls would again take immediate effect."

New York's law came into effect when federal controls went into temporary discard June 30.

New Jersey rents were frozen only last Monday in a special session of the state legislature.

In 1792 men wore ties that went twice around the neck.

County Fair Season Begins In State July 29

HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst reminded Pennsylvanians today that the 1946 county fair season will open July 29 with exhibitions at Washington and Clearfield.

Horst explained that 89 county and community fairs have been scheduled for this year. Last year, receipts from fairs totaled more than $1,000,000.

A total of 1,609,000 persons attended the farm meetings last year compared with the record 3,608,000 visitors in 1939, he added.

"Each of the 89 county and community fairs is eligible for state aid in the payment of premiums for agriculture exhibits except for a few that are operating for the first or second year," Horst said.

The Washington fair will close August 2 while the one at Clearfield will end a day later.

Absent Witness Was Friendly With Capone

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—The Mead committee, officially informed that Rep. Andrew J. May (D) Ky., had suffered a heart attack and could not testify for a week or longer, received evidence today that another absent witness was "very friendly with Al Capone."

The committee placed in the record a Labor Department file on Murray W. Garsson, co-promoter of the fabulous munitions combine in which May became involved as a key figure, showing, according to Chairman Mead (D) N.Y., that Garsson was "very friendly with Capone" and had talked to the mobster in jail.

Like May, Garsson says he is under doctor's orders to rest from a heart attack. He is in Havana, Cuba.

May, who was to have answered the committee's subpoena and to have testified under oath this morning, was stricken with a heart attack late yesterday and is under a physician's care in his Washington apartment.

Chairman Mead, as the committee recessed public hearings until further call, reiterated that May's physician will be asked to present a certificate confirming that the representative is too ill to testify.

Mead also brought out that the government's general accounting office is investigating all war contract terminations involving the Garsson combine. He said this is a direct result of the senate inquiry.

After hearing Mead, the committee introduced the Labor Department file on Garsson, a former Labor Department investigator.

Two witnesses from the general accounting office then testified that the government already has entered "exceptions" holding up settlement of $216,28 in travel expenses paid to half a dozen army officers and one civilian employee who used army travel orders to attend a Garsson wedding party in New York on January 2, 1944.

County Executive Board

Mrs. Floyd Worrell, county vice president, presided over the business session of the Lawrence County W.C.T.U. executive board meeting Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Y.W.C.A.

Mrs. Scott Munell, spiritual life director, led the devotional period, building her remarks around the theme, "Looking at Life."

Plans for the county convention to be held at the Third U. P. church September 12 were formulated. It was announced that there would be three sessions, morning, afternoon and evening, with dinner being served at 6 p. m. by leaders from the Third U. P. church.

A box lunch will be enjoyed at noon. Convening at 10 a. m., the morning session will be devoted to reports of directors and election of officers for the coming year, while in the afternoon two local representatives of the Pennsylvania School of Alcohol Studies, Mrs. Emmett Libendortler and Mrs. Robert Snyder of Ellwood City will participate in a panel discussion of the work of the school.

Under the direction of Mrs. Wendell Shoemaker, secretary of Wayne council, officers and members of local Youth Temperance Councils will conduct devotions and give reports on the encampment held at Dickinson Junior college, Williamsport, this month, at the evening meeting.

Another evening feature will be the presentation of a playlet, "Sale of the World's Children" by ladies from the Frances Willard Union, under the supervision of Mrs. Robert McConahy, member of the Oak Street school L.T.L. playing the children's parts.

An executive board meeting will be held at the church at 12:30 p. m., the day of the convention.

Absent Witness Was Friendly With Capone

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—The Mead committee, officially informed that Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky.), had suffered a heart attack and could not testify for a week or longer, received evidence today that another absent witness was "very friendly with Al Capone."

The committee placed in the record a Labor Department file on Murray W. Garsson, co-promoter of the famous mobsters combine in which May became involved as a key figure, showing, according to Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.), that Garsson was "very friendly with Capone" and had talked to the mobster in jail.

Like May, Garsson says he is under doctor's orders to rest from a heart attack. He is in Havana, Cuba.

May, who was to have answered the committee's subpoena and to have testified under oath this morning, was stricken with a heart attack late yesterday and is under a physician's care in his Washington apartment.

Chairman Mead, as the committee recessed public hearings until further call, reiterated that May's physician will be asked to present a certificate confirming that the representative is too ill to testify.

Mead also brought out that the government's general accounting office is investigating all war contract terminations involving the Garsson combine. He said this is a direct result of the senate inquiry.

After hearing Mead, the committee introduced the Labor Department file on Garsson, a former Labor Department investigator.

Two witnesses from the general accounting office then testified that "the government already has entered 'exceptions' holding up settlement of $216,282 in travel expenses paid to half a dozen army officers and one civilian employee who used army travel orders to attend a Garsson wedding party in New York on January 2, 1944.

County Executive Board

Mrs. Flore Worrell, county vice president, presided over the business session of the Lawrence County W.C.T.U. executive board meeting Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. Scott Munnell, spiritual life director, led the devotional period, building her remarks around the theme, "Looking at Life."

Plans for the county convention to be held at the Third U. P. church September 12 were formulated. It was announced that there would be three sessions, morning, afternoon and evening, with dinner being served at 6 p. m. by leaders from the Third U. P. church. A box lunch will be enjoyed at noon.

Congressing at 2 p. m., the morning session will be devoted to reports of directors and election of officers for the coming year, while in the afternoon two local representatives of the Pennsylvania School Librarians and Mrs. Robert Snyder of Ellwood City will participate in a panel discussion of the work of the school.

Under the direction of Mrs. Wendell Shoemaker, secretary of Wayne county, officers and members of local Youth Temperance Councils will conduct devotions and give reports on the encampment held at Dickinson Junior college, Williamsport, this month, at the evening meeting.

Another evening feature will be the presentation of a playlet, "Sale of the World's Children" by ladies from the Frances Willard Union, under the supervision of Mrs. Robert McCann, member of the Oak Street school, L.T.L., playing the children's parts.

An executive board meeting will be held at the church at 12:30 p. m. the day of the convention.

Babson Gives Ideas On Juvenile Delinquency

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1946, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 26.—This city, like most communities, is having trouble with juvenile delinquency. It shows the effects of the breaking open of summer cottages and unoccupied buildings. In Wellesley, Mass., where I spend most of the year it has been evident in the ruthless destruction of school property for which there is absolutely no excuse.

The police and school department put the blame upon parents. They state that too many parents are either at work—or else out on parties, etc.—while the children are running fast and loose throughout the town. Perhaps this criticism is justified, but it should be remembered that the parents are paying the salaries of the policemen and school teachers. Of course, the parents should help more, but the police and the teachers have no right to dump it all back into the parents' laps.

In some homes both parents are obliged to work in order to pay the high living expenses and taxes that we have today. When I was a boy, the parents and school teachers cooperated. In fact, when I got a licking in school and my parents heard about it, I got another at home! But for some reason corporal punishment has entirely gone out of most school systems of today. The first step in eliminating juvenile delinquency is to restore corporal punishment in both the schools and the homes.

Coddling Young People
Professional psychologists (most of whom have no children of their own) say that children should be entertained more and at the public expense. In some cities, the police department is even getting up parties for the boys on Halloween so they won't smash windows and destroy property. This philosophy seems very crazy to me. I speak both as a large employer of young people and as an educator with 300 students now on the Babson Institute campus.

I believe in supervised play-ground; also in the work of the YMCA, YWHA, CYO and similar organizations. More people should contribute to such activities; but appeasing young people to prevent them from destroying property will accomplish no more than did the appeasement of Germany to prevent her from destroying Europe.

What Is the Remedy?
One remedy for juvenile delinquency is to repeal certain state laws as to employing minors. Boys who are strong enough to destroy windows are strong enough to work in a store or on a farm. The original purposes of these labor laws may have been sound; but they have been carried too far. Corporal punishment may do something for these boys when the schools are in session; but only hard work can relieve them of their excess energy in the vacation period.

I have a granddaughter of college age whom I personally desired to employ as a secretary this summer. To my great surprise, I was threatened with the law for not first getting permission from the town authorities to have her help me! Because of the various officials upon whom she was obliged to call, it took two or three days to get the proper blanks filled out in order that she could work for me for a couple of weeks!

New Point of View Needed
President Truman is not the only person who is cockeyed on labor problems. There are just as bad samples among the legislators of every state and especially among the school committees of most communities. Labor legislation is necessary and I am for it; but it should apply equally to employers and young people. Furthermore, half of the work should be taught in our public schools along with French, Latin, music and the so-called social studies. But first of all, churches, YMCAs, YMHAs, CYOs and other groups interested in reducing juvenile delinquency should get the laws changed so as to encourage the vacation employment of young people.

Boom In Vacation Business In State

HARRISBURG, July 26.—Pennsylvania is enjoying its biggest vacation and pleasure travel business in years, reports the State Department of Commerce vacation and recreation bureau.

All the resort areas in the state are entertaining increasingly large numbers of persons and wayside inns more or less "off the beaten path" are doing a larger business than ever before.

From the Pocono Mountains in northeastern Pennsylvania to the southwestern corner of the state and from Lake Erie to the southeastern sector vacationists have been turning out in numbers that have taxed even the expanded facilities provided in the resort areas.

Quite a number of the summer resort hotels and inns have planned to remain open longer than has been the custom this year in order to accommodate guests and some of

FIVE BROOKLYN RESIDENTS HURT IN IRWIN CRASH

GREENSBURG, Pa., July 26.—(INS)—Five Brooklyn residents were injured Thursday when a truck in which they were riding collided with an automobile near Irwin.

State police reported the injured as David Adams, 44; his wife, Shirley, 42; Jacob Allen, 34; his wife, Anna, 28; and Phyllis Wolter, 12.

Police said that Adams and the Wolter girl live at 22 Patcher avenue, and the Allens at 240 Ralph avenue in Brooklyn.

Babson Gives Ideas On Juvenile Delinquency

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright, 1946, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 26.—This city, like most communities, is having trouble with juvenile delinquency. It shows here especially in the breaking open of summer cottages and unoccupied buildings. In Weymouth, Mass., where I spend most of the year, it has been evident in the ruthless destruction of school property for absolutely no excuse.

The police and school departments put the blame upon parents. They state that too many parents are either at work—or else out on parties, etc.—while the children are running fast and loose throughout the town. Perhaps this criticism is justified, but it should be remembered that the parents are paying the salaries of the policemen and school teachers. Of course, the parents should help more, but the police and the teachers have no right to dump it all back into the parents' laps.

In some homes both parents are obliged to work in order to pay the high living expenses and taxes that we have today. When I was a boy, the parents and school teachers cooperated. In fact, when I got a kicking in school and my parents heard about it, I got another at home! But for some reason, corporal punishment has entirely gone out of most school systems of today. The first step in eliminating juvenile delinquency is to restore corporal punishment in both the schools and the homes.

Coddling Young People
Professional psychologists (most of whom have no children of their own) say that children should be entertained more and at the public expense. In some cities, the police department is even setting up parties for the boys on Halloween so they won't smash windows and destroy property. This philosophy seems very crazy to me. I speak both as a large employer of young people and as an educator with 300 students now on the Babson Institute campus.

I believe in supervised playgrounds also in the work of the YMCA, YWCA, CYO and similar organizations. More people should contribute to such activities; but coddling young people to prevent them from destructive property will accomplish no more than did the appeasement of Germany to prevent her from destroying Europe.

What Is the Remedy?
One remedy for juvenile delinquency is to reveal certain state secrets to employing nations. Boy Scouts are strong enough to destroy a building and strong enough to kill a store or on a farm. The object of the police is to prevent these things from being carried out. Current punishment may do something for these boys when the schools are in session; but only hard work can relieve them of their excess energy in the vacation period.

I have a granddaughter of college age whom I personally desired to employ as a secretary this summer. To my great surprise, I was threatened with the law for not first getting permission from the town authorities to have her help me! Because of the various officials upon whom she was obliged to call, it took two or three days to get the proper blanks filled out in order that she could work for me for a couple of weeks!

New Point of View Needed
President Truman is not the only person who is coddled on labor problems among the legislators of every state and especially among the school committees of most communities. Labor legislation is necessary and I am for it; but it should apply equally to employers and young people. Furthermore, hours of work should be taught in our public schools along with French, Latin, music and the so-called social studies. YMCAs, YWYAs, CYOs and other groups interested in reducing juvenile delinquency should get the laws changed so as to encourage the vacation employment of young people.

Boom In Vacation Business In State

HARRISBURG, July 26.—Pennsylvania is enjoying its biggest vacation and pleasure travel business in years, reports the State Department of Commerce vacation and recreation bureau.

All the resort areas in the state are entertaining increasingly large numbers of persons and wayside inns more or less "off the beaten path" are doing a larger business than ever before.

From the Pocono Mountains in northeastern Pennsylvania to the southwestern corner of the state and from Lake Erie to the southeastern sector vacationists have been turning out in numbers that have taxed even the expanded facilities provided in the resort areas.

Quite a number of the summer resort hotels and inns have planned to remain open longer than has been the custom this year in order to accommodate guests and some of

FIVE BROOKLYN RESIDENTS HURT IN IRWIN CRASH
GREENSBURG, Pa., July 26.—Five Brooklyn residents were injured Thursday when a truck in which they were riding collided with an automobile near Irwin.

State police reported the injured as David Adams, 44; his wife, Shirley, 42; Jacob Allen, 34; his wife, Anna, 28; and Phyllis Wolins, 12.

Police said that Adams and the Wolins girl live at 22 Patcher avenue, and the Allens at 240 Ralph avenue in Brooklyn.

Koo Against Removing U. S. Troops In China

Washington Delegates Says Soldiers Needed To Disarm Japs, Repatriate Them

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo opposed Thursday the immediate withdrawal of American troops from China, as many elements have demanded.

At his first news conference since taking over his duties in Washington, Koo said he felt that the U. S. soldiers are needed to disarm some remaining Japanese troops and to repatriate them to Japan.

Speaking to reporters at a meeting on the broad laws of "Twin Oaks", one of Washington's most spacious embassies, the veteran diplomat placed on the Communists most of the blame for failure of a coalition government in China to be formed.

Koo said it had been agreed that the Communists should submit a list of names for a constituent assembly and for posts in the government by May 5. Thus far, these names have not been put forward.

He declined to write off as a loss Gen. George C. Marshall's attempt to form a coalition government in China. He said Marshall has been working hard to bring about a settlement and in this has the full cooperation of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Reiterates Position

Chiang only two days ago reiterated his position that he would seek a settlement of the present situation by peaceful means. However, Koo said he did not see how the Nationalist and Communist armies could be unified without political unification first.

At the same time Koo declared that the recent statement of Madame Sun Yat-Sen, widow of the founder of the Nationalist movement that "die hards" in the government were impeding unification to promote a war between the U. S. and Russia were her personal views.

Koo said: "Madame Sun, like any citizen of China, distinguished or otherwise, is entitled to voice her own viewpoint of the situation for the people abroad. It does not, as far as I know, reflect the viewpoint of the people of China."

Other Views

Other views expressed by Koo: 1. He is in close contact with UNRRA on the suspended shipments of relief supplies to China and believes they will shortly be resumed. It is true that more relief has gone into the Nationalist area than the Communist because the greater famine exists in the former. There may be some leaks of UNRRA goods into the black market but part of this may be explained by the fact that China is permitted to sell some supplies to finance UNRRA administrative costs.

2. Unification must proceed stage by stage and that is why failure of the opposition parties to submit lists of names for the assembly has delayed matters.

3. There seems to be a change in the Russian attitude toward China but the Chinese cannot understand the reason. It may be only the appearance of a change.

4. Negotiations have been going on between China and Russia on the removal of industrial equipment from Manchuria but no agreement has been reached.

5. There is no "civil war" in China in the full sense of the word. There have been clashes but this situation exists normally when the opposition party is in the position of having an army.

Receives Plans To Meet Problem Of Palestine Area

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Secretary of State Byrnes Thursday received from the Anglo-American Palestine Commission in London two alternative plans for meeting the Palestine question.

A State Department spokesman said that Byrnes had not yet had an opportunity to study or even read the two proposals. After he has done so it will be necessary for him to confer with President Truman who appointed the American members of the inter-cabinet group now in London.

They were charged with finding some way of concrete action to carry out the Anglo-American Palestine commission recommendations for the movement of 100,000 European Jews into Palestine and a method of maintaining a government.

London reports said that one recommendation forwarded to Washington proposed the partitioning of Palestine into a Jewish and Arab state with a federal government to integrate them.

At the State Department it was said that it was not yet known whether this was one of the alternative plans received.

CUT FENCE POSTS FOR LATER TREATING

Material for fence posts, if cut at this time, will be seasoned for treating with a preservative during the late fall or winter.

Almost any species can be used for posts, if treated, but all of the bark must be removed to permit the preservative to penetrate the wood. Some of the woods are still bark-peeling, but by August 1 nearly all of them will be tightened up.

The peeled wood should stand at least three months before treating. One of the preferred preservatives is pentachlorophenol. The cost of treating is about 15 cents per post. Treated posts last about 20 years.

Cutting fence post material gives the woodlot owner an opportunity to get out cull material, such as beech, soft maple, hickory, black birch and other trees undesirable for timber purposes.

VARIETY OF CLEANING EQUIPMENT AVAILABLE

With the passing of the years there has come a change in the kinds of cleaning equipment used by the homemaker.

Not so many years ago, Miss McClain says, such equipment consisted of a corn broom, plain mop handle and metal holder which held for a mop cloth—old stockings, overalls, or father's discarded trousers; a dust "rag" or some part of worn-out clothing or a feather duster; and a chicken or turkey wing for dusting off the stove.

Today, along with the changing ideas in house finishing and furnishings, have come changes in cleaning equipment. Nearly everyone knows the value of the vacuum cleaner, however, not everyone uses its attachments to the fullest extent.

Other articles also are useful for keeping the house clean. With a wall brush the homemaker can clean walls and ceilings over windows and doors, as well as baseboards. It also will go behind the heavy, seldom-moved pieces of furniture, such as the piano and bookcase.

All sizes and kinds of brushes are available for different jobs. There are brushes especially designed for cleaning radiators, venetian blinds, bottles vegetables, bathroom equipment, and for many other uses. Every homemaker will find a large variety from which to choose, and she should know her brushes and their uses in order to make the best selection and get the greatest use and satisfaction from them.

REVEAL LIQUOR BOTTLES DESTROYED

HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—Auditor General G. Harold Wagner said Thursday an inventory had disclosed 6,357 bottles of liquor worth $14,226.62 had been destroyed in state liquor stores in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

The audit, covering the 50-day period beginning April 1, revealed that the loss in Philadelphia area stores was $9,061.73 while $5,163.89 was written off in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

Shrine Caravan Picnic Saturday

Fine Program Of Athletic Events And Stunts Arranged For Outing At Y.W.C.A. Camp

Lawrence Caravan, No. 15, A. A. O. N. M. S., will have its first annual picnic on Saturday at the Y. W. C. A. camp at East Brook, and an enjoyable outing is being looked forward to by members and their families.

Events have been arranged for afternoon and evening, with races for children between the ages of 6 and 16, and a number of stunts and contests for the adults.

Paxton R. Pike, of Ellwood City, is general chairman, with Clarence S. Jarrett in charge of the picnic dinner, and Arthur H. Lewis the sports.

There will be plenty to eat, the committee assures, members being required only to bring table service. The dinner will be served at 6 o'clock.

CENTENNIAL OF SWEDISH PIONEERS BEGINS AUGUST 2

WARREN, Pa., July 26.—(INS)—Reenactment of the life in the Swedish settlement of Chandler's Valley 100 years ago will be held the weekend of August 2, when Swedes throughout the nation will gather at the old Swedish church in the valley for a centennial celebration.

The celebration will begin at Jamestown, N. Y., where a pageant of 800 persons will be staged. It will move to Chandler's Valley and hold special commemorative ceremonies.

Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson is scheduled as the principal speaker.

Some of the country's most modern coal mines are located at Kemmerer, Wyo., where almost everything is electrically operated, and the coal is not touched by human hands.

Egg Prices Not Much Changed In OPA-Less Era

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—The Agriculture Department reported today that during the OPA-less period since June 30 egg prices remained virtually unchanged, and poultry prices receded to June levels after a sudden increase of about 20 per cent. In its Poultry and Egg Review.

the department said that chicken and turkey prices probably would be at last year's levels during the remainder of 1946. It added: "Larger meat supplies per person than a year ago and near-record egg supplies will tend to keep egg prices from rising much more than be at last year's levels during the remainder of 1946. It added: "Larger meat supplies per person than a year ago and near-record

Gives Analysis Of Damage By Bikini Bombs

By DR. PARKER D. TRANK
Written Exclusively for the News

ABOARD USS PANAMINT, off Bikini, July 26.—The second Bikini atomic bomb lived up to its reputation with the other four.

In surveying the overall effects of the bomb, it obviously is a serious danger to naval operations and presents an effective means of attack which is large compared with other explosives.

Yet compared with the forces of nature, the present atomic bomb is tiny. It did little damage to the beaches, caused no large waves nor distant explosions, nor did it initiate any earthquakes or typhoons. To fact, none of the terrible catastrophes prophesied earlier came to pass.

The power of the atomic bomb must be increased materially before it can do much harm to good old mother earth.

Returning to lethal damage: when the A-bomb explodes under water, ships may sink in four different ways—1. by blowing up; 2. by being swamped by huge waves; 3. by being crushed together as the water rushes back into the void caused by the concussion; 4. by being crushed by the shock wave.

In the dramatic sub-surface test, the first three ships reported sunk apparently were destroyed by the first three of the causes since they had disappeared when the explosion cloud cleared over the lagoon within ten minutes of the detonation.

Many of us saw fragments of ships blown into the air. Dr. John Garbe of Midland, Mich., reports he saw a ship slide down the side of the water column which was thrown up. The tanker Saratoga apparently was crushed from below by the shock wave. It gradually settled and disappeared more than seven hours after the explosion. All observers aboard the Panamint felt a lump in their throats as the ship lost her last flicker.

Almost certainly other ships were damaged by the shock wave.

The shock wave of this bomb must have been very strong because it was transmitted from the lagoon water through the wall of coral and rock and back into the ocean sufficiently to disable momentarily our ship, the Panamint.

Tanker And Cutter Rushing To Aid Of Ship Afire At Sea

LOS ANGELES, July 26.—(INS)—A Navy cutter and a Coast Guard cutter rushed to the aid of a ship on fire south of Los Angeles today.

The ship, a small freighter, was on fire when it was sighted by the cutter. The Coast Guard cutter, the USSC-10, was also on the scene.

Report 170 Killed Or Injured In Wreck In Japan

TOKYO, July 26.—(INS)—More than 170 persons were killed or injured today when a speeding freight train plowed into a stalled express near Kyoto.

The accident topped a mounting wave of Japanese railroad casualties, which reached 500 in the last week of the war.

The Japanese press blamed overcrowding of railroad coaches and traffic congestion brought on by the present unsettled postwar conditions.

Nazi Picture Of Hitler Regime Is 'Ridiculous'

Justice Jackson Makes Closing Address For U. S. At Nuerenberg Trial

NUERNBERG, July 26.—(INS)—Justice Robert H. Jackson, America's chief counsel for prosecution of Axis criminality, declared today that Nazi defendants have presented a "ridiculous composite picture of Hitler's government."

Jackson told the military tribunal in the closing address for the United States that, according to stories of Nazi war criminals, the Third Reich, which was to last a thousand years, was composed of:

"A number two man, Hermann Goering, who knew nothing of the excesses of the Gestapo which he created and never suspected the Jewish extermination program although he signed decrees instituting the persecutions."

"A number three man who was merely an innocent middleman transmitting Hitler's orders without even reading them, like a postman or delivery boy."

"A foreign minister who knew little of foreign affairs and nothing of foreign policy."

"A field marshal who issued orders to the armed forces but had no idea of the results they would have in practice."

"A security chief who was of the impression that policing functions of his Gestapo and SS were somewhat on the order of directing traffic.

"A party philosopher who was interested in historical research, and had no idea of the violence which his philosophy was inciting."

"A governor general of Poland who reigned but did not rule."

"A gaudier of francania whose occupation was to pour fourth filthy writings about the Jews, but had no idea that anybody would read them."

"A minister of the interior who knew not even what went on in the interior of his own office, much less the interior of his own department, and nothing at all about the interior of Germany."

"A Reichbank president who was totally ignorant of what went in and out of the vaults of his bank."

"And a plenipotentiary for the war economy who secretly marshaled the entire economy for armament, but had no idea it had anything to do with war."

Jackson arrested that "this is what you would actually be obliged to conclude if you were to acquit" the defendants.

Tax Collector Suicide Victim Near Indiana, Pa.

INDIANA, Pa., July 26.—(INS)—The Indiana County Coroner's Office reported that Walter Harbison, 61-year-old county tax collector, ended his life in a swimming pool by firing a small caliber bullet through his head.

The coroner's office said that Harbison, missing since July 8, managed to replace the gun in his pocket after firing the bullet.

A note found in his nearby abandoned automobile instructed searchers to look in the water for his body. He also left instructions for his funeral.

SINCE 1875

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 26.—Busiest man in town is Frank Sinatra, resuming his screen career after two years.

Frank's just starting "It Happened in Brooklyn" for M-G-M, his first since "Anchors Aweigh", one of the smash money-makers of all time.

Frank said:

"I got a break when we were starting the picture in New York. We were shooting on the Brooklyn bridge. We'd get out there in the morning and there'd be fog so I wouldn't have to work all day."

"But I'm sure going to make up for it now. The picture has a 70-day shooting schedule, and I work 68 of them."

"I don't mind. This is a happy company and we'll have lots of fun. Just then the make-up man came to do some work on Frank's face."

"That's a waste of time," Frank said as the man started powdering. "Oh, no," said the makeup man.

"Oh, yes," said Frank with a grin. "I've been living with this face all my life and I know there's nothing can be done about it."

John Hodiak got a two weeks' vacation and that's all with his bride, Anne Baxter. Now he's back to work in "The Arncliffe Affair."

Any extended honeymoon will have to wait until next year. "As soon as I get finished with this picture, I have to report to Hal Wallis to start 'Desert Town'." John said. "The only thing I'm hoping is that I'll be finished with this before that one starts. It'll be tough if they overlap."

Bob Mitchum, one of Hollywood's busiest actors, looks tired but he has no time to rest yet.

Just completing "Woman Of My Own" with Greer Garson, Bob is due to report to Warners for "The Pursued."

He gave a sigh and said:

"I haven't had any time off in 26 months. Sometimes I wonder if I didn't make a mistake when I laid down my tools at Lockheed."

By coincidence, Gene Kelly, who co-starred with Frank in "Anchors Aweigh", also is resuming his own career after his navy service.

He's in Gregory LaCava's "Life For the Loving". Gene, one of the stage and screen's top dancers, doesn't know how much dancing he's going to do in this picture.

Gene explained:

"This is a comedy and not a musical and it all depends on what dancing can be worked naturally into the script."

Since Gene won an academy award nomination for his acting in his last effort, no one is worrying too much if there isn't too much dancing in this.

Hollywood's newest find is a brunette with big blue eyes named Marie Windsor. M-G-M's signed her. Her home's in Marysville, Utah, but she made her reputation as an actress on the stage and radio in New York City.

Her ambition?

"I'd like to be a mixture between Greer Garson and Joan Crawford," she said.

CIVILIANS GET ATOMIC CONTROL FROM CONFEREES

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Senate-house conferees Thursday restored control of atomic energy to an all-civilian commission of five members.

The conference, meeting to iron out differences in senate and house versions of atomic legislation, agreed to remove from the bill house amendments requiring one, and permitting two, military members on the control group.

In a compromise move, however, senate conferees agreed to accept a house amendment which would provide that the director of military atomic research be a military man.

Koo Against Removing U. S. Troops In China

Washington Delegates Says Soldiers Needed To Disarm Japs, Repatriate Them

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo opposed Thursday the immediate withdrawal of American troops from China as many elements have demanded.

At his first news conference since taking over his duties in Washington, Koo said he felt that the U. S. soldiers are needed to disarm some remaining Japanese troops and to repatriate them to Japan.

Speaking to reporters at a meeting on the broad laws of "Two Oakes," one of Washington's most spacious embassies, the veteran diplomat placed on the Communists most of the blame for failure of a coalition government in China to be formed.

Koo said it had been agreed that the Communists should submit a list of names for a constituent assembly and for posts in the government by May 5. Thus far, these names have not been put forward.

He declined to write off as a loss Gen. George C. Marshall's attempt to form a coalition government in China. He said Marshall has been working hard to bring about a settlement and in this has the full cooperation of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Reiterates Position

Chiang only two days ago reiterated his position that he would accept a settlement of the present situation by peaceful means. However, Koo said he did not see how the Nationalist and Communist armies could be unified without political unification first.

At the same time Koo declared that the recent statement of Madame Sun Yat-Sen, widow of the founder of the Nationalist movement that "die hard" in the government were impeding unification to promote a war between the U. S. and Russia were her personal views.

Koo said: "Madame Sun, like any citizen of China, distinguished or otherwise, is entitled to voice her own viewpoint of the situation for the people abroad. It does not, as far as I know, reflect the viewpoint of the people of China."

Other Views

Other views expressed by Koo: 1. He is in close contact with UNRRA on the suspended shipments of relief supplies to China and believes they will shortly be resumed. It is true that more relief has gone into the Nationalist area than the Communist because the greater famine exists in the former. There may be some leaks of UNRRA goods into the black market but part of this may be explained by the fact that China is permitted to sell some supplies to finance UNRRA administrative costs.

2. Unification must proceed stage by stage and that is why failure of the opposition parties to submit lists of names for the assembly has delayed matters.

3. There seems to be a change in the Russian attitude toward China but the Chinese cannot understand the reason. It may be only the appearance of a change.

4. Negotiations have been going on between China and Russia on the removal of industrial equipment from Manchuria but no agreement has been reached.

5. There is no "civil war" in China in the full sense of the word. There have been clashes but this situation exists normally when the opposition party is in the position of having an army.

Receives Plans To Meet Problem Of Palestine Area

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Secretary of State Byrnes Thursday received from the Anglo-American Palestine Commission in London two alternative plans for meeting the Palestine question.

A State Department spokesman said that Byrnes had not yet had an opportunity to study or even read the two proposals. After he has done so it will be necessary for him to confer with President Truman who appointed the American members of the inter-cabinet group now in London.

They were charged with finding some way of concrete action to carry out the Anglo-American Palestine commission recommendations for the movement of 100,000 European Jews into Palestine and a method of maintaining a government.

London reports said that one recommendation forwarded to Washington proposed the partitioning of Palestine into a Jewish and Arab state with a federal government to integrate them.

At the State Department it was said that it was not yet known whether this was one of the alternative plans received.

CUT FENCE POSTS FOR LATER TREATING

Material for fence posts, if cut at this time, will be seasoned for treating with a preservative during the late fall or winter.

Almost any species can be used for posts, if treated, but all of the bark must be removed to permit the preservative to penetrate the wood. Some of the woods are still bark-peeling, but by August 1 nearly all of them will be tightened up.

The peeled wood should stand at least three months before treating. One of the preferred preservatives is pentachlorophenol. The cost of treating is about 15 cents per post. Treated posts last about 20 years.

Cutting fence post material gives the woodlot owner an opportunity to get out cull material such as brush, soft maple, hickory, black birch and other trees undesirable for timber purposes.

VARIETY OF CLEANING EQUIPMENT AVAILABLE

With the passing of the years there has come a change in the kinds of cleaning equipment used by the homemaker.

Not so many years ago, Miss McClain says, such equipment consisted of a corn broom; a plain mop handle and metal holder which held for a mop cloth—old stockings, overalls, or father's discarded trousers; a dust "rag" or some part of worn-out clothing or a feather duster; and a chicken or turkey wing for dusting off the stove.

Today, along with the changing ideas in house finishing and furnishings, have come changes in cleaning equipment. Nearly everyone knows the value of the vacuum cleaner, however, not everyone uses its attachments to the fullest extent.

Other articles also are useful for keeping the house clean. With a wall brush the homemaker can clean walls and ceilings over windows and doors, as well as baseboards. It also will go behind the heavy, seldom-moved pieces of furniture, such as the piano and bookcase.

All sizes and kinds of brushes are available for different jobs. There are brushes especially designed for cleaning radiators, venetian blinds, bottles, vegetables, bathroom equipment, and for many other uses. Every homemaker will find a large variety from which to choose, and she should know her brushes and their uses in order to make the best selection and get the greatest use and satisfaction from them.

REVEAL LIQUOR BOTTLES DESTROYED

HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS).—Auditor General G. Harold Wagner said Thursday an inventory had disclosed 6,237 bottles of liquor worth $14,298.72 had been destroyed in state liquor stores in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

The audit, covering the 40-day period beginning April 1, revealed that the loss in Philadelphia area stores was $9,061.73 while $5,163.23 was written off in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

Egg Prices Not Much Changed In OPA-Less Era

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS).—The Agriculture Department reported today that during the OPA-less period since June 30 egg prices remained virtually unchanged and poultry prices receded to June levels after a sudden increase of about 20 per cent.

In its Poultry and Egg Review, the department said that chicken egg supplies will tend to keep egg and turkey prices probably would press from rising much more than be at last year's levels during the season during the summer, and remainder of 1946. It added: "Larger meat supplies per person than a year ago and near-record Try The News Want Ads For Results"

GRANT TUITION FOR OFF-CAMPUS STUDENT PROGRAM

HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—Tuition and fees amounting to $300 a year were authorized today by the state for veterans and other high school graduates attending off-campus college centers set up to relieve overcrowding in 70 participating institutions.

The Veterans Administration will underwrite the cost for ex-servicemen according to Dr. R. M. Steele, director of the statewide program. He said half of the amount must be paid at the beginning of each semester, he added.

The off-campus program will be conducted in 10 areas and an estimated 250,000 students were expected to enroll for instruction by autumn, according to the Department of Public Instruction.

The heart of the normal adult beats from 70 to 80 times a minute.

Still you feel vulnerable, exposed. Any man or animal could outrun you. Each slope in the foothills threatens to stall your shaggy motor. A car whips past you, pulls up by the road, lets you crawl by, and then slowly goes around you again and you feel eyes on you in the darkness. Viciously, your instep jams the footbed to the floor, but it remains lifeless, unresponsive.

You've lost your speed, and it was your weapon, your dense, your protection. Even a porcupine crossing the road frightens you for those quills in your tires would strand you again.

Before you finally reach the town, you've had time to philosophize about modern man's utter dependence on mechanical speed—and time to pay homage to pioneers who, without it, simply had to stand and fight.

Night On Desert

Brings New Respect For Pioneers Of West

KREMMLING, Colo.—(INS)—If you want to regain a healthy respect for the pioneers of another era—the early Americans who traveled and settled this country—spend a night stranded on the western desert.

It will do the trick with no trouble at all. Furthermore, it will leave you convinced that we have things pretty soft, nowadays.

It happens like this: One minute you're cutting across the wasteland at 50 miles an hour. It's sundown and you're literally drinking in the wild, grand beauty of the rock formations and mesas that jut from the sand and turn their bloody-hued cliffs to the setting sun.

That's what the whole scene means to you—grandeur, atmosphere, beauty. If you think at all of the covered wagons that came this way before, it's only a moment's lip service. Mostly, you're wondering what sort of a room you'll get for the night.

And There You Are

The next minute, your motor coughs a couple of times and dies, and there you are. Realization of your plight comes slowly. You're still too much of a modern. You get out in the gathering dusk, raise the hood and tinker clumsily, hoping with a child-like faith that you'll stumble on what's wrong.

An occasional car zips by while it's still light, but you don't bother to stop it. Then, suddenly, it's dark and when your flashlight cuts a sharp, narrow swath into the density of the night, you begin to realize that this isn't good.

The last town is 40 miles back. The next one is nearly 60 miles ahead. In a car, that's about an hour, either way. Alone, it varies from 12 to 30 hours. Gradually, it dawns upon you that speed is modern man's weapon against the wilderness.

Now the weapon is turned against you. For people don't like to stop in the desert at night. It's too lonely. Too many people have disappeared that way—only to become the victims of unsolved murders.

Can't Flag Cars Down

Futilely, you try to flag the occasional car down. Instead of slowing, it puts on a burst of speed and you leap aside. In spite of yourself, you find that fear they exhibit is contagious. You know better, but—well, if they are afraid to stop on the desert at night, maybe there's a reason. Furtively, your eyes follow the flashlight's beam out through the darkness.

Now the rock formations have a grotesque, shadowy, threatening look. The coyote's howl becomes a raucous chorus of suffering and death. Something alive—man? Deer? Antelope? Steer?—moves out there just beyond the flashlight's reach and your ears strain to identify the sound. A tumbling tosses restlessly across the unfenced roadway and you leap at the sound.

Thoughts Of Pioneers

It is then that reason returns and brings with it the thought of the pioneers. You are not going to starve. Many of them did. You won't die of thirst in one night, but they had many days and nights of it, and the graves of those who died of it line this ancient trail.

No Indian is going to slip up on you in the night, lift your scalp and leave your body lying there. The trail-blazers faced that threat with every nightfall.

But even reason doesn't resign you to the prospect of remaining there all night. Nervously you continue tinkering. Eventually, hours later, you get enough life out of the motor to start limping and coughing back to the nearest town—at about ten miles an hour.

Still you feel vulnerable, exposed. Any man or animal could outrun you. Each slope in the foothills threatens to stall your shaggy motor. A car whips past you, pulls up by the road, lets you crawl by, and then slowly goes around you again and you feel eyes on you in the darkness. Viciously, your instep jams the footbed to the floor, but it remains lifeless, unresponsive.

You've lost your speed, and it was your weapon, your dense, your protection. Even a porcupine crossing the road frightens you for those quills in your tires would strand you again.

Before you finally reach the town, you've had time to philosophize about modern man's utter dependence on mechanical speed—and time to pay homage to pioneers who, without it, simply had to stand and fight.

Over 100,000 New Autos, And Trucks Are Sent Abroad

NEW YORK, July 26.—(INS)—More than 100,000 new 1946 American cars and trucks have been exported at a time when new vehicles at home have been almost as scarce as swimmers at Bikini.

In the first six months of this year, which from a production standpoint has been the most barren peacetime year since the auto industry began to wear long pants, 37,440 shiny new cars and 67,531 trucks of all makes have been sent to foreign users.

Total production in that time when output was sharply limited by strikes and materials shortages, was 978,108 units.

"Not Due To Prices"

Industry spokesmen revealed these figures today but insisted that the export trade has nothing to do with prices abroad.

They said that auto makers, because of inter-mural and foreign competition must export the same percentage of cars they did before the war to hold on to their markets overseas. The chief rival abroad is England and the main arena of the rivalry seems to be Latin America, with Europe next.

Export division spokesmen for the "big three"—Ford, General Motors and Chrysler—denied that new cars have been and are being shipped out because of higher prices abroad. They point out that before any units left this country, the OPA set an export price ceiling on them.

No Controls Abroad

However, there are no controls on what the individual retailer or dealer abroad may charge.

The auto people say they are actually shipping less of their total production than they did before the war. In 1939, they say, 6.2 per cent of the total car output was exported. This year the percentage is 5.8. The comparative truck percentages are 20.4 for 1939 and 20 for this year.

Also, it is pointed out, the maximum volume of export to any given foreign country still is controlled by the American State department.

As one Ford spokesman said, "after all we have to treat all our dealers equally, whether they're foreign or domestic."

Meanwhile, you car hungry people, if you like self-punishment, can go down to any one of several places in Brooklyn and watch those gleaming, new 1946 models being lowered into the holds of ships for use thousands of miles away.

New OPA Faces Difficult Role

Such Is Opinion Of Spokesmen For Business And Industry In Nation

NEW YORK, July 26.—(INS)—Spokesmen for business and industry pledged support today to the revived OPA but predicted it will collapse unless its administrators adopt a "realistic policy" toward price increases.

The CIO and the National Association of Manufacturers found themselves in agreement in blasting the bill.

The CIO termed it "legalized inflation." Robert Watson, president of the NAM, called it legislation to substitute "the price judgments of a few bureaucrats for the judgments of forty million American housewives."

The NAM, however, pledged its support to the OPA, while the New York CIO Council remained silent about what its course would be.

Industry leaders predicted a rush of applications from manufacturers for pricing adjustments.

Jack Kranis, president of the National Meat Industry Council, foresaw a return of the black market in meat "unless OPA arranges a system of prices that will give everyone an equitable profit and a fair chance to stay in business."

EASTON—City maintenance men were not joking when they turned "hotfoot" experts. They were only trying burning oil to rid a section of town of thousands of millipedes, or thousand leggers, which infested vacant lots by day and homes by night.

Punches And Styles Interest Women At Thursday Night Bout

Women Make Up Big Part Of Crowd Watching Taggart Stadium Fight On Thursday

Women who watched the eight fast bouts in the ring at Taggart stadium Thursday night were doing more than just getting an evening's entertainment for themselves; they were helping to pay for entertainment for their youngsters for many afternoons to come.

And playground entertainment for the kids always means a few hours of quiet and peace for the mothers—a fact which the ladies may also have considered as they sat in the stadium under one of the most delicately beautiful sunsets they had ever seen.

Inside the ring there was little delicacy, however. The boys were swinging wild and hard and the ladies loved it—action without serious injury to anyone. No blood, no broken noses—the ladies could watch from start to finish without flinching.

But of course they didn't watch it from start to finish. There were too many attractive suits and summer coats in the stadium. There was Helen to wave to and Bob to shout at, while Mary was sitting in the next row declaring that she "didn't think he was knocked out at all; he just got tired and laid down."

Whether she was a fight fan of long standing or a novice watching the first bouts she had ever seen, the lady enjoyed the fight. It was fast and it was fun, and it was for the kids. And wasn't that a stunning coat on Janet.

Reveals Horror Of Nanking Rape By Japs In 1937

Educator Says So Many Were Slaughtered Chinese Were Used To Help In Burials

TOKYO, July 26.—(INS)—An aging Chinese educator told the Tokyo war crimes tribunal today that Japanese slaughtered so many civilians during the 1937 rape of Nanking that the conquerors were forced to call on Chinese to help bury the dead for fear of disease.

Hsu Chuan-Yink, the educator who holds a doctorate of philosophy from the University of Illinois, said he was head of the relief society in Nanking in 1937 and that his group alone buried more than 43,000 Chinese civilians.

Hsu said that other organizations and private families also buried dead.

The witness branded the Japanese sack of Nanking as "an orgy of murder of civilians."

Hsu said with emotion in his voice that though the city offered no resistance, civilians were shot on sight by Japanese troops.

A hush fell on the courtroom as he described how attempts were made to count the dead lying on Nanking's streets three days after the city's fall. He said the count reached 500 when it was given up as a hopeless job.

The defendants, including Hideki Tojo and Iwane Matsui, commander of the Nanking Japanese, were noticeably sobered during the testimony.

Hsu said that Japanese psychological warfare was designed to "strike terror in the Chinese people."

As an example of studied brutality, he cited the city of Tien Wang Shu, not far from Nanking, which, he said, was "utterly destroyed and the residents killed for a slight indignity against the Japanese."

CAPTURE SOLDIERS WHO FLED BARRACKS AT NEW CUMBERLAND

HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—Col. Donald Foote, executive officer at the Army disciplinary barracks at New Cumberland, reported today that three prisoners who escaped the post had been apprehended by police at Aberdeen, Md.

Foote would not identify the prisoners. State police at Hershey wanted the men on charges of attacking Samuel S. Glessner of Altoona, and driving away in his car, Foote said.

Military police will be sent to Aberdeen to return the prisoners.

BROWNSVILLE—Four men who apparently couldn't wait for a scheduled trip to Smock, commandeered a passenger bus and went their way only to crash into a bridge abutment.

Nazi Picture Of Hitler Regime Is 'Ridiculous'

Justice Jackson Makes Closing Address For U. S. At Nuremberg Trial

NUERBERG, July 26.—(INS)—Justice Robert H. Jackson, America's chief counsel for prosecution of Axis criminality, declared today that Nazi defendants have presented a "ridiculous composite picture of Hitler's government."

Jackson told the military tribunal in the closing address for the United States that, according to stories of Nazi war criminals, the Third Reich, which was to last a thousand years, was composed of:

"A number two man, Hermann Goering, who knew nothing of the excesses of the Gestapo which he created and never suspected the Jewish extermination program, although he signed decrees instituting the persecutions."

"A number three man who was merely an innocent middleman transmitting Hitler's orders without even reading them, like a postman or delivery boy."

"A foreign minister who knew little of foreign affairs and nothing of foreign policy."

"A field marshal who issued orders to the armed forces but had no idea of the results they would have in practice."

"A security chief who was of the impression that policing functions of his Gestapo and SS were somewhat on the order of directing traffic."

"A party philosopher who was interested in historical research, and had no idea of the violence which his philosophy was inciting."

"A governor general of Poland who reigned but did not rule."

"A gauleiter of Franconia whose occupation was to pour fourth filthy writings about the Jews, but had no idea that anybody would read them."

"A minister of the interior who knew not even what went on in the interior of his own office, much less the interior of his own department, and nothing at all about the interior of Germany."

"A Reichbank president who was totally ignorant of what went in and out of the vaults of his bank."

"And a plenipotentiary for the war economy who secretly marshaled the entire economy for armament, but had no idea it had anything to do with war."

Jackson asserted that "this is what you would actually be obliged to conclude if you were to acquit" the defendants.

Tax Collector

Suicide Victim Near Indiana, Pa.

INDIANA, Pa., July 26.—(INS)—The Indiana County Coroner's Office reported that Walter Harbison, 61-year-old county tax collector, ended his life in a swimming pool by firing a small caliber bullet through his head.

The coroner's office said that Harbison, missing since July 8, managed to replace the gun in his pocket after firing the bullet.

A note found in his nearby abandoned mobile instructed searchers to look in the water for his body. He also left instructions for his funeral.

SINCE 1875

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

(U.S.S. Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 26.—Busiest man in town is Frank Sinatra, resuming his screen career after two years.

Frank's just starting "It Happened in Brooklyn" for M-G-M, his first since "Anchors Aweigh," one of the smash money-makers of all time.

Frank said:

"I got a break when we were starting the picture in New York. We were shooting on the Brooklyn bridge. We'd get out there in the morning and there'd be fog so I wouldn't have to work all day."

"But, I'm sure going to make up for it now. The picture has a 70-day shooting schedule, and I work 12 of them."

"I don't mind. This is a happy company and we'll have lots of fun. Just then the make-up man came to do some work on Frank's face."

"That's a waste of time," Frank said as the man started powdering. "Oh, yes," said Frank with a grin. "I've been living with this face all my life and I know there's nothing can be done about it."

John Hedrick got a two weeks' vacation and that's all with his bride, Anne Baxter. Now he's back to work in "The Arncliffe Affair."

Any extended honeymoon will have to wait until next year.

"As soon as I get finished with this picture, I have to report to Hal Wallis to start 'Desert Town,'" John said. "The only thing I'm hoping is that I'll be finished with this before that one starts. It'll be tough if they overlap."

Bob Mitchell, one of Hollywood's busiest actors, looks tired but he has no time to rest yet.

Just completing "Woman Of My Own" with Greer Garson, Bob is due to report to Warners for "The Pursued."

He gave a sigh and said: "I haven't had any time off in 26 months. Sometimes I wonder if I didn't make a mistake when I laid down my tools at Lockheed."

By coincidence, Gene Kelly, who co-starred with Frank in "Anchors Aweigh," also is resuming his own career after his navy service.

Gene explained: "This is a comedy and not a musical and it all depends on what dance can be worked naturally into the script."

Since Gene won an academy award nomination for his acting in his last effort, no one is worrying too much if there isn't too much dancing in this.

Hollywood's newest find is a beauty with big blue eyes, named Marie Windsor. M-G-M's signed her. Her home is in Marysville, Utah, but she made her reputation as an actress on the stage and radio in New York City.

Her ambition? "I'd like to be a mixture between Greer Garson and Joan Crawford," she said.

CIVILIANS GET ATOMIC CONTROL FROM CONFEREES

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Senate-house conferees Thursday restored control of atomic energy to an all-civilian commission of five members.

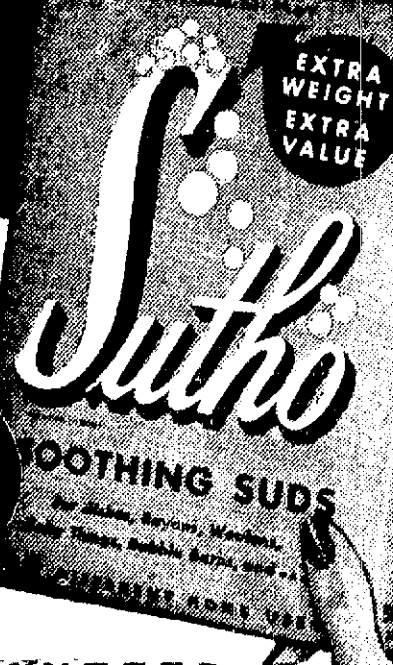

The conference, meeting to iron out differences in senate and house versions of atomic legislation, agreed to remove from the bill "house amendments" requiring one and permitting two military members on the control group.

In a compromise move, however, senate conferees agreed to accept a house amendment which would provide that the director of military atomic research be a military man.

Brazil Police Ready To Arrest Communist Cogs

Action May Be Taken Soon In Effort To Block "Moscow-Directed" Campaign

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 26.—(INS)—Government officials warned Thursday that Brazil's police forces are poised for a swift round-up of Communist leaders to forestall implementation of a "Moscow-directed" campaign to "Sovietize" the nation.

Pereira Lira, police chief of the Rio de Janeiro federal district, supplied the tip-off on the proposed attempt to flood the country with Russian propaganda.

He charged that a "Red fifth column" is sending its forces into Brazil to enforce Communist orders, and said Sen. Luis Carlos Prestes, Brazilian Communist leader, was working in close collaboration with the Soviets.

A government spokesman said that while Prestes as a senator is immune to arrest—as are 16 Communist deputies of the constituent assembly—the constitutional guarantees of senators and representatives might be suspended "in case of national emergency."

Lira named the "General Slave Union," with headquarters in Moscow, as chief propaganda instigator in Brazil. He supplied a list of "dozens of foreign organizations in Brazil which are dominated" by the Slave Union.

Other Charges
The police chief also charged that the World Federation of Trade Unions and the Latin American Labor Confederation recently decided in Moscow to "weaken and paralyze progress in Latin America" by supporting a boycott against Franco Spain.

He said trade union leaders meeting in the Soviet capital planned a "South American-wide plot" which failed, Lira added.

"June 18 was set as the date for starting a two-week strike against Spain. Communist Paris agreed and also Red Mexico."

"Happily, Mexican workers and those of some other Latin American nations disagreed. Brazilian workers and those of some other Latin American nations disagreed. Brazilian workers protested to authorities this unwarranted intervention of a foreign power in Brazilian labor."

Lira connected the Slave Union directly with Brazil by charging that Ugo Spiridonov, Brazilian chief of the union, had sent messages to Moscow asking for instructions on conduct of the strikes.

He said the telegrams proved "the existence of a Red fifth column in Brazilian program for a two-week subversion decreed from Moscow."

Lira said the Slave Union aimed to bring all Slave peoples under "Soviet citizenship."

Seriousness of Lira's charges was reflected in Rio's newspapers, which devoted entire first pages to the subject.

Westinghouse To Send Engineers To Atom Project

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—The Westinghouse Electric Corporation disclosed that nine engineers, including five from the research laboratories, will join a scientific manpower pool at Oak Ridge, Tenn., to work on peacetime applications of atomic power.

The engineers will carry on research at an institute of nuclear studies which is being established as a "super-university of the atomic age" to provide channels for cooperative research between governments.

All are on a one-year loan. The institute of nuclear studies is sponsored by a group of southern universities and will carry out research at the Ph. D. level and above in the field of physics, chemistry, biology, medicine and engineering.

FIRST PLANE RIDE THRILLS WOMAN, 80

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—At 80 Mrs. Anna Hartman of Pittsburgh thinks there is nothing like a good airplane ride.

The gray haired grandmother of 55 children took her first plane ride recently on her 62nd wedding anniversary.

The only instructions she had for the pilot, Edward A. Murdoch, was: "Don't fly too high. I'm not ready for heaven yet."

First corridor train was invented by George Pullman, American cabinet-maker, in 1887. He also invented the sleeping car, in 1887.

Reciprocal Trade In Glamour Business Now

Prime purpose of Lucie's first visit to the United States and, especially, the movie capital, was to arrange for an exchange of half a dozen American beauties—the kind on two lovely steamers each—for six of Britain's prettiest models on a glamor lend-lease deal.

The English girls will arrive in America in September to display their wardrobes of exportable British styles, and the American girls—probably Goldwyn girls—at the same time will visit England to display women's wear from the States. As it stands today, England will get the better part of the deal. Lucie came right out and said: "We've had no cosmetics and nothing but 'austerity' clothes for seven years. The American girls look better."

But Lucie is hurrying home by airplane and ship to see if she can't get some changes made by September. Lucie, who'd just squeezed out two pairs of brand new nylons and draped them over a 13th floor hotel window sill to dry while packing, said frankly:

"I've been through four film studio makeup departments and Destonore, too, and I don't think the American girls really are any lovelier than the British girls. The American girls know, though, how to bring out their best points by clothes and cosmetics."

"That's what I'm going home to teach my girls."

Has Success With Gardenias

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—Eleven years ago George Kosak, a Pittsburgh street car conductor, bought a gardenia plant because the fragrance of the flower attracted him.

Today he has developed the single plant into more than 200 and expects to double that within the next few years.

Kosak said the secret of his success with the southern flower is plenty of fresh air and sunshine. He said most people think a gardenia is a house plant, but experiments showed it'll do better on the outside just like any other flower. During the winter months the plant lives indoors, but comes spring and it moves into a tent in the back yard. It drinks a lot of water, Kosak said, and every so often has a soap and water bath.

Of New Mexico's 18 pueblos, or Indian villages, eight are near Santa Fe.

AMERICAN GIRL TAKES OWN LIFE IN GERMAN CITY

FRANKFURT, July 26.—(INS)—U. S. army headquarters revealed Thursday that Katherine F. Cline, 31, of Baltimore, Md., committed suicide in Frankfurt last Tuesday.

Miss Cline was said to have been a war department employee who performed duties of a clerk-typist in the office of the political advisor of Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, American commander in Europe.

Miss Cline's body was found by her roommate in the gas-filled kitchen of their barracks. She had left a note addressed to her sister, Mrs. Charles A. Schweiger of Baltimore.

The note indicated Miss Cline's intention to commit suicide, but gave no reason for the act.

MONONGAHELA — Progress has been made in picnicking. The local Businessmen's Association has arranged to provide transportation for heavy food-laden baskets up a steep hill to the picnic grounds.

Other Republics May Accept New Bolivian Regime

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Reports from Bolivia on the character of the civilian Junta which recently seized power developed the belief in Washington Thursday that it will soon be recognized by the other American republics.

A State Department spokesman declined to comment on whether the United States viewed the new regime as acceptable. He said that no move to institute consultation with the other governments had yet been instituted.

However, he conceded, that the United States would not necessarily take the leadership in such a move. Ecuador and Uruguay had hitherto been mentioned as countries that might start the talks.

The La Paz government has committed itself to various obligations necessary for recognition.

MORE TELEPHONE CALLS THAN EVER BEFORE

Every day, over the entire Bell System, people are making 20,000,000 more telephone calls than they made a year ago — not 20,000,000 all together, but 20,000,000 more!

Their calls are longer, too.

The same thing is going on in Pennsylvania . . . thousands more local and out-of-town calls every day.

These calls are longer, too.

What we need in Pennsylvania

To take this upsurge of calls in our stride—to provide the high quality of service that you expect and that we want to provide—we need a tremendous quantity of equipment and facilities that we don't have.

We need equipment for 247 dial office additions and 297 manual office additions.

We need 43 new buildings, and enlargements to 20 of our present buildings.

We need thousands of telephone instruments, miles and miles of cable and wire, vast quantities of a countless variety of tools and other equipment.

Why don't we have them?

For precisely the same reason that you don't have all the butter and clothes and automobiles and other things you want.

Western Electric, supplier for the Bell System, is hard pressed for essential materials . . . for lead and copper and brass and textiles and steel and lumber.

Shortages of these basic materials—the stuff that telephone equipment is made of—make the going tough. They make it exasperating, too, for they are shortages completely beyond Western Electric's control.

Even so, Western Electric is doing wonders with what it gets, and is scouring the four corners of the globe for what it needs. And it won't be long before the trickle of supplies becomes a steady flow, and the steady flow a flood.

What we're doing

Meanwhile, if we may say so, we're doing a few wonders ourselves.

We're overloading our equipment, where necessary, far beyond the capacity that was planned for it when it was installed.

We're improvising wherever we can, using temporary short-cuts in construction and temporary facilities which will be replaced with permanent additions as soon as conditions permit.

We're using every line and every piece of equipment we have to provide some service to as many people as possible, even though we know full well that this means service not quite so good as we'd like to provide.

"In spite of . . ."

In short, we're doing the best that can be done under the circumstances . . . in spite of material shortages which are becoming increasingly acute . . . in spite of a supply situation which has become progressively worse instead of better . . . in spite of a plague of other reasons quite beyond our control.

We don't like to work "in spite of" anything. We like to work unhindered and unhampered. We want to complete our job. We want to be able to say to anyone who wants telephone service anywhere in the territory we serve: "You bet. Here's the service you want and it's the finest service in the world, bar none."

We will, too. Make up your mind to that.

GRANT TUITION FOR OFF-CAMPUS STUDENT PROGRAM

HARRISBURG, July 26—(INS)—Tuition and fees amounting to $300 a year were authorized today by the state for veterans and other high school graduates attending off-campus college centers set up to relieve overcrowding in 70 participating institutions.

The Veterans Administration will underwrite the cost for ex-servicemen according to Dr. E. M. Sterle, director of the statewide program. He said half of the amount must be paid at the beginning of each semester.

The off-campus program will be conducted in 10 areas and an estimated 250,000 students were expected to enroll for instruction by autumn, according to the Department of Public Instruction.

Night On Desert Brings New Respect For Pioneers Of West

KREMMLING, Colo., (INS)—If you want to regain a healthy respect for the pioneers of another era—the early Americans who traveled and settled this country—spend a night stranded on the western desert.

It will do the trick with no trouble at all. Furthermore, it will leave you convinced that we have things pretty soft, nowadays.

It happens like this: One minute you're cutting across the wasteland at 50 miles an hour. It's sundown and you're literally drinking in the wild, grand beauty of the rock formations and mesas that jut from the sand and turn their bloody-hued cliffs to the setting sun.

That's what the whole scene means to you—grandeur, atmosphere, beauty. If you think at all of the covered wagons that came this way before, it's only a moment's thought. Mostly, you're wondering what sort of a room you'll get for the night.

And There You Are

The next minute, your motor coughs a couple of times and dies, and there you are. Realization of your plight comes slowly. You're still so much of a modern. You get out in the gathering dusk, raise the hood and tinkler clumsily, hoping with a child-like faith that you'll stumble on what's wrong.

An occasional car zips by while it's still light, but you don't bother to stop it. Then, suddenly, it's dark and when your flashlight cuts a sharp, narrow swath into the density of the night, you begin to realize that this isn't good.

The last town is 40 miles back. The next one is nearly 60 miles ahead. In a car, that's about an hour, either way. Aloud, it varies from 12 to 30 miles. Gradually, it dawns upon you that speed is modern man's weapon against the wilderness.

Now the weapon is turned against you. For people don't like to stop in the desert at night. It's too lonely. Too many people have disappeared that way—only to become the victims of unsolved murders.

Can't Flag Cars Down

Futile, you try to flag the occasional car down. Instead of slowing, it puts on a burst of speed and you leap aside. In spite of yourself, you find that fear they exhibit is contagious. You know better, but well, if they are afraid to stop on the desert at night, maybe there's a reason. Suddenly, your eyes follow the flashlight's beam out through the darkness.

Now, the rock formations have a sinister, downward, threatening look. The coyotes' howl becomes a raucous chorus of suffering and death. Something alive—man? Deer? Antelope? Steer?—moves out there just beyond the flashlight's reach and your ears strain to identify the sound. A unblinking tower restslessly across the unfenced roadway and you leap at the sound.

Thoughts Of Pioneers

It is then that reason returns and brings with it the thought of the pioneers. You are not going to starve. Most of them did. You won't die of thirst in one night, but they had many days and nights of it, and the graves of those who died of it line this ancient trail.

No Indian is going to slip up on you in the night. Lift your scalp and leave your body lying there. The trail-blazers faced that threat with every nightfall.

But even reason doesn't protect you to the prospect of remaining there all night. Nervously, you ruminate tinkering. Eventually, hours later, you get enough life out of the motor to start limping and coughing back to the nearest town—40 and 60 miles, an hour.

Still you feel vulnerable, exposed. Any man or animal could outmaneuver you. Each slope in the foothills threatens to stall your sluggish motor. A car whips past you, pulls up by the road, lets you crawl by, and then slowly goes around you again and you feel eyes on you in the darkness. Viciously, your instep jams the footpedal to the floor, but it remains lifeless, unresponsive.

You've lost your speed, and it was your weapon, your defense, your protection. Even a porcupine crossing the road frightens you for those quills in your tires would strand you again.

Before you finally reach the town, you've had time to philosophize about modern man's utter dependence on mechanical speed—and time to pay homage to pioneers who, without it, simply had to stand and fight.

The length of the United States northern boundary, excluding Alaska, is 3,987 miles, while the length of the Mexican boundary from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific ocean is approximately 2,013 miles.

Full Evaluation Of Atomic Bomb Tests Takes Time

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

KWAJALEIN, July 26.—First phases of the Pacific atomic bomb tests ended without apparent mishap to the nearly 42,000 Americans participating in the detonation of two of the world's mightiest weapons.

Full evaluation of these two blasts must necessarily await further examination of the target fleet in both atomic explosions and it may well be weeks before the entire data which adds up to today's massive sub-surface blast can be tabulated.

But even as the mists of the detonation began to clear over Bikini lagoon, operation crossroads leaders are inclined to regard the tests in the light of what definitely has been achieved rather than what might have been achieved.

Far Reaching Implications

First and foremost they believe the far reaching implications and scientific calculations which provided the whole guide to crossroads have been sweeping vindicated.

Their estimates, based only on mental planning and problem solving, was done by calculus alone and the armed forces and their chief in operation crossroads feel the scientists have proven both their case and their national defense value beyond any shadow of a doubt.

Secondly, they believe the complete secrecy which has surrounded the weapon itself—not only in its trans-shipment from the U. S. to Bikini but in every phase of its assembly and delivery—gives a reasonable guarantee of the secret remaining America's, at least for some months to come.

There has been nothing at Kwajalein to indicate any leakage in guarding of all vital secrets of the destructive force for national defense beyond an ineffectual attempt to seize some valueless practice photographs.

Details Remain Top-Secret

The mere fact that details of the bomb remain top-secret and that operational elements of it have completely escaped subversive detection during the Pacific operation is held of major importance in the protection of this key American defensive weapon.

Thirdly, it is believed the safety factor, twice dramatically proved in Pacific atoll experiments, has been of paramount importance.

For while the general public has known of the safety only as it was applied to the detonation itself, participants both on Kwajalein and at Bikini have repeatedly exposed to the potential of the bomb without damage.

There were mild cases of atomic burners both times—at Kwajalein in the hours just before the over-water test and at Bikini during the several days which the bomb was being prepared for the second test.

Radiological monitors and safety experts self-admittedly have "gone overboard" to take maximum rather than minimum protection, even to the evacuation of islands with the most remote likelihood of being affected.

But this precautionary emphasis has paid dividends, as illustrated anew today—no casualties or damage to installations other than those intended for, casualties and damage.

Inaccurate Drop Affected Result Of A-Bomb Blast

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Sen. Hart (R) Conn., wartime Asia-Pacific fleet commander, charged Thursday in the senate that the first atomic bomb experiment at Bikini was adversely affected when the army air corps exploded the bomb "several hundreds yards off-center."

Hart said the army air corps was given a part in the experiment because it "insisted on being in the show—could not be left out and thus miss the chance for publicity."

The former admiral said there was no need for army participation. He continued:

"The proper method, the way to insure that the explosion would be right where it was wanted, would have been to suspend the bombs from an anchored kite balloon. That method would have been sure, would have eliminated great difficulties in the timing of the entire operation and made it simpler and cheaper all around."

"Those facts are so evident that anyone would ask—why didn't the navy use a kite balloon? The answer is just as evident and is that the army air corps insisted on being in the show—could not be left out and thus miss the chance for publicity."

Over 100,000 New Autos, And Trucks Are Sent Abroad

NEW YORK, July 26.—(INS)—More than 100,000 new 1946 American cars and trucks have been exported at a time when new vehicles at home have been almost as scarce as swimmers at Bikini.

In the first six months of this year, which from a production standpoint has been the most barren peace-time year since the auto industry began to start long plants, 37,440 ships, new cars and 67,231 trucks of all makes have been sent to foreign users.

Total production in that time when output was sharply limited by strikes and materials shortages, was 978,108 units.

"Not Due To Prices"

Industry spokesmen revealed these figures today but insisted that the export trade has nothing to do with prices abroad.

They said that auto makers, because of international and foreign competition must export the same percentage of cars they did before the war to hold on to their markets overseas. The chief rival abroad is England and the main arena of the rivalry seems to be Latin America, with Europe next.

Export division spokesmen for the "big three"—Ford, General Motors and Chrysler—denied that new cars have been and are being shipped out because of higher prices abroad. They point out that before any units left this country, the OPA set an export price ceiling on them.

No Controls Abroad

However, there are no controls on what the individual retailer or dealer abroad may charge.

The auto people say they are actually shipping less of their total production than they did before the war. In 1939, they say, 6.2 per cent of the total car output was exported. This year the percentage is 5.5. The comparative truck percentages are 20.4 for 1939 and 20 for this year.

Also, it is pointed out, the maximum volume of export to any given foreign country still is controlled by the American State department.

As one Ford spokesman said, "after all we have to treat all our dealers equally, whether they're foreign or domestic."

Meanwhile, you car hungry people, if you like self-punishment, you can go down to any one of several dealers in Brooklyn and watch those gleaming, new 1946 models being loaded into the holds of ships for use thousands of miles away.

New OPA Faces Difficult Role

Such Is Opinion Of Spokesmen For Business And Industry In Nation

NEW YORK, July 26.—(INS)—Spokesmen for business and industry pledged support today to the revised OPA but predicted it will collapse unless its administrators adopt a "realistic policy" toward price increases.

The CIO and the National Association of Manufacturers found themselves in agreement in blasting the bill.

The CIO termed it "legalized inflation." Robert Watson, president of the NAM, called it legislation to substitute "the price judgments of a few bureaucrats for the judgments of forty million American housewives."

The NAM, however, pledged its support to the OPA, while the New York CIO Council remained silent about what its course would be.

Industry leaders predicted a rush of applications from manufacturers for pricing adjustments.

Jack Krusk, president of the National Meat Industry Council, foresaw a return of the black market in meat "unless OPA arranges a system of prices that will give everyone an equitable profit and a fair chance to stay in business."

EASTON—City maintenance men were not joking when they turned "hotfoot" experts. They were only going burning oil to fill a section of road of thousands of miles per hour or thousands of feet, which interested them by day and homes by night.

Punches And Styles Interest Women At Thursday Night Bout

Women Make Up Big Part Of Crowd Watching Taggart Stadium Fight On Thursday

Women who watched the eight fast bouts in the ring at Taggart stadium Thursday night were doing more than just getting an evening's entertainment for themselves; they were helping to pay for entertainment for their youngsters for many afternoons to come.

And playground entertainment for the kids always means a few hours of quiet and peace for the mothers—a fact which the ladies may also have considered as they sat in the stadium under one of the most delicately beautiful sunsets they had ever seen.

Inside the ring there was little delicacy, however. The boys were swinging wild and hard and the ladies loved it—action without serious injury to anyone. No blood, no broken noses—the ladies could watch from start to finish without flinching.

But of course they didn't watch it from start to finish. There were too many attractive suits and summer coats in the stadium. There was Helen to wave to and Bob to shout at, while Mary was sitting in the next row declaring that she "didn't think he was knocked out at all; he just got tired and laid down."

Whether she was a fight fan of long standing or a novice watching the first bout she had ever seen, the lady enjoyed the fight. It was fast and it was fun, and it was for the kids. And wasn't that a stunning coat on Janet.

Reveals Horror Of Nanking Rape By Japs In 1937

Educator Says So Many Were Slaughtered Chinese Were Used To Help In Burials

TOKYO, July 26.—(INS)—An aging Chinese educator told the Tokyo war crimes tribunal today that Japanese slaughtered so many civilians during the 1937 rape of Nanking that the conquerors were forced to call on Chinese to help bury the dead for fear of disease.

Hsu Chuang-Yieh, the educator who holds a doctorate of philosophy from the University of Illinois, said he was head of the relief society in Nanking in 1937 and that his group alone buried more than 43,000 Chinese civilians.

Hsu said that other organizations and private families also buried dead.

The witness branded the Japanese sack of Nanking as "an orgy of murder of civilians."

Hsu said with emotion in his voice that though the city offered no resistance, civilians were shot on sight by Japanese troops.

A hush fell on the courtroom as he described how attempts were made to count the dead lying on Nanking's streets three days after the city's fall. He said the count reached 500 when it was given up as a hopeless job.

The defendants, including Hideki Tojo and Iwane Matsui, commander of the Nanking Japanese, were noticeably sobered during the testimony.

Hsu said that Japanese psychological warfare was designed to "strike terror in the Chinese people."

As an example of studied brutality he cited the city of Tien Wang Shu, for from Nanking, which, he said, was "thoroughly destroyed and the residents killed for a slight indignity against the Japanese."

Kids Test Skill At Variety Of Games

In the absence of a model plane contest, for which none of the boys brought planes, Mahoning playground youngsters enjoyed a variety of games as their activity for this week.

The games were all the quiet sort, demanding a certain amount of concentration, with Anthony De-Luca winning the ring toss game played by the smaller children. Mary Ann Perrotti won at riddle-sacks, with Shirley Lombardo second, and Tony Lombardo won at marbles. Roy Turner was the winner at checkers, and John Spina at a game called "rainbow dominoes," which was made on the playground.

Mrs. Angeline Gastrucci is the Mahoning playground supervisor.

Pleased Truman May Tour States

Plan Of President To Make Political Speeches

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—President Truman's announcement that he would stump some states to help the cause of Democratic candidates has been hailed as good news by Pennsylvania Democratic leaders. Top Democratic chieftains were planning to ask the nation's chief executive to come into the Keystone state for a whirlwind tour. It was anticipated that leaders would request President Truman to speak at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

The possibility that James Roosevelt may be a leading contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1948 has been advanced by Democrats at the State Capitol city. The former Marine Corps Colonel and eldest son of the late president was catapulted into the national political limelight by capturing the state chairmanship of the California state central committee during a recent convention in Sacramento. A few Democratic workers have emphasized that Roosevelt's political stock was rising and that "He's a man to watch in 1948."

One of the traits of Gov. Edward Martin which never fails to impress persons meeting the chief executive is his courteousness. Governor Martin, a retired army major-general and veteran of five wars, has been described by one veteran capital hill newsman as "the most courteous high public official I have ever met." The governor has, since his inauguration more than three and one-half years ago, demanded that state employees treat the public with courtesy and respect.

The political future of Lt. Gov. John C. Bell, Jr., has been the subject of much conversation at the state house. Bell, who had been regarded as a strong contender for the Republican gubernatorial nomination earlier in the year, threw his support behind James H. Duff when the attorney general was selected by leaders as the G. O. P. organization's standard-bearer. It was expected that Bell would be offered the attorney general's post if Duff is elected. Bell was secretary of banking under former Governor Arthur H. James.

The state planning board has released statistics showing that in 1944 the federal government employed 200,000 workers in Pennsylvania compared with 120,000 employees for the state and local governments excluding schools. "In other words, 61 per cent of all government employees in Pennsylvania, excluding school teachers and superintendents, were federal employees and only 39 per cent were in the employ of the state, its cities, counties and townships for all the functions of government," the board reported.

Pennsylvania's housing situation, already a red hot issue of the fall campaign, was expected by some political leaders to arouse a storm of controversy when the General Assembly convenes in January. Many officials have expressed believe that the housing shortage will not be alleviated by the time the legislature convenes.

Roy Greene, press secretary for Ex-Governor James, is expected to return to the governor's office. Greene, a former Philadelphia newspaperman, entered the army in 1941 as a lieutenant. He served abroad in the Philippine Islands and Japan.

Hot Weather No Plague To Bears From Canada Wilds

READING, July 26.—(INS)—You may think its warm these days, but there are two characters in Reading who take this weather in stride without a grunt.

And, as a matter of fact, they're wearing fur coats.

But before coming up with proposals to cast them into the snake pit—it might be well to point out that the subjects are Canadian black bears—Fuzzy and Wuzzy.

They are owned by Samuel Smith, who keeps them in a cage in the rear of his garage.

And speaking of Fuzzy and Wuzzy, Smith says they don't mind the heat any more than they would in their native Canadian habitat.

Only fourteen months old, the brother and sister each tilt the scales at 140 pounds.

The bears were raised on a diet of vegetables, fruits, bread and milk. They consume six quarts of milk daily and with prices what they are today, brother, that ain't hay.

In their natural state, Canadian black bears aren't dangerous—except when attacked.

But with Fuzzy and Wuzzy growing taller and heavier each day, there's little possibility of anybody in Reading choosing to annoy them.

Claims Majority Of GOP In House To Balance Budget

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Rep. Taber (R) N. Y., declared on Thursday that election of a Republican majority to the house of representatives will result in balancing the budget and providing a surplus for reduction of the national debt.

Taber, ranking Republican on the appropriations committee, declared in a house speech:

"It is futile for the Democratic party, which has become the plant servant of federal bureaucrats, to promise much needed reductions in government spending."

"It will be the definite purpose of Republicans on the appropriations committee and in charge of the legislative machinery to dismantle this vast government machine built up by the New Deal in the 30's and over-expanded during the war years."

PAID FOR PRODUCTS

WILKES-BARRE, July 26.—(INS)—Whenever you buy a manufactured product, you're paying virtually nothing for the cost of the fuel used in its manufacture.

Testimony given to the Federal Power Commission by the National Coal Association shows that the cost of fuel at most plants averages only 1 per cent of the total retail value of their products.

PUERTO RICAN

ANNOUNCED TODAY

WASHINGTON, July 25.—(INS)—President Truman is expected to announce his choice for governor of Puerto Rico today at a 4 p. m. (EST) news conference.

White House Secretary Charles G. Ross said this morning that the announcement could be expected in the president's conference.

It was understood that Jesus T. Pinero, Puerto Rican resident commissioner, is a likely choice.

The three most popular vegetables grown by amateur gardeners are, in order, tomatoes, string or wax beans, and onions.

USES Parleys Aimed To Assist Handicapped Vets

ALTOONA, Pa., July 26.—(INS)—The United States Employment Service has been holding training conferences in an effort to place handicapped veterans in the proper jobs, according to L. P. Shafter, U. S. E. S. district manager.

Thomas V. Hayes, manager of the Johnstown U. S. E. S. office, said:

"The philosophy of the employment service is that the handicapped vet must be judged according to his ability and not his disabilities.

"We are emphasizing the importance of selective placement. Not as a matter of charity but as good, hard headed business practice."

Skills may be enjoyed in July and August on the upper slopes of the mountains surrounding Maligne lake in Jasper National Park, Canada.

Action May Be Taken Soon In Effort To Block "Moscow-Directed" Campaign

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 26.—(INS)—Government officials warned Thursday that Brazil's police forces are poised for a swift round-up of Communist leaders to forestall implementation of a "Moscow-directed" campaign to "Sovietize" the nation.

Perreira Lira, police chief of the Rio de Janeiro federal district, supplied the tip-off on the proposed attempt to flood the country with Russian propaganda.

He charged that a "Red fifth column" is sending its forces into Brazil to enforce Communist orders, and said Sen. Luis Carlos Prestes, Brazilian Communist leader, was working in close collaboration with the Soviets.

A government spokesman said that while Prestes as a senator is immune to arrest—as are 16 Communist deputies of the constituent assembly—the constitutional guarantees of senators and representatives might be suspended "in case of national emergency."

Lira named the "General Slave Union," with headquarters in Moscow, as chief propaganda instigator.

in Brazil. He supplied a list of "dozens of foreign organizations in Brazil which are dominated" by the Slavic Union.

Other Charges.

The police chief also charged that the World Federation of Trade Unions and the Latin American Labor Confederation recently decided in Moscow to "weaken and paralyze progress in Latin America" by supporting a boycott against Franco Spain.

He said trade union leaders meeting in the Soviet capital planned a "South American-wide plot" which failed, Lira added.

"June 18 was set as the date for starting a two-week strike against Spain, Communist Paris agreed and also Red Mexico."

"Happily, Mexican workers and those of some other Latin American nations disagreed. Brazilian workers protested to authorities this unwarranted intervention of a foreign power in Brazilian labor."

Lira connected the Slavic Union directly with Brazil by charging that Ugo Spiridonov, Brazilian chief of the union, had sent messages to Moscow asking for instructions on conduct of the strikes.

He said the telegrams proved "the existence of a Red fifth column in Brazilian program for a two-weeks subversion decreed from Moscow."

Lira said the Slavic Union aimed to bring all Slavic peoples under "Soviet citizenship."

Westinghouse To Send Engineers To Atom Project

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—The Westinghouse Electric Corporation disclosed that nine engineers, including five from the research laboratories, will join a scientific manpower pool at Oak Ridge, Tenn., to work on peacetime applications of atomic power.

The engineers will carry on research at an institute of nuclear studies which is being established as a "super-university of the atomic age" to provide channels for cooperative research between governments.

All are on a one-year loan. The Institute of nuclear studies is sponsored by a group of southern universities and will carry out research at the Ph. D. level and above in the field of physics, chemistry, biology, medicine and engineering.

FIRST PLANE RIDE THRILLS WOMAN, 80

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—At 80, Mrs. Anna Hartman of Pittsburgh thinks there is nothing like a good airplane ride.

The gray-haired grandmother of 55 children took her first plane ride recently on her 82nd wedding anniversary.

Reciprocal Trade In Glamour Business Now

Prime purpose of Lucie's first visit to the United States and, especially, to Hollywood, was to arrange for an exchange of half a dozen American beauties—the kind on two lovely steamers each—on a British prettiest models on a glamor lend-lease deal.

The English girls will arrive in America in September to display their wardrobes of exportable British styles, and the American girls—probably Goldenwyn girls—at the same time will visit England to display women's wear from the States.

As it stands today, England will get the better part of the deal. Lucie came right out and said: "We've had no cosmetics and

Has Success With Gardenias

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—Eleven years ago George Kosak, a Pittsburgh street car conductor, bought a gardenia plant because the fragrance of the flower attracted him.

Today he has developed the single plant into more than 200 and expects to double that within the next few years.

Kosak said the secret of his success with the southern flower is plenty of fresh air and sunshine. He said most people think a gardenia is a house plant, but experiments showed it did better on the outside just like any other flower.

During the winter months the plant lives indoors, but comes spring and it moves into a tent in the back yard. It drinks a lot of water, Kosak said, and every so often has a soap and water bath.

AMERICAN GIRL TAKES OWN LIFE IN GERMAN CITY

FRANKFURT, July 26.—(INS)—U. S. army headquarters revealed Thursday that Katherine F. Cline, 31, of Baltimore, Md., committed suicide in Frankfurt last Tuesday.

Miss Cline was said to have been a war department employee who performed duties of a clerk-typist in the office of the political advisor of Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, American commander in Europe.

Miss Cline's body was found by her roommate in the gas-filled kitchen of their barracks. She had left a note addressed to her sister, Mrs. Charles A. Schweiger of Baltimore.

The note indicated Miss Cline's intention to commit suicide, but gave no reason for the act.

Other Republics May Accept New Bolivian Regime

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Reports from Bolivia on the character of the civilian Junta which recently seized power developed the belief in Washington Thursday that it will soon be recognized by the other American republics.

A State Department spokesman declined to comment on whether the United States viewed the new regime as acceptable. He said that no move to institute consultations with the other governments had yet been instituted.

However, he conceded, that the United States would not necessarily take the leadership in such a move. Ecuador and Uruguay had hitherto been mentioned as countries that might start the talks.

The La Paz government has committed itself to various obligations necessary for recognition.

MORE TELEPHONE CALLS THAN EVER BEFORE

Every day, over the entire Bell System, people are making 20,000,000 more telephone calls than they made a year ago — not 20,000,000 all together, but 20,000,000 more!

Their calls are longer, too.

The same thing is going on in Pennsylvania . . . thousands more local and out-of-town calls every day.

These calls are longer, too.

What we need in Pennsylvania

To take this upsurge of calls in our stride—to provide the high quality of service that you expect and that we want to provide—we need a tremendous quantity of equipment and facilities that we don't have.

We need equipment for 247 dial office additions and 297 manual office additions.

We need 43 new buildings, and enlargements to 20 of our present buildings.

We need thousands of telephone instruments, miles and miles of cable and wire, vast quantities of a countless variety of tools and other equipment.

Why don't we have them?

For precisely the same reason that you don't have all the butter and clothes and automobiles and other things you want.

Western Electric, supplier for the Bell System, is hard pressed for essential materials . . . for lead and copper and brass and textiles and steel and lumber.

Shortages of these basic materials—the stuff that telephone equipment is made of—make the going tough. They make it exasperating, too, for they are shortages completely beyond Western Electric's control.

Even so, Western Electric is doing wonders with what it gets, and is scouring the four corners of the globe for what it needs. And it won't be long before the trickle of supplies becomes a steady flow, and the steady flow a flood.

What we're doing

Meanwhile, if we may say so, we're doing a few wonders ourselves.

We're overloading our equipment, where necessary, far beyond the capacity that was planned for it when it was installed.

We're improvising wherever we can, using temporary short-cuts in construction and temporary facilities which will be replaced with permanent additions as soon as conditions permit.

We're using every line and every piece of equipment we have to provide some service to as many people as possible, even though we know full well that this means service not quite so good as we'd like to provide.

"In spite of . . ."

In short, we're doing the best that can be done under the circumstances . . . in spite of material shortages which are becoming increasingly acute . . . in spite of a supply situation which has become progressively worse instead of better . . . in spite of a plague of other reasons quite beyond our control.

We don't like to work "in spite of" anything. We like to work unhindered and unhampered. We want to complete our job. We want to be able to say to anyone who wants telephone service anywhere in the territory we serve: "You bet. Here's the service you want and it's the finest service in the world, bar none."

We will, too. Make up your mind to that.

War Department Announces Plan To Recall Officers

More Than Thousand National Guard And Reserve Officers To Be Recalled

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—The war department announced plans today for recalling to active duty more than one thousand National Guard and reserve officers because of acute personnel shortages.

The department said that it prefers to fill vacancies with volunteers but made clear that the army is authorized to recall officers to active duty without their consent during an emergency.

The announcement said that accordingly, officer personnel quotas have been increased to meet the needs of each of the branches of service whose personnel problems have been made acute by the demobilization of the army.

Some 1,125 officers to be recalled will be assigned as follows: one thousand will serve the civil affairs division, 40 with the intelligence division, 35 with the foreign liquidation commission and 50 with the finance department.

This quota increase and previous authorizations make a total of 7,589 vacancies available to officers who have gone on inactive duty or terminal leave but who desire further active duty. Indications are that this number may be increased in the near future.

The department disclosed that it has overseas assignments in mind for officers returning to active duty. The announcement said that "recall to active duty does not necessarily mean the officer will immediately be assigned overseas."

Cargo 'Gliders' Are Much In Demand

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—(INS)—A lot of Pennsylvanians are displaying "plane ingenuity" in the matter of purchasing 1000 surplus cargo gliders from the War Assets Administration.

At least, Frank L. McNamee, regional director of the WAA, said today a flood of buyers for the gliders began immediately after announcement of the sale beginning August 15.

The "plane ingenuity" came in, however, when McNamee discovered it isn't the gliders the potential buyers are after.

It seems the gliders are in sections and come five crates per glider. The crates are made of those rare two-by-fours, hard to get and expensive at lumber yards.

So, McNamee said, most of the certified buyers will punk down $75 for each glider, throw the glider away and keep the crates.

Most of the crates, he said, will end up as chicken coops, garages, trailer homes, roadside stands or playhouses.

According to a certain authority there are about 10 total eclipses of the sun in every 18 years. At any one place a total eclipse of the sun is visible on the average of once in about 260 years, and there is no uniformity of interval in either case.

Atlantic City In Battle Over Showing 'Outlaw'

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 26.—(INS)—Outlawing of "The Outlaw," the allegedly torrid Jane Russell film, by Atlantic City officials today was creating something of a furor in the resort community.

The film is scheduled to open on Sunday with a personal appearance by Miss Russell. Resort authorities say it won't open, but George Hamid, owner of the Steel Pier where the showing is scheduled, claims it will go on despite the city's action.

If Hamid disobeys the ban, Mayor Joseph Altman said the city would take recourse to an ordinance providing punishment for immoral and indecent performances.

British-Canada Wheat Contract Strike Threatened

OTTAWA, July 26.—(INS)—The 24-hour-old wheat contract signed by the dominion government and Great Britain was threatened today by a non-delivery strike of Canadian farmers who charged the prices were too low.

Carl Stimpfle, president of the Alberta Farmers Union, wired the dominion government most of his 20,000 members favor a strike if their demands are not met.

Stimpfle said the farmers demand $1.55 a bushel for their wheat for five years. The contract calls for a price of $1.55 for the first two years and minimum prices of $1.25 and $1 for the third and fourth years respectively.

Around 150 guests met in the newly constructed barn on the farm of Mrs. Mary Gilliland and son, James Speers, on Wednesday evening for an old-fashioned barn dance. Visiting and dancing were the evening pastimes.

Mrs. James Osborne, Mrs. Paul Osborne and daughter, Eleanor, attended the missionary and Happy Hour outing, which was enjoyed on the lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Beerbower on the New Castle road Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. P. A. Hoagland has returned home after spending several days visiting at the home of her niece, Mrs. Earl Blake.

Mrs. Clarence Humphrey, Mrs. Elmer Humphrey and George Bruner were visitors in West Middlesex Friday.

Mrs. Marvin Hoagland of Grove City and niece, Mrs. Max Donnell and son, of Greenville, R. D., were Saturday afternoon guests at the home of Mrs. Donnell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Yarnall.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pyle of Youngstown spent Friday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pyle.

Mr. and Mrs. James Courtney of Findley were supper guests at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Anderson.

Mrs. J. A. Dodds, daughter, Alice and son, Ellis, were Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of the former's niece, Mrs. Howard McGrath and family of West Middlesex.

Miss Eleanor Osborne attended the Mt. Pleasant 4-H club meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Paul Steingrabe and later in the evening she and her mother, Mrs. Paul Osborne, visited at the home of the latter's sister, Miss Lois Bell, of Unity.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson entertained at a picnic dinner at their home on Sunday in honor of the latter's brother, Clarence Axtell and family of California.

Mrs. Harold Osborne and daughter, Ruth Ann, spent Friday night at the home of her father, J. N. Ober, at Blacktown, attending the church picnic at the community park in Grove City on Saturday.

Elmer Pyle and daughter, Mrs. Ronald McIntyre, of Sharon, were visitors at the home of the former's brother, Howard Pyle and wife. The latter Mr. Pyle suffered a stroke in the winter.

Mrs. Joseph Bowen and son, Clyde called on J. N. Brest at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Douds, in Jefferson township Sunday afternoon. Mr. Brest recently celebrated his ninety-second birthday.

CAMOUFLAGING LONG NOSE

"My nose is long and high bridged. What can I do to make it look smaller?" asks a girl in her late twenties.

Answer: You can't make it look smaller but you can make it less obvious by resorting to camouflage.

Suggestion No. 1: Use on your nose a slightly darker shade of make-up than that used on the rest of your face.

Avoid turbans and severely tailored hats. Never wear your hair parted in the center or drawn severely back from your forehead. Part your hair on the side, build it out in a soft rather large mass or with short curly bangs or a soft front pompadour.

If you wear an up-sweep don't make it severe. Arrange your hair so that it is softly curled around your forehead to balance your nose, rather than lacquered into a stiff pompadour. A shoulder-length bob should prove becoming to you if you are young enough looking to wear it.

Shun off-the-face and small hats, except possibly those with a front bow or flowers, likewise balancing your nose. Large, brimmed hats you will find suitable, especially those with front trimming, if any.

Thus you will greatly improve your profile as well as your front view. Most important of all, do not concentrate too much on the irregularity of your nose. After trying those various camouflages, forget about its size and concentrate on your more attractive points of interest.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers including stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

FLIES AND RUBBISH

There are certain things which seem to go together. Poverty and disease, laziness and dirt, thunder and lightning, war and crime are a few of the things which seem to be inseparable.

Flies and rubbish seem to go together too. Garbage and rubbish and dirt and flies seem to attract each other.

Flies are not good company for clean people. They help to carry diseases too.

If we could get rid of flies we would be healthier and more comfortable.

One unsanitary yard can furnish enough flies to pollute a whole community. Every citizen is responsible for the comfort and well being of all the rest.

What People Say

(By International News Service)

AYOT ST. LAWRENCE, Eng.—George Bernard Shaw looks forward with misgivings to his 90th birthday celebration today. "It will be a miracle if I survive it all. No more birthdays for me, thank you."

WASHINGTON—Big Gen. Malcolm C. Grow believes animals should be sent on rocket flights to pave the way for such trips by humans. "There might come a time when it would be convenient to send a man by rocket in a great hurry to foreign countries."

RIO DE JANEIRO—Police Chief Pereira Lima, accusing Moscow of ordering two-week South American work stoppage as blow at Franco Spain. "The Red fifth column is sending its police forces into Brazil to enforce Communist orders."

CAMBRIDGE, Eng.—Sir John Anderson, head of British government committee on atomic power development, warning of other weapons just as deadly as atom bomb: "If it should prove contrary to our hopes, the nations of the world will be found bent on reacting on a grandiose scale the tragedy of the Kilkenny cats."

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—A critical shortage of raw sugar will close down the McCahan sugar refinery in South Philadelphia on August 8.

Woman Killed In Auto-Truck Crash

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—(INS)—Police reported today that a Jeanette, Pa., woman was killed and two other persons were hurt in a truck-auto crash on state route 18 near Wellington, O.

Dead was Mrs. Anna Mae 79. Her son, John Mae 55 of LaMesa, Cal., incurred a fractured skull and his wife, Mae, 50, a fractured leg.

Three other occupants of the car and the truck driver, Harry Schmidt, 45, of Woodville, O., were uninjured.

CHESTER—Dudley Erb would like to rid his chicken coop of a vagabonding pigeon, not because the bird eats feed put out for the fowl but to quiet the hunting instincts of his pointer.

SUGAR REFINERY WILL CLOSE DOWN

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—(INS)—A critical shortage of raw sugar will close down the McCahan sugar refinery in South Philadelphia on August 8.

This was announced today by Paul P. Wehrle, manager of the plant which employs 650 workers.

Meanwhile, two other major refineries in the Philadelphia area—the Pennsylvania Sugar Co., with 1100 employees, and the Franklin Sugar Refining Co., with 750 workers—will continue to operate.

Wehrle said the amount of raw sugar assigned to the McCahan Refinery by the government was insufficient to assure regular employment and stabilized melting schedules.

Full Evaluation Of Atomic Bomb Tests Takes Time

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

KWAJALEIN, July 26.—First phases of the Pacific atomic bomb tests ended without apparent mishap to the nearly 42,000 Americans participating in the detonation of two of the world's mightiest weapons.

Full evaluation of these two blasts must necessarily await further examination of the target area in both atomic explosions and it may well be weeks before the entire data which adds up to today's massive sub-surface blast can be tabulated.

But even as the mists of the detonation began to clear over Bikini Island, operation crossroads leaders are inclined to regard the tests in the light of what definitely has been achieved rather than what might have been achieved.

Far Reaching Implications
First and foremost they believe the far reaching implications and scientific calculations which provided the whole guide to crossroads have been sweeping vindicated.

Their estimates, based on an analysis of the problem solving, was done by scientists and the armed forces and their chief in operation crossroads feel the scientists have proven both their case and their national defense value beyond any shadow of a doubt.

Secondly, they believe the complete secrecy which has surrounded the weapons itself—not only in its transportation from the U. S. to Bikini but in every phase of its assembly and delivery—gives a reasonable guarantee of the secret remaining America's, at least for some months to come.

There has been nothing at Kwajalein to indicate any leakage in regarding all vital secrets of the destructive force for national defense beyond an ineffectual attempt to seize some valuable practice photographs.

Details Remain Top-Secret
The mere fact that details of the bomb remain top-secret and that operational elements of it have completely escaped subsequent detection during the Pacific operation is held of major importance in the protection of this key American defensive weapon.

Thirdly, it is believed the safety factor, twice dramatically proved in Pacific atoll experiments, has been of paramount importance.

For while the general public has known of the safety only as it was applied to the detonation itself, particulars both on Kwajalein and at Bikini have been repeatedly exposed to the potential of the bomb without damage.

There were noted cases of atomic bombs both times at Kwajalein in the hours just before the overwater test and at Bikini during the several days which the bomb was being prepared for the second test.

Reflected monitors and safety experts self-administered "probe overboard" to take maximum rather than minimum protection, even to the evacuation of islands with the most remote likelihood of being affected.

But this precautionary emphasis has paid dividends, as illustrated and codified in the fact that there is no instance of injury or damage to installations other than those intended for casualties and damage.

Inaccurate Drop Affected Result Of A-Bomb Blast

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—
Sen. Hart (R) Conn., wartime Asiatic fleet commander, charged Thursday in the senate that the first atomic bomb experiment at Bikini was adversely affected when the army air corps exploded the bomb
"several hundreds yards off-center."

Hart said the army air corps was given a part in the experiment because it "insisted on being in the show—could not be left out and thus miss the chance for publicity."

The former admiral said there was no need for army participation.
He continued:

"The proper method, the way to insure that the explosion would be right where it was wanted, would have been to suspend the bomb from an anchored kite balloon. That method would have been sure, would have eliminated great difficulties in the timing of the entire operation and made it simpler and cheaper all around."

"Those facts are so evident that anyone would ask—why didn't the army use a kite balloon? The answer is just as evident and is that the army air corps insisted on being in the show—could not be left out and thus miss the chance for publicity."

Man Has Close Call From Death On R. R. Trestle

CLEVELAND, O., July 26.—(INS)—William W. Taylor, 66, of Chicago, faced a trespassing charge today after he narrowly escaped death from an onrushing train on the Nickel Plate trestle across the Cuyahoga river in Cleveland.

Last night Taylor, a "knight of the road", was on his way back to Chicago from Youngstown, O. He was walking across the trestle when the train overtook him midway between two safety platforms.

Unable to make the perilous open jump between the two tracks, Taylor hastily lowered himself over the edge of the projecting rail ties and held on with the tips of his toes barely touching an I-beam part of the bridge structure.

When the train went by, Taylor was unable to get back on the tracks since his head was practically under the ties. For 90 minutes he held on and yelled for help. Finally a watchman under the trestle heard his cries and called police.

While the police and firemen

yelled encouraging words to Taylor, a towering fire ladder was raised and the worn-out man was extricated from his dangerous perch.

Police took him to central station, where the trespassing charge was lodged against him.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—Musician Victor Plushkat, of Pittsburgh, isn't one to allow a bolt of lightning keep him from his work.

Plushkat suffered severe burns of the arms Wednesday night when struck by lightning.

Last night he returned to his seat as first French horn player with the orchestra of the Pittsburgh Civic Opera Association.

BUILDING PERMITS

Howard E. Montgomery, 923 Beckford street, received a city permit to build a concrete block garage at his residence yesterday. Other permits issued were for William White, frame building addition, 1213 Randolph street, and John A. Robinson, rear porch, 205 East Cherry street.

DRIVER IS HELD

Albert Kalainen, New Castle, R. D. 1, was arrested last night by Lieut. Suber and Policeman Price. He was in his car when arrested and according to police will be charged today with driving an auto while under the influence of intoxicants.

Mahgi Club Enjoys Wiener Roast Party

At the Shaffer cottage near East Brook, members of the Mahgi club gathered on Wednesday evening. The occasion took the form of a wiener roast. Mrs. Dorothy Shaffer was hostess.

The next meeting of the group will be in the home of Mrs. Ruth Carpenter of West Cherry street.

INJURED SISTER IMPROVING

Mrs. J. B. Bumbaugh of Sixth street has received word from her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Choen of Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh, saying she is improving nicely. Mrs. Choen suffered a gash in her head a week ago when struck by an overhead garage door on her place. She is receiving medical attention. Mrs. Choen is a former resident of this city and expected to visit with her sister here this week.

RECOVERING NICELY

Billy, young son of Mrs. Delphia Metlin of 207 South Cedar street, has been returned to his home from the New Castle hospital, and is recovering nicely. Almost four weeks ago, he suffered a double fracture of his leg, when struck by an automobile on South Liberty street. His leg is still in a cast.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

It is reported that Mrs. Frances Unangst of 617 West Madison avenue is getting along as well as can be expected at the New Castle hospital. Mrs. Unangst underwent a major operation on Thursday morning.

Coal Industry Safety Code To Be Effective Soon

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Coal mines administrator Ben Moreell today ordered the first industry-wide safety code in the history of the nation's bituminous mines into effect next Monday in the government-seized pits.

The interior department announcement on the code described it as "a milestone on the road that leads to making American mines the safest in the world."

There are more than 300 separate standards in the new code covering safety in timbering, blasting, explosives, ventilation, coal dust hazards, transportation, electrical appliances, protective clothing and many other phases of coal mine operation.

Provision for the safety regulation was contained in the agreement signed last May 29 between Interior Secretary J. A. Krug and United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis ending a prolonged nationwide coal strike.

During the negotiations with soft coal operators, Lewis bitterly condemned what he termed the industry's "slaughter" of mine workers and demanded a new safety code coupled with a multi-million dollar health and welfare fund for his 400,000 miners.

The code was formulated by Dr. R. R. Sayers, director of the federal bureau of mines, with the assistance of union and operators representatives. It will remain in effect as long as the government is operating the mines.

J. Garfield Davis Named Chairman For Registration

Brown maintains that he can reach every point in his territory of Northern Colorado and Wyoming quickly and inexpensively.

Australian Bride Of Captain Carson Arrives In City

Mrs. Colleen Carson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Henney, of Duaringa, Australia, has arrived at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carson of Norwood avenue, after a trip from her homeland aboard the S. S. Monterey.

The young war bride's husband, Captain Robert Carson, is stationed in Japan with the largest ordnance battalion in that country. Mrs. Carson will remain here until Capt. Carson returns, unless further arrangements are made for her to go to Japan.

So far, she "loves America". The Australian girl has found the American people unusually friendly and willing to help her, and she received the finest cooperation and assistance from the Red Cross.

Captain and Mrs. Carson were married in the Campbell street Methodist church in Duaringa on January 8 of this year.

Deerfield, Mass., was burned by the French Indians in 1704. The inhabitants were either killed or carried away as prisoners.

More Officers Are Named For Guard

Additional appointments of officer personnel for the local battalion of the Pennsylvania National Guard were announced from Harrisburg today. First Lieutenant Fred S. Kuttisch of 419 Waldo street is named the pilot for the 229th Field Artillery Battalion, First Lieutenant Roderick T. Edwards of Enon Valley R. D. 2, is name assistant S-3 (operations) and Warrant Officer (jg) Walter C. Szymkowitz of 528

Waldo street is named assistant supply officer for the service battery. Enlistments are proceeding in fair shape it is said but there must be a spurt in them if the rosters of the various units are to be filled.

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—Two and three-year first enlistment "hitches" today were discontinued according to the navy recruiting office in Pittsburgh.

A navy announcement stated that with few exceptions the "hitch" will be for four or six years. Exceptions are: 17-year-olds who may sign up until their twenty-first birthday; certain specialist ratings, and former navy personnel with more than one year's service.

FATAL SPILL FOR MIDGET AUTO RACER

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—(INS)—A 29-year-old midget auto racer was dead today following a fatal spill during a Philadelphia race. The dead driver was Harry (Tom) Collins of Norristown, Pa., father of four children. His vehicle overturned twice and crashed into a fence after side-swiping another racer. The tragedy occurred at Yellow Jacket stadium in North Philadelphia.

Montana has a stumpage of more than 58 billion feet of timber, of which much is the increasingly valuable white pine.

Pleased Truman May Tour States

Democratic Leaders Hail Plan Of President To Make Political Speeches

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—President Truman's announcement that he would stump some states to help the cause of Democratic candidates has been hailed as good news by Pennsylvania Democratic leaders. Top Democratic chiefs were planning to ask the nation's chief executive to come into the Keystone state for a whirlwind tour. It was anticipated that leaders would request President Truman to speak at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

The possibility that James Roosevelt may be a leading contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1948 has been advanced by Democrats of the State Capitol city. The former Marine Corps Colonel and eldest son of the late president was catapulted into the national political limelight by capturing the state chairmanship of the California state central committee during a recent convention in Sacramento. A few Democratic workers have emphasized that Roosevelt's political stock was rising and that "He's a man to watch in 1948."

One of the traits of Gov. Edward Martin which never fails to impress persons meeting the chief executive is his courteousness. Governor Martin, a retired army major-general and veteran of five wars, has been described by one veteran capitalist hill newspaper as "the most courteous high public official I have ever met." The governor has since his inauguration more than three and one-half years ago, demanded that state employees treat the public with courtesy and respect.

The political future of L. Gov. John C. Bell, Jr. has been the subject of much conversation at the state house. Bell, who had been regarded as a strong contender for the Republican gubernatorial nomination earlier in the year, threw his support behind James H. Duff when the attorney general was selected by leaders of the G. O. P. organization's standard-bearer. It was expected that Bell would be offered the attorney general's post if Duff is elected. Bell was secretary of banking under former Governor Arthur H. James.

The state planning board has released statistics showing that in 1944 the federal government employed 200,000 workers in Pennsylvania compared with 120,000 employees for the state and local governments, excluding schools. In other words, 61 per cent of all government employees in Pennsylvania excluding school teachers and superintendents, were federal employees and only 39 per cent were in the employ of the state, its cities, counties and townships for all the functions of government, the board reported.

Pennsylvania's housing situation, already a red hot issue of the fall campaign, was expected by some political leaders to arouse a storm of controversy when the General Assembly convenes in January. Many officials have expressed be-

Hot Weather No Plague To Bears From Canada Wilds

READING, July 26.—(INS)—You may think it peculiar these days that there are two characters in Reading who take this weather in stride without a grunt.

And, as a matter of fact, they're wearing fur coats.

But before coming up with proposals to ease them into the snake pit—it might be well to point out that the subjects are Canadian black bears—Fuzzy and Wuzzy.

They are owned by Samuel Smith, who keeps them in a cage in the rear of his garage.

And speaking of Fuzzy and Wuzzy, Smith says they don't mind the heat any more than they would in their Canadian habitat.

Only fourteen months old, the brother and sister each fill the scales at 140 pounds.

The bears were raised on a diet of vegetables, fruits, bread and milk.

They consume six quarts of milk daily—and with prices what they are today, brother, that ain't hay.

In their natural state, Canadian black bears aren't dangerous—except when attacked.

But with Fuzzy and Wuzzy growing fatter and heavier each day, there's little possibility of anybody in Reading choosing to annoy them.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—Rep. Taber (R., N. Y.) declared on Thursday the object of a Republican minority in the house of representatives will result in balancing the budget and providing a surplus for reduction of the national debt.

Taber, speaking before the appropriations committee, declared in a house speech.

"It is the policy of the Democratic party," he said, "to become the plaintiff servant of federal bureaucrats to promise much needed reductions in government spending."

"It will be the definite purpose of Republicans of the appropriations committee and in charge of the legislative machinery to dismantle this vast government machine built up by the New Deal in the 30's and expanded during the war years."

FUEL COSTS NOT INCLUDED IN PRICE PAID FOR PRODUCTS
WILKES-BARRE, July 26.—(INS)—Whenever you buy a manufactured product you're paying virtually nothing for the cost of the fuel used in its manufacture.

Testimony given to the Federal Power Commission by the National Coal Association shows that the cost of fuel at most plants averages only 1 per cent of the total retail value of their products.

USES Parleys Aimed To Assist Handicapped Vets
ALTOONA, Pa., July 26.—(INS)—The United States Employment Service has been holding training conferences in an effort to place handicapped veterans in the proper jobs, according to L. P. Shaffer, U. S. E. S. district manager.

A recent conference was held in Altoona at which time delegates from U. S. E. S. Western Pennsylvania offices studied scientific methods for analyzing physical requirements of a specific job and the physical capabilities of a handicapped veteran. Thomas V. Hayes, manager of the Johnstown U. S. E. S. office, said:

"The philosophy of the employment service is that the handicapped

Shaw Observes 90th Birthday

Routine Of Other Days Is Followed By Author On Anniversary

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

AYOT ST. LAWRENCE, England, July 26.—Authors, playwrights, actors and the reading public throughout the world thought of George Bernard Shaw on his 90th birthday today, but in his own home: "No one mentioned his birthday. No one dares to, in this house," a companion said.

Shaw Unexcited
Shaw simply refused to become excited over the event. He rose at 8:30, as usual, bathed in green-tinted bathwater, had his vegetarian breakfast and read through the newspaper.

Then, while this hamlet was just bursting with reporters of the world's press, Shaw set about his routine activities. He continued to work on winding up his affairs, because he says he wants to leave his estate orderly when his time comes.

Quite suddenly his Rolls Royce appeared at his door and Shaw hurried out to it. He was dressed in a wide-brimmed gray hat and a flowing raincoat, and carried a cane. As reporters gathered about him he merely said:

"You're Too Late"
"You're too late, it's all over now." Then to his ancient chauffeur Shaw chuckled and added: "That's an interview—that was." And the car sped off in a rising cloud of dust, doing sixty.

It was understood that Shaw was off to London to meet the lord mayor of Dublin for the signing of papers in connection with his property in Ireland.

Meanwhile, an avalanche of messages for the playwright arrived at his home throughout the day. A group of Soviet writers, for instance, sent greetings addressed to "The Great Author Who Is Scourging Evil and Injustice."

Shaw's reaction to the attention paid him was typical. He said: "If I survive today I can survive anything. . . other people seem to be planning my birthday. I'm doing what I can to escape it."

Warns Italians Stern Measures To Halt Disorder

ROME, July 26.—(INS)—Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi warned Leftist members of his government today he is prepared to use strong-arm methods to check any attempt to disturb internal peace.

De Gasperi appealed at the same time for Communists to respect "a Republican truce" to allow the government to fulfill its promises. He declared:

"A truce means the salvation of democracy and the republic. Disorders mean a coming dictatorship. We are in the same position which in 1921 paved the way for the advent of Fascism."

The premier's remarks followed the first Leftist assault on his government—an attack that was rebuffed by the constituent assembly when it approved De Gasperi's domestic policies by a vote of 388 to 53.

His foreign policy received unanimous endorsement.

BURGULARS STEAL LIQUOR AND CASH

Several places were burglarized last night according to police who were told that liquor was taken from one place and cash from another. Three cases of beer and eight cases of whiskey was stolen from Riverside Inn, West Grant street and $45.60 was stolen from the Badger store, Hutchman and Walnut streets.

BITTEN BY CAT
Small son of A. W. White, 111 South Mulberry street, was bitten while holding a stray cat yesterday. The wound on his finger was treated by a doctor and the police have confined the cat for observation.

New Proposal Recommended For Rule Of Palestine

LONDON, July 26.—(INS)—A special Anglo-American committee was understood today to have recommended that Palestine be tri-acted with the Jews, Arabs and the British splitting control.

Britain would remain the mandatory power and therefore retain broad, overall control.

Authoritative sources said the Jews would receive a small section, roughly 1,500 square miles. This territory would be selected with an eye to adaptability by immigrants as an agricultural development.

It was understood that the American members of the committee insisted that 100 thousand Jews be admitted immediately into Palestine under terms of this partition proposal.

The British would set up a central government to rule larger centers of mixed Arab-Jewish population, such as the cities of Jerusalem and Bethlehem.

The Arabs would receive the remainder.

'Model Citizen' Held As Fugitive

CLEARFIELD, Pa., July 26.—(INS)—Richard J. Little, a model citizen and tavern keeper of Norristown, today was in the Clearfield county jail awaiting arraignment as a fugitive.

Sheriff William H. Shaw said that the 41-year-old tavern proprietor escaped from the custody of the sheriff 13 years ago while being transferred from the court house to the jail where he had been sentenced from nine to 18 months on a charge of breaking and entering.

FINGER SMASHED WHILE ERECTING HOUSE TRAILER
John Secumb, Steubenville, O., who is connected with the horse show in Wampum, was injured Thursday evening, while trying to erect his house trailer.

In some manner, a load of bricks fell during the work, smashing the third finger of his left hand, of which amputation of the finger tip was necessary in the New Castle hospital. He is getting along nicely this morning.

Castlewood Girl To Farewell Sunday

Miss Charlotte Galvin, Missionary To China, Will Sail To The East On August 23

Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, members and friends of the Castlewood Alliance Gospel Tabernacle at Castlewood will listen to the final address of Miss Charlotte Galvin, member of the church, who is a missionary to China, and now returning to that field for another term of service.

Miss Galvin who has spent the past months of her furlough speaking on a number of missionary tours throughout the United States, will be leaving this area in a few days and go to the West Coast, where she will board a ship sailing for China on August 23.

The returning missionary saw much of the war between Japan and China, and was in many of the bombings that occurred in the field where she was laboring.

War Department Announces Plan To Recall Officers

More Than Thousand National Guard And Reserve Officers To Be Recalled

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—The war department announced today that it plans to recall to active duty more than one thousand National Guard and reserve officers because of acute personnel shortages.

The department said that it prefers to fill vacancies with volunteers but made clear that the army is authorized to recall officers in active duty without their consent during an emergency.

The announcement said that accordingly, officer personnel quotas have been increased to meet the needs of each of the branches of service whose personnel problems have been made acute by the demobilization of the army.

Some 1,125 officers to be recalled will be assigned as follows: one thousand will serve the civil affairs division, 40 with the intelligence division, 35 with the foreign liquidation commission and 50 with the finance department.

This quota increase and previous authorizations make a total of 7,539 vacancies available to officers who have gone on inactive duty or terminal leave but who desire further active duty. Indications are that this number may be increased in the near future.

The department disclosed that it has overseas assignments in mind for officers returning to active duty. The announcement said that "recall to active duty does not necessarily mean the officer will immediately be assigned overseas."

Cargo 'Gliders' Are Much In Demand

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—(INS)—A lot of Pennsylvania are playing "plane ingenuity" in the matter of purchasing 1000 surplus cargo gliders from the War Assets Administration.

At least, Frank L. McNamee, regional director of the WAA, said today a flood of buyers for the gliders began immediately after announcement of the sale beginning August 15.

The "plane ingenuity" came in, however, when McNamee discovered it isn't the gliders the potential buyers are after.

It seems the gliders are in sections and come five crates per glider. The crates are made of those rare two-by-fours, hard to get and expensive at lumber yards.

So, McNamee said, most of the certified buyers will pump down $75 for each glider, throw the glider away and keep the crates.

Most of the crates, he said, will end up as chicken coops, garages, tool-houses, roadside stands or playhouses.

According to a certain authority, there are about 10 total eclipses of the sun in every 18 years. At any one place a total eclipse of the sun is visible on the average of once in about 250 years, and there is no uniformity of interval in either case.

Atlantic City In Battle Over Showing 'Outlaw'

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 26.—(INS)—Outlawing of "The Outlaw," the allegedly torrid Jane Russell film, by Atlantic City officials today was creating something of a furor in the resort community.

The film is scheduled to open on Sunday with a personal appearance by Miss Russell. Resort authorities say it won't open, but George Hamid, owner of the Steel Pier where the showing is scheduled, claims it will go on despite the city's action.

If Hamid disobeys the ban, Mayor Joseph Altman said the city would take recourse to an ordinance providing punishment for immoral and indecent performances.

British-Canada Wheat Contract Strike Threatened

OTTAWA, July 26.—(INS)—The 24-hour-old wheat contract signed by the dominion government and Great Britain was threatened today by a non-delivery strike of Canadian farmers who charged the prices were too low.

Carl Stimpfle, president of the Alberta Farmers Union, warned the dominion government most of his 20,000 members favor a strike if their demands are not met.

Stimpfle said the farmers demand $1.55 a bushel for their wheat for five years. The contract calls for a price of $1.55 for the first two years and minimum prices of $1.25 and $1 for the third and fourth years respectively.

CAMOUFLAGING LONG NOSE

"My nose is long and high bridged. What can I do to make it look smaller?" asks a girl in her late twenties.

Answer: You can't make it look smaller but you can make it less obvious by restoring to camouflage.

Suggestion No. 1: Use on your nose a slightly darker shade of make-up than that used on the rest of your face.

Avoid turbans and severely tailored hats. Never wear your hair parted in the center or drawn severely back from your forehead. Part your hair on the side, build it out in a soft rather large mass or with short curly bangs or a soft front pompadour.

If you wear an up-sweep don't make it severe. Arrange your hair so that it is softly curled around your forehead to balance your nose rather than lequered into a stiff pompadour. A shoulder-length bob should prove becoming to you if you are young enough looking to wear it.

Shun off-the-face and small hats, except possibly those with a front bow or flowers, likewise balancing your nose. Large, brimmed hats you will find suitable, especially those with front trimming, if any.

Thus you will greatly improve your profile as well as your point of view. Most important of all, do not concentrate too much on the irregularity of your nose. After trying these various camouflages, forget about its size and concentrate on your more attractive points of interest.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly and personally reply to questions from readers' magazines, stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

FLIES AND RUBBISH

There are certain things which seem to go together. Poverty and disease, laziness and dirt, thunder and lightning, war and crime are a few of the things which seem to be inseparable.

Flies and rubbish seem to go together too. Garbage and rubbish and dirt and flies seem to attract each other.

Flies are not good company for clean people. They help to carry diseases too.

If we could get rid of flies we would be healthier and more comfortable.

One insanitary yard can furnish enough flies to pollute a whole community.

Every citizen is responsible for the comfort and well being of all the rest.

Garsson And Other Officers Resign Posts

CHICAGO, July 26.—(INS)—Dr. Henry M. Garsson, whose Garsson munitions combine is under investigation by a senate committee in Washington, today was no longer connected with the Batavia Metal Products, Inc., and subsidiaries. Garsson announced last night he has "entered into an agreement with Fred M. Schoff of Chicago, a director and representative of Rausch Industries, Inc. of Detroit, for the acquisition of my entire interest in the company."

He stated he and all other present officers and directors of Batavia Metals and subsidiaries have tendered their resignations.

New Directors Soon
It was expected that a new board of directors, with Ray R. Rausch of Detroit as president, will be elected within a few days.

Rausch was a vice president in charge of production for the Motor Co. until he resigned last January. He has been with the company 25 years.

Garsson blamed "recent publicity" for causing the sale of the highly lucrative war-time industry.

He said he was severing his relationship with the company because he felt "his usefulness to the company had been impaired by recent publicity."

St. Mary's Church Picnic On July 31

Parish Picnic Scheduled At Cascade Park As Basket Picnic—All Day Event

Wednesday evening, July 31, is the date scheduled for a parish picnic to be held by St. Mary's church, at Cascade Park.

Young and old will participate in the grove in a basket picnic supper. The shelters in the grove are reserved for the parishioners. With the G. I. Joes of the parish back home, a large turnout is anticipated.

The afternoon will feature a social time for all, and new and old friends may meet and get acquainted. The school children will assemble in the grove at 1 o'clock for a special treat.

The sports committee has planned an afternoon of events, and featuring a baseball game between rival patrols of the Boy Scout troop of the parish. The evening's entertainment is planned by Ben Taylor and his alumni committee.

Coffee will be served, free of charge, by Mrs. Josephine Baldauf and her committee.

William Gilboy is the general chairman. General committee, Rev. Fr. Francis McCarter, William Nelson, Mrs. Thomas Maher; ticket committee, Fr. Bicyclist Hurt In Fall Thursday

James Hill, aged 11 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hill, of Hillville, suffered contusions of the head and shock, when he fell from his bicycle, shortly before noon, Thursday.

He was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 12:15 o'clock where he was admitted for treatment.

SWIMMER INJURED

Alfred Beavon, aged 20 years, of 208 Hillcrest avenue, was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment at 5:30 o'clock, for treatment of injuries received when he dove into a swimming pool. Beavon struck his face on the edge of the pool, sustaining a laceration of the lower lip, and the loss of two teeth.

Nazi Defendants Squirm Uneasily As Jackson Speaks

MUERENBERG, July 26.—(INS)—United States Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson delivered his summation in the war crimes trial today before blazing lights and a winding movie camera.

The Nazi defendants settled into their seats easily and appeared calm and impassive as Jackson opened his condemnation.

But they soon began to squirm and perspire as the justice lashed them by name.

One-time Marshal Hermann Goering winced behind his dark glasses when Jackson declared he had "a pudgy finger in every pie." Later Goering turned to comment to Fritz Sauckel, former "slave-labor" chief, but an M. P. nudged him to be quiet.

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, ex-chief of the Nazi high command, muttered inaudibly when Jackson read German orders to the Wehrmacht to brutalize women and children if necessary for victory.

Former Reichsbank President Hjalmar Schacht blushed as he heard himself castigated for providing the Nazis with "the window dressing of respectability" by joining them.

Horst In Plea For Safety On Farms In State

Surveys Reveal That Little Acts Of Carelessness Cause Most Farm Accidents

HARRISBURG, July 26.—Little acts of haste or carelessness cause most farm accidents, too many of which result in serious loss of man and machine hours, run up doctor or hospital bills, and frequently bring death to farm households, says Miles Horst, state secretary of agriculture and Pennsylvania chairman for Farm Safety Week observance this week, July 21 to 27.

A short turn may upset a hay wagon, a tractor crank lever may break an arm if the thumb is on the wrong side of the handle, or a "gentle" bull, not properly handled, may start on a rampage at the least provocation, he declared in outlining some of the many causes of accidents that can easily be prevented.

According to conservative estimates, nearly one of each 100 farm accidents in Pennsylvania results in a human death. Secretary Horst asserted. About 8,000 reportable accidents occur each year in the state. Nationally, the death rate of 53 per 100,000 agricultural accidents is the fourth highest among the six major industrial groups including mining and quarrying, construction, transportation and public utilities, trade and service, and manufacturing, he added.

According to Indian legend, the Finger Lakes, New York, are the imprint left by the hand of the Great Spirit.

Man Has Close Call From Death On R. R. Trestle

CLEVELAND, O., July 26.—(INS)—William W. Taylor, 66, of Chicago, faced a trespassing charge today after he narrowly escaped death from an onrushing train on the Nickel Plate trestle across the Cuyahoga river in Cleveland.

Last night Taylor, a "knight of the road", was on his way back to Chicago from Youngstown, O. He was walking across the trestle when the train overtook him midway between two street crossings.

Unable to make the perilous open jump between the two tracks, Taylor hastily lowered himself over the edge of the projecting rail ties and held on with the tips of his toes barely touching an I-beam part of the bridge structure.

When the train went by, Taylor was unable to get back on the tracks since his head was practically under the ties. For 90 minutes he held on and yelled for help. Finally a watchman under the trestle heard his cries and called police.

While the police and firemen

yelled encouraging words to Taylor, a towering fire ladder was raised and the worn-out man was extricated from his dangerous perch.

Police took him to central station, where the trespassing charge was lodged against him.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING
PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—Musician Victor Plushkat, of Pittsburgh, isn't one to allow a bolt of lightning keep him from his work.

Plushkat suffered severe burns of the arms Wednesday night when struck by lightning.

Last night he returned to his seat as first French horn player with the orchestra of the Pittsburgh Civic Opera Association.

BUILDING PERMITS
Howard E. Montgomery, 923 Bedford street, received a city permit to build a concrete block garage at his residence yesterday. Other permits issued were to: William White, frame building addition, 1213 Randolph street, and John A. Robinson, rear porch, 265 East Cherry street.

DRIVER IS HELD
Albert Kalainen, New Castle, R. D. 1, was arrested last night by Lieut. Suber and Policeman Price. He was in his car when arrested and according to police will be charged today with driving an auto while under the influence of intoxicants.

Farewell Reception For Pastor And Wife

At the Madison Avenue Christian church members gathered in an informal manner in the social room. The occasion was a farewell reception for the pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Lynn Matlack, before going to their new pastorate at Enid, Ind.

Light refreshments were served by the committee. Miss Thelma Bumbach, Miss Ann McHattie, Miss Myrtle Jones.

On behalf of the church membership, Stewart Hunt, chairman of the official board, presented Rev. and Mrs. Matlack with a purse of money.

Columbus Society Has Ravioli Dinner

In Columbus hall, 7 South Liberty street, a ravioli dinner sponsored by the Columbus auxiliary and the sports committee was given on Wednesday evening, with about 250 present.

A grand prize was awarded to J. Snyder.

The kitchen committee was Mrs. Jane Piccetti, Mrs. Alice Conti, Mrs. Mary Munno, Mrs. Clara Coppell, Mrs. Clara Ippolito, Mrs. Rose Hainer, Mrs. Bertha Peruzzi. On behalf of the sports committee, Joe Zumpella, chairman; Tony Adamo, Bill Barto, Tony Conti, Albert Santillo, John Munno.

Sodality Group To Picnic On Sunday

Members of the Immaculate Conception Sodality of St. Lucy's church will have their picnic on Sunday afternoon, July 28, at Iloga Park, Youngstown.

The group will meet at the church at 1:30 and travel by bus to the park.

President Antoinette Melozzi announces that the members may invite a girl friend to go along, notifying her of their intention not later than Saturday.

Mahgi Club Enjoys Wiener Roast Party

At the Shafter cottage near East Brook, members of the Mahgi club gathered on Wednesday evening. The occasion took the form of a wiener roast. Mrs. Dorothy Shafter was hostess.

The next meeting of the group will be in the home of Mrs. Ruth Carpenter of West Cherry street.

INJURED SISTER IMPROVING
Mrs. J. B. Bumbach of Sixth street has received word from her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Choen of Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh, saying she is improving nicely. Mrs. Choen suffered a rash in her head a week ago when struck by an overhead garage door on her place. She is receiving medical attention. Mrs. Choen is a corner resident of this city and expected to visit with her sister here this week.

RECOVERING NICELY
Billy, young son of Miss Delphia Metha of 207 South Cedar street, has been returned to his home from the New Castle hospital, and is recovering nicely. Almost four weeks ago, he suffered a double fracture of his leg, when struck by an automobile on South Liberty street. His leg is still in a cast.

UNDERGOES OPERATION
It is reported that Mrs. Frances Unangst of 617 West Madison avenue is getting along as well as can be expected at the New Castle hospital. Mrs. Unangst underwent a major operation on Thursday morning.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ezza and family, of Montgomery avenue, and Mrs. Mary Ezza have returned from a two weeks visit with relatives in Abington, Ill.

Mrs. Teresa Ross of 225 South Cedar street has returned to her home from the New Castle hospital, where she received treatment and is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Raymond Taylor of 1606 Delaware avenue has received word from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Nancy Thayer of Bremerton, Wash., formerly of the ward, stating that Mr. and Mrs. Thayer and family are spending an enjoyable vacation at Yellowstone Park.

Third Week Of 'Y' Camp Coming To Conclusion

Boys at Camp Fred L. Reitz on the banks of the Slippery Rock are coming to the end of their week in the open and will wind up their program Saturday returning to the city Sunday.

Wednesday proved to be another active day for the campers. During the day athletics took up much of the time. In the evening the Campers were badly beaten by the Councilors in a baseball battle, with the final score 14-3. For the evening, Athletic Director Jimmy Darr, Jim Hamilton, and John K. Lunde were the best. John Gram, Tommy Shaw and Dal Matthews led the losers' attack.

Later in the evening an indoor track meet was held with the occupants of the New Castle News cabin adjudged the winners. Sam Sanfilippo and Sam Fitzgerald led the winners.

Thursday the campers welcomed the visiting team from the city in a softball game and today risk their perfect record against the boys of Shenango Street Y. M. C. A.

Of the original 13 states, New Hampshire was the only one which was not invaded by the British during the American Revolution.

YOUNGSTER BIT IN FACE BY DOG

William L. Hammerschmidt, year and a half old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hammerschmidt, of R. D. 4, was treated at the New Castle hospital, shortly after noon, Thursday, after he had been bit by a dog in the vicinity of his home.

The youngster received cut and scratches about his face. He was discharged later.

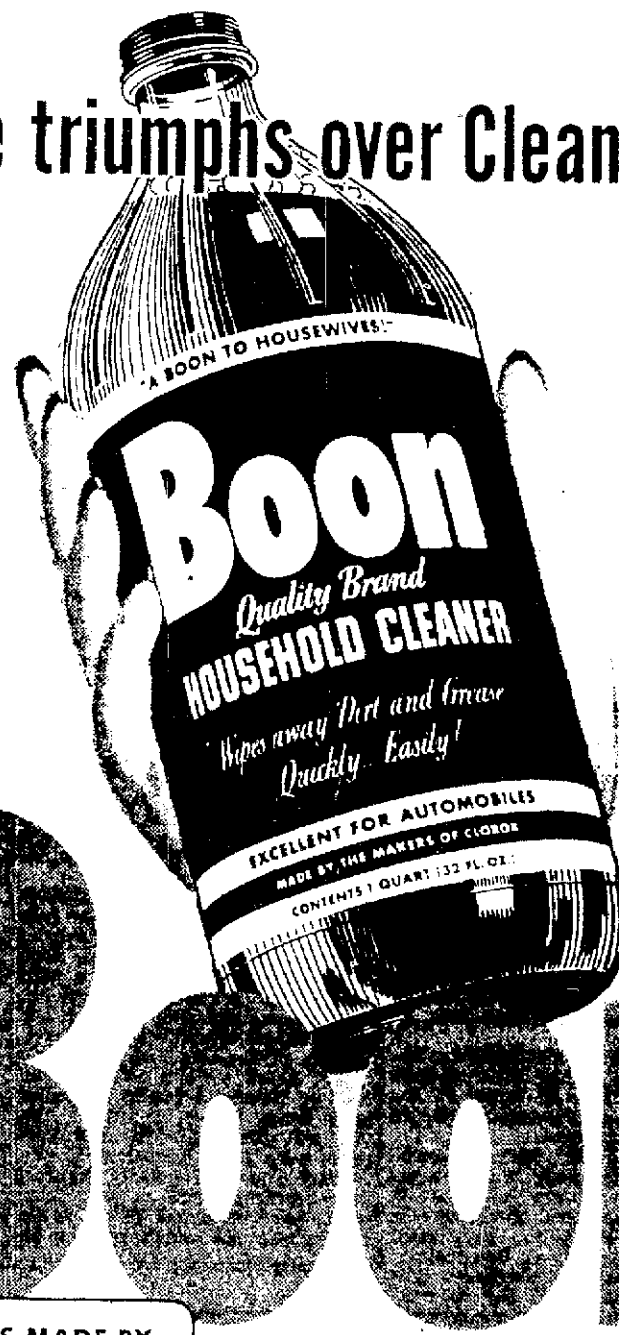

BEERLESS BEER GARDENS

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—The number of beerless beer gardens increased to 33 today as the Western Pennsylvania Brewers Association cut off the supply of five more taverns for allegedly selling to minors.

The drive, which began a month ago, is a cooperative effort by the association, police, civic and social agencies to combat juvenile delinquency.

Commission Holds Up Purses After Poor Exhibition

Deputy Montgomery Schedules Hearing For Murray And Daniels
At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—State Boxing Commissioner John W. Montgomery today was scheduled to hear two highly touted heavyweights explain what he termed last night a "very unsatisfactory performance" in Pittsburgh's Zivic arena.

Montgomery withheld the purses of Lee Q. Murray, of Baltimore, recognized as fifth-ranking heavy-weight, and Perk Daniels, of Chicago, after almost four desultory rounds of a scheduled ten round feature.

Three solid blows by Murray, after referee Mike Hogan's second warning to "get into action," were enough to drape Daniels over a lower rope for the count in 2:35 of the fourth.

Acting Commissioner Lou Shiring allegedly threatened both fighters with court action previous to the bout when they indicated that they did not want to enter the ring because of the small crowd. They appeared on a percentage basis.

Murray weighed 205, Daniels 202.

To Break From International Air Agreement

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS)—The United States Thursday served one year notice that it will withdraw from the international air transport agreement which was drawn up at the Chicago International Civil Aviation conference in 1944.

A state department spokesman pointed out that only 15 nations have adhered to the general agreement of which only two—the Netherlands and Sweden—have any plans for an extensive international airline system.

Major possible competitors such as France and Great Britain have not adhered.

Some months ago it became apparent that the United States was going to develop a system of independent international airlines and that the Chicago agreement would not work. At that time a series of bi-lateral agreements incorporating the so-called five freedoms, were entered into with major nations.

The five freedoms include privilege of flight over territory, privilege to land for non-traffic purposes, and various rights and privileges taking on and discharging passengers, mail and cargo.

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—The coroner's office reported today the suicide of Mrs. Marion Smith, 70, of Ben Avon, who leaped to her death from a cliff to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks near the Emsworth station. Relatives said the woman had been despondent since her husband became ill eight months ago.

Fordham Approves Conference Action

NEW YORK, July 26.—(INS)—Jack Coffey, Fordham university's graduate manager of athletics, on Thursday approved the action of the college conferences in their latest move against professionalism in college athletics.

Coffey said:

"I think many of the college authorities feel that there has been a strong trend toward professionalism lately. It was not so long ago that there was some talk about professionalizing in the Olympics."

"Fordham, of course, is strongly opposed to paying football players or any other athletes."

STATE OPPOSES TIDELANDS BILL BEFORE PRESIDENT

HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—The state justice department disclosed Thursday that the commonwealth is opposed to federal acquisition of tidelands proposed in a congressional measure awaiting President Truman's consideration.

The department released a statement made by Deputy Attorney General M. Vashti Burr to the U. S. Senate judiciary committee in which the commonwealth joined 46 other states opposing the measure advanced by the department of the interior.

The state has 3,180 miles of waterfront and 463,296 acres of submerged tidelands, the department reported.

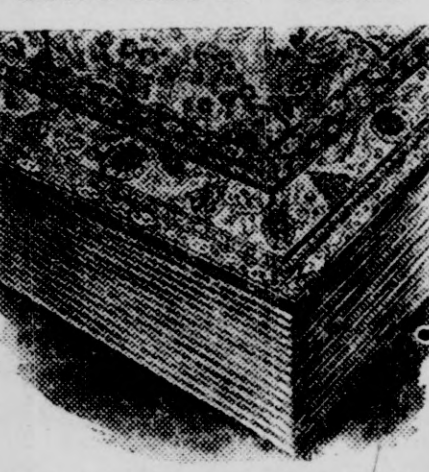

The sovereignty of states over tidelands has been upheld in 52 decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court, it was added.

PIRATES TO MEET SENATORS
HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates will meet the Harrisburg Senators of the Interstate league in an exhibition game at the capital city August 5, it was announced today at Harrisburg.

Coal Industry Safety Code To Be Effective Soon

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(INS.)—Coal mines administration, Dept. of the Interior, today announced the first industry-wide safety code in the history of the nation's bituminous mines into effect next Monday in the government-seized pits.

The interior department announcement on the code described it as "a milestone on the road that leads to making American mines the safest in the world."

There are more than 300 separate standards in the new code covering safety in tunneling, blasting, explosives, ventilation, coal dust hazards, transportation, electrical appliances, protective clothing and many other phases of coal mine operation.

Provision for the safety regulation was contained in the agreement signed last May 29 between Interior Secretary J. A. Krug and United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis ending a prolonged nationwide coal strike.

During the negotiations with soft coal operators, Lewis bitterly condemned what he termed the industry's "slaughter" of mine workers and demanded a new safety code coupled with a multi-million dollar health and welfare fund for his 400,000 miners.

The code was formulated by Dr. R. R. Savers, director of the federal bureau of mines, with the assistance of union and operators representatives. It will remain in effect as long as the government is operating the mines.

J. Garfield Davis Named Chairman For Registration

Joseph J. Yocco, of Bethlehem, state chairman of the Democratic registration campaign, today announced that J. Garfield Davis of New Castle had been named as the registration campaign chairman for Lawrence County. District chairmen will be appointed later by Mr. Davis.

College Quartet At Nazarene Church

Rev. A. H. Elsey, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, Falls at Beaver streets, announces that the Crusaders male quartet, representing the Eastern Nazarene College of Woburn, Mass., will appear in the church Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock. Appearing with the quartet will be Dr. Samuel Young, president of the college, who will speak.

Personnel of the quartet includes: Leland Davis, East Liverpool, O. baritone; George Andrews, Laurel Delaware, first tenor; Paul Andrews, Laurel, Delaware, second tenor; Richard Hawk, Johnson City, N. Y., bass.

The aggregation will also appear tomorrow evening at the Youth for Christ rally in the First Methodist church, North Jefferson street.

AERIAL SALESMAN

DENVER.—(INS.)—Denver has a salesman who travels by air. He is George B. Brown, salesman for an auto supply company, who is the only man in the state to regularly cover his sales territory by airplane. Brown maintains that he can reach every point in his territory of Northern Colorado and Wyoming quickly and inexpensively.

Australian Bride Of Captain Carson Arrives In City

Mrs. Colleen Carson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Henney, of Duaringa, Australia, has arrived at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carson of Norwood avenue, after a trip from her homeland aboard the S. S. Monterey.

The young war bride's husband, Captain Robert Carson, is stationed in Japan with the largest ordnance battalion in that country. Mrs. Carson will remain here until Capt. Carson returns, unless further arrangements are made for her to go to Japan.

So far, she "loves America". The Australian girl has found the American people unusually friendly and willing to help her, and she received the finest cooperation and assistance from the Red Cross.

Captain and Mrs. Carson were married in the Campbell street Methodist church in Duaringa on January 8 of this year.

Deerfield, Mass., was burned by the French Indians in 1704. The inhabitants were either killed or carried away as prisoners.

More Officers Are Named For Guard

Additional appointments of officer personnel for the local battalion of the Pennsylvania National Guard were announced from Harrisburg today. First Lieutenant Fred S. Kuttisch of 419 Waldo street is named the pilot for the 229th Field Artillery Battalion, First Lieutenant Roderick T. Edwards of Enon Valley R. D. 2, is named assistant S-3, (operations) and Warrant Officer (aj) Walter C. Szymkowicz of 528

Waldo street is named assistant supply officer for the service battery. Enlistments are proceeding in fair shape it is said but there must be a spurt in them if the rosters of the various units are to be filled.

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS.)—Two and three-year first enlistment "batches" today were discharged according to the navy recruiting office in Pittsburgh.

A navy announcement stated that with few exceptions the "batch" will be for four or six years. Exceptions are: 17-year-olds who may sign up until their twenty-first birthday; certain specialist ratings; and former navy personnel with more than one year's service.

FATAL SPILL FOR MIDGET AUTO RACER

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—(INS.)—A 29-year-old midget auto racer was dead today following a fatal spill during a Philadelphia race.

The dead driver was Harry "Tom" Collins of Norristown, Pa., father of four children. His vehicle overturned and crashed into a fence after sideswiping another racer.

The tragedy occurred at Yellow Jacket stadium in North Philadelphia.

Shaw Observes 90th Birthday

Routine Of Other Days Is Followed By Author On Anniversary

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

JOY ST. LAWRENCE, England, July 26.—Authors, playwrights, actors and the reading public throughout the world thought of George Bernard Shaw on his 90th birthday today, but in his own home:

"No one mentioned his birthday. No one dares to, in this house," a companion said.

Shaw, who simply refused to become excited over the event, rose at 8:30, as usual, bathed in green-tinted bathwater, had his vegetarian breakfast and read through the newspaper.

Then, while this hamlet was just bursting with reporters of the world's press, Shaw sat about his routine activities.

He continued to work on winding up his affairs, because he says he wants to leave his estate orderly when his time comes.

Quite suddenly his Rolls Royce appeared at his door and Shaw hurried out to it. He was dressed in a wide-brimmed gray hat and a flowing raincoat, and carried a cane. As reporters gathered about him he merely said:

"You're Too Late!"

"You're too late, it's all over now." Then to his ancient chauffeur Shaw chuckled and added:

"That's an interview—that was. And the car sped off in a rising cloud of dust, doing sixty."

It was understood that Shaw was off to London to meet the lord mayor of Dublin for the signing of papers in connection with his property in Ireland.

Meanwhile, an avalanche of messages for the playwright arrived at his home throughout the day.

A group of Soviet writers, for instance, sent greetings addressed to "The Great Author Who Is Scourging Evil and Injustice."

Shaw's reaction to the attention paid him was typical. He said:

"If I survive today I can survive anything. . . other people seem to be planning my birthday. I'm doing what I can to escape it."

Warns Italians Stern Measures To Halt Disorder

ROME, July 26.—(INS)—Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi warned Leftist members of his government today he is prepared to use strong-arm methods to check any attempt to disturb internal peace.

De Gasperi appealed at the same time for Communists to respect a Republican "truce" to allow the government to fulfill its promises. He declared:

"A truce means the salvation of democracy and the republic. Disorders mean a coming dictatorship. We are in the same position which in 1921 paved the way for the advent of Fascism."

The premier's remarks followed the first Leftist assault on his government—an attack that was rebuffed by the constituent assembly when it approved De Gasperi's domestic policy of July 18 to 25.

His foreign policy received unanimous endorsement.

BURGLARS STEAL LIQUOR AND CASH

Several places were burglarized last night according to police who were told that liquor was taken from one place and cash from another. Three cases of beer and eight cases of whiskey was stolen from Riverside Inn, West Grant street and $45.60 was stolen from the Badger store, Hutchman and Walnut streets.

BITTEN BY CAT

New Proposal Recommended For Rule Of Palestine

LONDON, July 26.—(INS)—A special Anglo-American committee was understood today to have recommended that Palestine be tri-sectioned with the Jews, Arabs and the British splitting control.

Britain would retain the mandatory power and therefore retain broad, overall control.

Authoritative sources said the Jews would receive a small section, roughly 1,500 square miles. This territory would be selected with an eye to adaptability by immigrants as an agricultural development.

It was understood that the American members of the committee insisted that 100 thousand Jews be admitted immediately into Palestine under terms of this partition proposal.

The British would set up a central government to rule larger centers of mixed Arab-Jewish population, such as the cities of Jerusalem and Bethlehem.

The Arabs would receive the remainder.

'Model Citizen' Held As Fugitive

CLEARFIELD, Pa., July 26.—(INS)—Richard J. Little, a model citizen and tavern keeper of Norristown today was in the Clearfield county jail awaiting arraignment as a fugitive.

Sheriff William H. Shaw said that the 41-year-old tavern proprietor escaped from the custody of the sheriff 13 years ago while being transferred from the court house to the jail where he had been sentenced from nine to 18 months on a charge of breaking and entering.

FINGER SMASHED WHILE ERECTING HOUSE TRAILER

John Secumb, Steubenville, O., who is connected with the horse show in Wampum, was injured Thursday evening, while trying to erect his house trailer.

In some manner, a load of bricks fell during the work smashing the third finger of his left hand, of which amputation of the finger tip was necessary in the New Castle hospital. He is getting along nicely this morning.

MISSING FROM HOME

Lawrence Conti, 410 Phillips street, left home yesterday, according to his father who has asked police to search for him.

Castlewood Girl To Farewell Sunday

Miss Charlotte Galvin, Missionary To China, Will Sail To The East On August 23

Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock members and friends of the Castlewood Alliance Gospel Tabernacle at Castlewood will listen to the final address of Miss Charlotte Galvin, member of the church, who is a missionary to China, and now returning to that field for another term of service.

Miss Galvin who has spent the past months of her furlough speaking on a number of missionary tours throughout the United States, will be leaving this area in a few days and go to the West Coast, where she will board a ship sailing for China on August 23.

Much of the way between Japan and China, and was in many of the bombings that occurred in the field where she was laboring.

Dodgers Increase Lead Over Cards, Red Sox Trimmed

Giants And Cards Split Twin Bill, Pirates-Phils Do Likewise

NEW YORK, July 26.—(INS)—Brooklyn's pennant stock in the National league race soared today as a result of the comeback of Hal (Rapid Rocky) Gregg, their star pitcher, who held the Cubs to seven hits yesterday and beat them, 4 to 1.

Gregg had not started a game since May 14, when he pulled a muscle in his right elbow. He has been working back into shape doing occasional relief jobs. Hand-some Hal was firing nailing the finish yesterday, but Manager Leo Durocher let him stick it out to build up his confidence.

Dodgers Increase Lead
Brooklyn now has a crack mound corps of four starting pitchers—Vic Lombardi, Hank Behrman, Joe Hatton and Gregg.

The Dodgers also boast a six-game winning streak and a lead of a game and a half over the St. Louis Cardinals, who got no better than an even break in a twin bill with New York. The Cards were lucky that they didn't lose the opener as well as the nightcap.

Red Schoendienst, first batter of the day, walloped a line drive which cracked Pitcher Voiselle on the right knee. This so unnerved Big Bill that he threw a home-run ball to Harry Walker.

Giants-Cards Divide
Mike Budnick, the real victim, then relieved Voiselle and hurled a four-hit, nine-inning shutout, only to lose a 2 to 1 decision.

Howie Pollet, the winning hurler, racked up his 18th victory of the season against only four defeats.

In the nightcap Monte Kennedy, brilliant New York rookie, held the Red Sox to three hits and beat them 6 to 1.

These Giants, who are going nowhere themselves, may cost St. Louis the pennant this season. They have trimmed the Cards 10 times in 16 games.

Pirates-Phils Split
Pittsburgh downed the Phillies, 2 to 1, but Blix Donnelly, making his first start for the Quakers, breezed to a 9 to 2 triumph over the Pirates in the second game.

Johnny Vandermeer, the original no-hit kid, led the Boston Braves to four hits in the night game and blanked them 1 to 0. It was Johnny's sixth straight win.

Red Sox Lose
Boston's lead in the American league was trimmed to 11 games when Chicago beat the Red Sox 3 to 1 while the Yankees were idle.

The White Sox are helpless against the Red Sox in Boston, but have beaten them six out of nine at Comiskey park this season.

The Cleveland Indians walloped 19 hits, their greatest total of the season, but barely nosed out the Athletics in the ninth, 9 to 8. Washington trounced Detroit, 8 to 3.

Bob Davis, Johnny Jaffurs and Alvin Campbell, all pre-war players at Penn State, will play professional football this fall.

LEATHER PUSHERS PLEASE IN 8 BOUT BOXING CARD

is a class where you can get speed and heavy punching and the two boys displayed a grade A package of both. Both had been Golden Gloves champs but only one of them could win and Sabotin was the one. This was a good feeder to the main bout, as a matter of fact these two kids could headline a lot of amateur shows.

The main bout saw two dusky gentlemen at 175 tangle, Ike Bell of Youngstown had Dick Cunningham of Cleveland as his opponent although Cunningham was a last minute substitute for Art Robey of Chicago who is in the navy and whose admiral or somebody else wouldn't give him time off for the bout.

The fans knew Bell for his pinwheel tactics, and with the memory of two other fights here expected Mister Cunningham to be in for a tough evening. Cunningham proved to be a little too much for Bell and after three rounds of punching Cunningham was declared the winner.

That's It, Brother
That's the story, if you're read this far down. It was the kind of an evening's entertainment you could go for frequently. The program was well handled, the night was ideal, the fights were good, a worthy cause was aided, and how are all your folks?

If we could scrounge a little more space we would like to toss a few adjectives at the stage dressing of the outdoor theatre. A ceiling of slate shaded clouds with a back drop of pastel fleece that changed by the second, finally deepening into a stygian black. The chair-man of the spectrum committee seemed to be having a field day in that western sky and perhaps Mayor Haven was right after all when he said the weather man was a Republican and would take care of everything. He did.

Just how much the recreation fund profited by the boxing bout is not definitely known but it was in the neighborhood of $3000 which is a right nice neighborhood to be in. Back of the success were several weeks of hard work by Clarence M. England, Ed Fritz, B. N. Hanlon, Tommy Leach and the generosity of a lot of New Castle folks. But you know that anyway.

Resume Racing At Canfield Saturday

Ray Courtney of Alliance, O., with the flying, roaring outboard No. 62, who is familiar to the fans of the Canfield midget auto races, has overcome his motor trouble and his famous little race car is back in perfect condition and will be here to challenge the flying Bonnell for top honors in the big nine event program, which will be held at the Canfield racetrack on Saturday night, July 27.

There will be a large contingent of cars and drivers, headed by Wes Seagesser from Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y., Art Hartford of Toledo, O., and Bernie Kelly of Port Clinton will also be in the field.

The program will get under way promptly at 8:45 p. m. DST with time trials starting at 7 p. m. DST.

Willie Pep Wins Battle By Kayo Bessemer Cards Ringsides Club

MINNEAPOLIS, July 26.—(INS)—It looks today as though Willie Pep, Hartford, Conn., holder of the world's featherweight boxing crown, may go on forever like the classic brook.

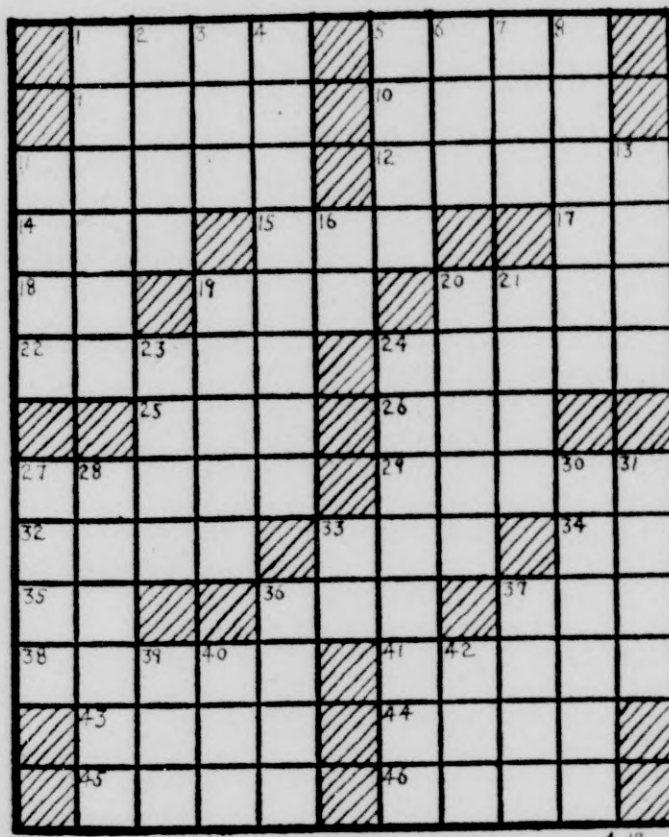

Pep added another victory to his long string last night when he knocked out Jackie Graves of Austin, Minn., in the eighth round after flooring his opponent nine times.

Coon Dog Trials Carded For Sunday

Coon hound field trials will be held Sunday by the Mercer County Coon Hunters Association at their new training ground, two miles north of Mercer which may be arrived at by following Route 19 and turning off the road where signs point to the training course.

Assault Facing Arlington Test

CHICAGO, July 26.—(INS)—Assault will jump to third place among the world's money winning horses of all time if he wins the $60,000 added Arlington classic tomorrow.

The three-year-old king from the King Ranch in Texas has already accounted for $256,970 in his two years of racing. The race tomorrow, if six start as expected, will be worth $76,850 to the winner. That loot would put Assault's life-time winning at $433,820, four thousand dollars back of Seabiscuit and still "way back of Whirlaway's booty of $561,161.

The five horses expected to face the barrier against Assault tomorrow are Lord Boswell, The Dude, With Pleasure, Sergeant Spence, and Mighty Story.

St. Louis Browns Will Go To Miami

MIAMI, Fla., July 26.—(INS)—The St. Louis Browns were officially reported today as ready to move into Miami for winter training in 1947.

City Manager A. B. Curry of Miami announced that the American league club has been granted a three-day option on Miami Field for their training site.

Curry said the option did not mean the city will not talk to any other club which might be interested. He added:

"We will not close with anybody except the Browns before Monday."

SECOND BAPTISTS WIN

Second Baptists of the church league defeated the Croton M. E. of the same loop last night by a 4-3 score.

Smith pitched four-hit ball for the winners, with McFeyn on the hill for the Methodists.

Garsson And Other Officers Resign Posts

CHICAGO, July 26.—(INS)—Dr. Henry M. Garsson, whose Garsson munitions combine is under investigation by a senate committee in Washington, today was no longer connected with the Batavia Metal Products, Inc., and subsidiaries. Garsson announced last night he has "entered into an agreement with Fred M. Schoff of Chicago, a director and representative of Rausch Industries, Inc., of Detroit, for the acquisition of my entire interest in the company."

He stated he and all other present officers and directors of Batavia Metals and subsidiaries have tendered their resignations. New Directors Soon It was expected that a new board of directors, with Ray R. Rausch of Detroit as president, will be elected within a few days. Rausch was a vice president in charge of production for the Ford Motor Co. until he resigned last January. He has been with the company 25 years. Garsson blamed "recent publicity" for causing the sale of the highly lucrative war-time industry. He said he was severing his relationship with the company because he felt "this publicity to the company had been impaired by recent publicity."

He also stated that he resigned "to insure that the employees of the company at Batavia, Ill., and Conventville, Ia., totaling more than 200 people, may continue to be employed, and that the company may look forward to continued success."

4-H Club Members Picnic On Thursday

With 250 present, most of them members of the various 4-H Boys and Girls clubs throughout the county, the annual picnic of the clubs held at Cascade Park on Thursday proved an enjoyable occasion.

The events got under way at 10:30 o'clock, when a series of games and stunts took place, followed by a picnic dinner in the grove at the noon hour.

In the afternoon, there was a treasure hunt, song contest, and swimming to white away the hours in a pleasant manner.

The group was supervised by County Agent L. C. Dayton, and home economics extension worker, Miss Mary Ellen McClain, along with the various club leaders.

St. Mary's Church Picnic On July 31

Parish Picnic Scheduled At Cascade Park As Basket Picnic—All Day Event

Wednesday evening, July 31, is the date scheduled for a parish picnic to be held by St. Mary's church at Cascade Park. Young and old will participate in the grove in a basket picnic supper. The shelters in the grove are reserved for the parishioners. With the G. I. Joes of the parish back home, a large turnout is anticipated. The afternoon will feature a social time for all, and new and old friends may meet and get acquainted. The school children will assemble in the grove at 1 o'clock for a special treat.

The sports committee has planned an afternoon of events, and featuring a baseball game between rival patrols of the Boy Scout troop of the parish. The evening's entertainment is planned by Ben Taylor and his alumni committee. Coffee will be served. Free of charge, by Mrs. Josephine Baldout and her committee.

Nazi Defendants Squirm Uneasily As Jackson Speaks

MURKENSBERG, July 26.—(INS)—United States Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson delivered his summing-up in the war crimes trial today before blazing lights and a winding movie camera.

The Nazi defendants settled into their seats easily and appeared calm and impassive as Jackson opened his condemnation. But they soon began to squirm and perspire as the justice lashed them by name.

One-time Marshal Hermann Goering winced behind his dark glasses when Jackson declared he had "a pudgy finger in every pie." Later Goering turned to comment to Fritz Saukel, former "slave-labor" chief, but an M. P. nudged him to be quiet.

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, ex-chief of the Nazi high command, muttered audibly when Jackson read German orders to the Wehrmacht to brutalize women and children if necessary for victory.

Former Reichsbank President Hjalmar Schacht, blushed as he heard himself castigated for providing the Nazis with "the winning dressing of respectability" by joining them.

Horst In Plea For Safety On Farms In State

Surveys Reveal That Little Acts Of Carelessness Cause Most Farm Accidents

HARRISBURG, July 26.—Little acts of haste or carelessness cause most farm accidents, too many of which result in serious loss of man and machine hours, run up doctor or hospital bills, and frequently bring death to farm households, says Miles Horst, state secretary of agriculture and Pennsylvania chairman for Farm Safety Week observance this week, July 21 to 27.

A short turn may upset a hay wagon, a tractor crank lever may break an arm if the thumb is on the wrong side of the handle, or a "gentle" bull, not properly handled, may start on a rampage at the least provocation, he declared in outlining some of the many causes of accidents that can easily be prevented.

According to conservative estimates, nearly one of each 100 farm accidents in Pennsylvania results in a human death. Secretary Horst asserted, about 8,000 reportable accidents occur each year in the state. Nationally, the death rate of 53 per 100,000 agricultural accidents is the fourth highest among the six major industrial groups including mining and quarrying, construction, transportation and public utilities, trade and service, and manufacturing, he added.

According to Indian legend, the Finger Lakes, New York, are the imprint left by the hand of the Great Spirit.

Deputy Montgomery Schedules Hearing For Murray And Daniels At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, July 25.—(INS)—State Boxing Commissioner John W. Montgomery today was scheduled to hear two highly touted heavyweights explain what he termed last night a "very unsatisfactory performance" in Pittsburgh's Civic arena.

Montgomery withheld the purses of Lee Q. Murray, of Baltimore, recognized as fifth-ranking heavy-weight, and Perk Daniels, of Chicago, after almost four desultory rounds of a scheduled ten round feature.

Three solid blows by Murray, after referee Mike Hogan's second warning to "get into action," were enough to daze Daniels over a lower rope for the count in 2:35 of the fourth.

Acting Commissioner Lou Shirring allegedly threatened both fighters with court action previous to the bout when they indicated that they did not want to enter the ring because of the small crowd. They appeared on a percentage basis.

Murray weighed 205, Daniels 202.

To Break From International Air Agreement

WASHINGTON, July 25.—(INS)—The United States Thursday served one year notice that it will withdraw from the international air transport agreement which was drawn up at the Chicago International Civil Aviation conference in 1944.

A state department spokesman pointed out that only 15 nations have adhered to the general agreement of which only two—the Netherlands and Sweden—have any plans for an extensive international airline system.

Major possible competitors such as France and Great Britain have not adhered.

Some months ago it became apparent that the United States was going to develop a system of independent international airlines and that the Chicago agreement would not work. At that time a series of bi-lateral agreements incorporating the so-called five freedoms, were entered into with major nations.

The five freedoms include privilege of flight over territory, privilege to land for non-traffic purposes, and various rights and privileges taking on and discharging passengers, mail and cargo.

Fordham Approves Conference Action

NEW YORK, July 26.—(INS)—Jack Coffey, Fordham university graduate manager of athletics, on Thursday approved the action of the college conferences in their latest move against professionalism in college athletics.

Coffey said: "I think many of the college authorities feel that there has been a strong trend toward professionalism lately. It was not so long ago that there was some talk about professionalizing in the Olympics."

"Fordham, of course, is strongly opposed to paying football players or any other athletes."

STATE OPPOSES TIDELANDS BILL BEFORE PRESIDENT

HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—The state justice department disclosed Thursday that the commonwealth is opposed to federal acquisition of tidelands proposed in a congressional measure awaiting President Truman's consideration.

The department released a statement made by Deputy Attorney General M. Vashit Burt to the U. S. Senate judiciary committee in which the commonwealth joined 46 other states opposing the measure advanced by the department of the interior.

The state has 3,180 miles of waterfront and 480,236 acres of submerged tidelands, the department reported.

The sovereignty of states over tidelands has been upheld in 52 decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court, it was added.

PIRATES TO MEET SENATORS HARRISBURG, July 26.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates will meet the Harrisburg Senators of the Interstate league in an exhibition game at the capital city August 5, it was announced today at Harrisburg.

Expert Links Chicago Youth To Two Murders

CHICAGO, July 26.—(INS)—Herbert J. Walter, famous handwriting expert in the Lindbergh kidnapping case, on Thursday told the Cook county grand jury that the handwriting of William Heirens, 17-year-old college boy, definitely linked the youth with two murders.

Walter was called to testify after state's attorney William Tuohy went before the jury to seek two first degree murder indictments against Heirens for the kidnap-killing of 6-year-old Suzanne Degnan last January 4, and the lipstick murder of ex-Wave Frances Brown December 10, 1945.

The handwriting expert, who helped send Bruno Richard Hauptmann to the electric chair in the Lindbergh case, told Tuohy that the handwriting of Heirens was the same as that on the $20,000 ransom note left by the kidnaper who stole Suzanne and dismembered her body.

Walter also declared that Heirens' handwriting was identical to that in a message scrawled in lipstick on the wall of Miss Brown's apartment when the former Wave was shot and stabbed to death.

Death Ray Threat Of Atomic Bombs Given Emphasis

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD ADMIRAL BLANDY'S FLAGSHIP, Off Bikini, July 26.—The death ray threat of an atomic bomb exploded under water was emphasized today by Col. Stafford L. Warren, chief of the radiological and safety section of operation crossroads.

Warren said the threat would be "extremely serious" if an atomic depth bomb ever exploded in the harbor of a big city while the wind was blowing toward the shore.

The radiological expert was intensely interested in the thin cloud of atomic particles generated by the underwater explosion of the "test baker" atomic bomb in Bikini lagoon.

He said the death-laden cloud moved in a northwesterly direction from the lagoon at a comparatively low altitude, expanding to a width of 30 miles in four and one-half hours after the blast.

Describing the cloud as "extremely dangerous", he declared it would seriously hurt persons over whom it swept, particularly if suddenly carried to earth on rain drops.

Warren said if such a cloud were to cut a 30-mile swath through a large urban area "it would be very, very bad" with resultant casualties probably far heavier than they would be from an overhead burst of the A-bomb.

He explained that an underwater atomic blast produces a double radiological hazard, carrying upward as it does not only death ray particles from the bomb but also radioactive sodium from water.

The colonel said a third very real danger would exist because of the fact that an atomic cloud generated under water would necessarily travel at a lower altitude, beyond the dispersal power of high crosswinds, and would fall more quickly.

He pointed out that radioactive dust particles from the New Mexico test A-bomb a year ago "are still up there" and may float in the sky for years to come.

ATOMIC SYMBOL BECOMES REALITY

KWAJALEIN, July 25.—(INS)—The insignia of Operation Crossroads—an "X" beneath an atomic cloud—was brought to reality today at Bikini.

Col. William Westlake of Air Forces headquarters in Washington, reported that several minutes after the sub-surface blast, a perfectly defined "X"—apparently made up of black oil slick—appeared in the center of the target scene scintillating against a background of churning blue-green water.

It was a symbolic finish for the second and final atomic test of 1946.

Giants And Cards Split Twin Bill, Pirates-Phils Do Likewise

NEW YORK, July 26.—(INS)—Brooklyn's pennant stock in the National league race soared today as a result of the comeback of Hal (Rapid Rocky) Gregg, their star pitcher, who held the Cubs to seven hits yesterday and beat them, 4 to 1.

Gregg had not started a game since May 14, when he pulled a muscle in his right elbow. He has been working back into shape doing occasional relief jobs. Hand-some Hal was tiring near the finish yesterday, but Manager Leo Durocher let him stick it out to build up his confidence.

Dodgers Increase Lead
Brooklyn now has a crack round corps of four starting pitchers—Vic Lombardi, Hank Behrman, Joe Hatton and Gregg.

The Dodgers also boast a six-game winning streak and a lead of a game and a half over the St. Louis Cardinals, who got no better than an even break in a twin bill with New York. The Cards were lucky that they didn't lose the opener as well as the nightcap.

Red Schoendienst, first batter of the day, walloped a line drive which cracked Pitcher Vucelja on the right knee. This so unnered Big Bill that he threw a home-run ball to Harry Walker.

Giants-Cards Divide
Mike Buddick, the real victim, then relieved Voiselle and hurled a four-hit, nine-inning shutout, only to lose a 2 to 1 decision.

Howie Pollet, the winning hurler, racked up his 18th victory of the season against only four defeats. In the nightcap Monte Kennedy, brilliant New York rookie, held the Red Sox to three hits and beat them 6 to 1.

These Giants, who are going nowhere themselves, may cost St. Louis the pennant this season. They have trimmed the Cards 10 times in 16 games.

Pirates-Phils Split
Pittsburgh downed the Phillies, 2 to 1, but Bix Connolly, making his first start for the Quakers, breezed to a 9 to 2 triumph over the Pirates in the second game.

Johnny Vandermeer, the original no-hit kid, held the Boston Braves to four hits in a night game and blanked them 1 to 0. It was Johnny's sixth straight win.

Red Sox Lead
Boston's lead in the American league was trimmed to 11 games when Chicago beat the Red Sox 3 to 1 while the Yankees were idle. The White Sox are helpless against the Red Sox in Boston, but have beaten them six out of nine at Comiskey park this season.

The Cleveland walloped 10 hits, their greatest total of the season, but barely nosed out the Athletics in the ninth, 9 to 8. Washington trounced Detroit, 8 to 3.

Bob Davis, Johnny Jaffurs and Lido Cecil, all pre-war players at Penn State, will play professional football this fall.

is a class where you can get speed and heavy punching and the two boys display a grade A package of both. Both had been Golden Gloves champs but only one of them could win and Saborin was the one. This was a good feeder to the main bout, as a matter of fact these two kids could headline a lot of amateur shows.

The main bout saw two dusky gentlemen at 175 lugging, like Bell of Youngstown had Dick Cunningham of Cleveland as his opponent although Cunningham was a last minute substitute for Art Robey of Chicago who is in the navy and whose admirals or somebody else wouldn't give him time off for the bout.

The fans knew Bell for his pin-wheel tactics, and with the memory of two other fights here expected Mister Cunningham to be in for a tough evening. Cunningham proved to be a little too much for Bell and after three rounds of punching Cunningham was declared the winner.

That's it, Brother. That's the story, if you've read this far down. It was the kind of an evening's entertainment you could go for frequently. The program was well handled, the night was ideal, the fights were good, a worthy cause was aided, and how are all your folks?

If we could scrounge a little more space we would like to toss a few adjectives at the stage dressing of the outdoor theatre. A ceiling of slate shaded clouds with a back drop of pastel fleeces that changed by the second, finally deepening into a stygian black. The chairman of the spectrum committee seemed to be having a field day in that western sky and perhaps Mayor Hatten was right after all when he said the weather man was a Republican and didn't take care of everything. He did.

Just how much the recreation fund profited by the boxing show is not definitely known but it was in the neighborhood of $3000 which is a right nice neighborhood to be in. Back of the success were several weeks of hard work by Clarence M. Bigland, Ed Fritz, E. N. Hanlon, Tommy Leach and the generosity of a lot of New Castle folks. But you know that anyway.

Resume Racing At Canfield Saturday

Ray Courtney of Alliance, O., with the flying, roaring outboard No. 62, who is so familiar to the fans of the Canfield midges auto races, has overcome his motor trouble and his famous little race car is back in perfect condition and will be here to challenge the flying Bonnell for top honors in the big nine event program, which will be held at the Canfield raceway on Saturday night, July 27.

There will be a large contingent of cars and drivers, headed by Wes Segesser from Rochester and Bill Ladd, N. Y. Art Horsfield of Toledo, O., and Bernie Kelly of Port Clinton, will also be in the field. The program will get under way promptly at 8:45 p. m. DST with time trials starting at 7 p. m. DST.

Willie Pep Wins Battle By Kayo Bessemer Cards Ringsides Club

MINNEAPOLIS, July 26.—(INS)—It looks today as though Willie Pep, Hartford, Conn., holder of the world's featherweight boxing crown may go on forever like the classic brook.

Pep added another victory to his long string last night when he knocked out Jackie Graves of Austin, Minn., in the eighth round after flooring his opponent nine times.

Pirates Satisfied With California

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—(INS)—President William E. Benswanger of the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday denied the report that his club was considering changing its spring training site from California to Florida.

"I haven't thought much about spring training," Benswanger said, "but I feel we will return to San Bernardino. Of course, the picture might change between now and next spring."

City Manager A. B. Curry of Miami announced that the American league club has been granted a three-day option on Miami Field for their training site.

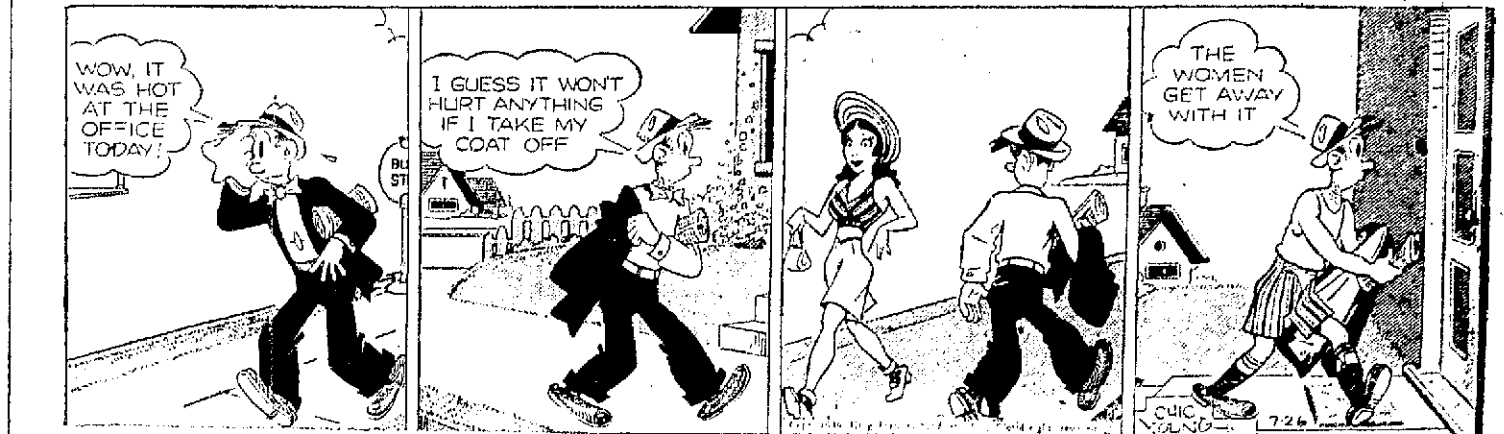

Curry said the option did not mean the city will talk to any other club which might be interested.

He added: "We will not close with anybody except the Browns before Monday."

Expert Links Chicago Youth To Two Murders

CHICAGO, July 26.—(INS)—Herbert J. Walter, famous handwriting expert, in the Lindbergh kidnapping case, on Thursday told the Cook county grand jury that the handwriting of William Heirens, 17-year-old college boy, definitely linked the youth with two murders.

Walter was called to testify after state's attorney William Thomas went before the jury to seek two first-degree murder indictments against Heirens for the kidnap-killing of 6-year-old Suzanne Degnan last January 4, and the lipstick murder of ex-wave Frances Brown December 10, 1935.

The handwriting expert, who helped send Bruno Richard Hauptmann to the electric chair in the Lindbergh case, told the jury that the handwriting of Heirens was the same as that on the $20,000 ransom note left by the kidnaper who stole Suzanne and disappeared her body.

Walter also declared that Heirens' handwriting was identical to that in a message scrawled in lipstick on the wall of Miss Brown's apartment when the former Wave was shot and stabbed to death.

Death Ray Threat Of Atomic Bombs Given Emphasis

By FRANK R. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD ADMIRAL BLANDY'S FLAGSHIP Off Bikini, July 26.—The death ray threat, of an atomic bomb exploded under water was emphasized today by Col. Stafford L. Warren, chief of the radiological and safety section of operation crossroads.

Warren said the threat would be "extremely serious" if an atomic bomb ever exploded in the harbor of a big city while the wind was blowing toward the shore.

At Low Altitude

He said the death-laden cloud moved in a northwesterly direction from the lagoon at a comparatively low altitude, expanding to a width of 30 miles in four and one-half hours after the blast.

Describing the cloud as "extremely dangerous," he declared it would seriously hurt persons over whom it swept, particularly if suddenly carried to earth on rain drops.

Warren said if such a cloud were to cut a 30-mile swath through a large urban area "it would be very bad" with resultant casualties probably far heavier than they 1491; died, 1566.

He pointed out that radioactive dust particles from the New Mexico test A-bomb a year ago "are still in there" and may float in the sky for years to come.

The colonel said a third very real danger would exist because of the fact that an atomic cloud generated under water would necessarily travel at a lower altitude, beyond the dispersal power of high crosswinds, and would fall more quickly.

He pointed out that radioactive dust particles from the New Mexico test A-bomb a year ago "are still in there" and may float in the sky for years to come.

ATOMIC SYMBOL BECOMES REALITY

KWAJALEIN, July 25.—(INS)—The insignia of Operation Crossroads—an "X" beneath an atomic cloud—was brought to reality today at Bikini.

It was a symbolic finish for the second and final atomic test of 1946.
